AGENDA

Goal: Provide a format and set of issues that stimulates an energized and informative dialogue among the stakeholder team which leads to agreement about a future-oriented conservation plan

Day 1-November 14

12:30 Welcome & Introductions—Donna Silverberg, Facilitator

12:40 Comments on October 27th Meeting Summary--Group

Follow-up from Bandon meeting:

- NOAA Documents, Rosemary Furfey

1:00 Management Actions to Address Limiting Factors and Current & Future Threats:
Local Populations & Perspectives--The North Coast Watershed Councils' Perspectives

- Members of north coast watershed councils will give brief presentations on the limiting factors they have identified and discuss management actions that they have taken and are contemplating.
 - Starting with the limiting factors addressed in the state's assessment, what, if any, local factors need to be modified? What additional management actions have been identified? What types of local commitments and connections exist to put these actions into place?

2:30 Questions and Answers

3:00 Break—snack provided

3:15 Small group discussions of the presentation to hone what should be contemplated in the state's conservation plan: What specifically should be carried forward to the state's plan?

3:45 Large Group discussion and review of concepts from small groups—what, specifically, is needed to reach agreement on the top priorities for management actions in the North-Coast portion of the Coho plan? How do these tie back to the limiting factors?

4:30 Public Comment on discussions prior to break

4:45 Resource User Group Perspectives. . Focus: Agriculture

At the Bandon meeting, the group heard information about cranberry growing on the south coast. This presentation will focus on other ag uses (such as dairy) and include an overview of SB 1010 issues provided by the Dept of Agriculture. What management actions have been taken? What efforts has ag made to help recover Coho? What more is needed and contemplated?

5:30 Small group discussions of the information to hone ideas and formulate discussion

5:45 Large group discussion of management strategies involving governments. What, if anything, is needed to reach agreement on concepts for inclusion in the conservation plan?

6:30 Adjourn

Day 2—November 15

8:30 Welcome and Introductions—Donna Silverberg, Facilitator

8:45 Stakeholder Team Perspectives--Focus: Tribal Perspectives

- Tribal government representative, Stan van de Wetering, will present information about the management actions tribes have taken to address limiting factors and threats facing Coastal Coho. What actions have been taken? What has worked? What needs to be improved? What changes in management strategies are being contemplated?

9:30 Small group discussions of the presentation to hone what should be contemplated in the state's conservation plan: What specifically should be carried forward to the state's plan?

10:00 Break

10:15 Large Group Discussion: What, specifically, is needed to reach agreement on concepts for inclusion in the conservation plan?

11:00 Public Comment

11:15 Desired Status for Coastal Coho: What is the desired status the group would like to see represented in the state's conservation plan for coastal Coho?

- A comparison of the three proposed 'desired status' levels will be presented and discussed by the group. What will it take to reach each of the levels? What are the trade-offs and implications for each option? Are there changes that should be considered?
 - Between this meeting and the December meeting, stakeholder team members will work with their constituent groups on the developed options. At the December meeting, the group will see which of the options is getting the most support and determine whether a consensus is possible.

11:45 Break to get Lunch—lunch will be provided for stakeholder team members only for a working lunch. Desired Status discussion will continue once lunch is provided.

1:45 Break

2:00 Feedback on ODFW's draft 'Draft of the Mid-Coast Populations' (and any other info in draft form)

3:15 Wrap Up

- Next meeting date & location: December 8, Roseburg
- Agenda items to include: municipal government perspectives, final desired status

3:30 Adjourn

NOTE: Agenda timing is added to help the group stay focused and move through the issues. Except for start and ending times, it may be slightly modified at the meeting as needed for a full discussion of the issues. Thank you for your interest and participation in this process!
