An informal Grievance is defined as an incident or concern identified verbally related to a practitioner or staff member. This level of Grievance requires minimal research, and often is resolved through education, negotiation, mediation, case management, or change in policy.

A formal Grievance is an incident or concern which is identified either verbally or in writing to the staff member(s) responsible for resolving Grievances and grievances and that require formal review by the Contractor's Quality Assurance Coordinator and/or Contractor's medical director. (Attach a brief narrative for formal Grievances).
