

Exclusion Order for No Record (Yellow Form)

What this form is:

This form is a legal notice. The school or daycare your child attends does not have a record of your child's shots. You need to act right away to keep your child in school or daycare.

What to do:

If you have a record of your child's shots -

Take the record in-person to your child's school or daycare. Tell them you need to fill out a shot record (called a Certificate of Immunization Status) for your child. Make sure that you sign and date the form. If you fill out the form before the date listed on the legal notice, and there is at least one dose of each required vaccine, your child will not be sent home from school or daycare.

If you do not have a record, but your child has had shots -

Call the last doctor's office or medical clinic where your child had shots. Ask them if they can give you a record of your child's shots. If the shots were given in Oregon, you may also be able to get records from Oregon Immunization ALERT, the statewide registry. Call 1-800-980-9431.

Once you have the record, take it in-person to your child's school or daycare. Tell them you need to fill out a shot record for your child.

If your child has not had shots -

Call your child's doctor or medical clinic. Make an appointment for as soon as possible to get shots. Make sure they know that your child will be sent home from school or daycare without shots. If you do not have a doctor, call the county health department phone number listed on the legal notice. They can help you get shots. Once you have a record, take it in-person to your child's school or daycare. Tell them you need to fill out a shot record for your child.

What if a doctor has told you that your child should not get shots:

Oregon allows a medical exemption. It has to be signed by a doctor or county health department. If you think your child needs a medical exemption, talk to your child's regular medical provider.

What if you do not believe in shots:

Oregon allows a religious exemption. It can be signed by a parent in the religious exemption section of the child's shot form (Certificate of Immunization Status).

If you have questions:

Call the county health department listed on the legal notice. They can answer your questions for you.
