Subject: Participant Fee Disclosure Project

Hello,

I was referred to you by the Wall Strett Journal online edition. I called the 401(k) plan administrator at the corporation I work for and asked about the fees and they said that they don't disclose that information. What? Since when can someone else take money away from me in the form of investment management fees and not tell me about it? Is this America or communist Russia? Please fix this and change the laws here.
