UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT TACOMA

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

v.

SHARON DIANE KUKHAHN,
individually and d/b/a IMF Decoder,
Paralegal Research Advocates, and Advocates for Justice, Liberty and Freedom,

Defendant.

CASE NO. C08-5212BHS

ORDER GRANTING MOTION
FOR DEFAULT JUDGMENT

This matter comes before the Court on the Motion for Default Judgment (Dkt. 19). The Court has considered the pleadings filed in support of the motion and the remainder of the file and hereby grants the motion for the reasons stated herein.

I. PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

Plaintiff United States filed its complaint for permanent injunction under sections 7402 and 7408 of the Internal Revenue Code on April 7, 2008, seeking to bar defendant Sharon Diane Kukhahn, individually and doing business as IMF Decoder, Paralegal Research Advocates, and Advocates for Justice, Liberty, and Freedom, from promoting her fraudulent IMF decoding tax scheme and from engaging in conduct that substantially interferes with the administration and enforcement of the internal revenue laws. Dkt. 1.

1 Ms. Kukhahn was properly served and has failed to timely file an answer or other defend,
2 default entered against Defendant on July 22, 2008. Dkt. 16. Having reviewed the 3 Motion for Default Judgment (Dkt. 19) and the record in this case, the Court makes the 4 following findings of fact and conclusions of law and enters this permanent injunction
5 against Ms. Kukhahn:

6 II. FINDINGS OF FACT

7 1. Sharon Kukhahn (“Kukhahn”) resides and does business in Tacoma,
8 Washington.

9 2. Ms. Kukhahn promotes tax-fraud schemes using the business names IMF
10 Decoder, Paralegal Research Advocates, and Advocates for Justice, Liberty, and 11 Freedom.

12 3. Ms. Kukhahn promotes her business on her websites www.ajlf.com
13 (Advocates for Justice, Liberty, and Freedom) and www.paralegalresearchadvocates.com
14 (Paralegal Research Advocates).

15 4. Ms. Kukhahn is the president and chief executive officer of both Paralegal
16 Research Advocates and IMF Decoder.

17 5. Ms. Kukhahn’s IMF Decoder scheme was promoted through Pinnacle
18 Quest International (“PQI”) and was sold only to PQI members in 2004 and 2005.

19 6. Kukhahn also markets her “decoding” scheme at seminars, either personally 20 or in association with other promoters.

21 7. For a fee, a person may join PQI and become eligible to purchase the many 22 services PQI promotes.

23 8. Through the seminars, promotional materials, and websites referred to 24 above, Ms. Kukhahn sells a multi-phase program that falsely advises customers that: (1)
25 they are not required to pay federal income taxes unless they are living in a United States
26 territory; and (2) United States residents can only be taxed via a federal excise tax if they 27 are involved in an excise taxable enterprise. Ms. Kukhahn further falsely advises
28

1 customers that the IRS, in order to subject people to federal taxes, fraudulently
2 misidentifies citizens as residents of a United States territory such as the U.S. Virgin
3 Islands, and/or misidentifies their occupations as an enterprise subject to an excise tax,
4 such as firearms manufacturing.

5 9. Ms. Kukhahn charges single taxpayers between $1,750 and $1,900 and 6 charges married taxpayers between $2,450 and $3,195 for her “decoding” service, which 7 is described below.

8 10. The first phase of the program provides the customer a Freedom of 9 Information Act (“FOIA”) form that requests the IRS to produce a transcript of the 10 customer’s IMF (individual master file).

11 11. Once the customer receives a copy of his or her IMF transcript, under the 12 second phase of the program Ms. Kukhahn/IMF Decoder purportedly “decodes” the IMF
13 to determine whether the IRS has fraudulently converted the customer’s residence to a
14 territory and/or occupation to an excise taxable enterprise. Invariably, Ms. Kukhahn
15 falsely determines that the IRS has fraudulently misidentified the customer’s residence
16 and/or occupation in the customer’s IMF.

17 12. In the third phase, Ms. Kukhahn/IMF Decoder prepares a “rebuttal letter” to 18 the IRS demanding that the IRS correct “false and unlawful entries” and produce “lawful 19 documentation evidencing” that the customer is subject to internal revenue laws and is 20 required to pay income taxes. The letter demands that the IRS cease and desist all actions 21 against the customer.

22 13. In the fourth phase of the “decoding” process, after the submission of a 23 follow-up FOIA request, Ms. Kukhahn/IMF Decoder purportedly checks for any 24 additional “false postings” by the IRS and purportedly confirms that past “false postings” 25 that were previously “rebutted” were removed.

26 14. The final phase of the “decoding” process consists of obtaining certified 27 copies of the documents obtained through the FOIA process that purportedly demonstrate 28

1 that the customer is not required to file a federal tax return. These documents are then 2 ostensibly available for use as evidence in the purportedly “unlikely” event the 3 customer’s claim that he/she is not required to file tax returns is challenged in court.

4 15. From January 2002 through September 2006, at least 1,100 persons have
5 filed this type of “rebuttal letter” (titled “Reports of Fraudulent and Misleading Postings
6 on the Individual Master File”) with the IRS. More than two dozen of the rebuttal letters
7 have used Ms. Kukhahn/IMF Decoder’s post office box address as the return address.

8 16. Of a sample of 11 known customers, all but one have not filed tax returns
9 for several years. Of the non-filers, one customer alone owes more than $1,000,000 in 10 taxes and penalties and many others owe more than $100,000.

11 17. In 2004 and 2005, an IRS undercover agent posed as an IMF Decoder
12 customer and paid the $1,750 fee to become “decoded.”

13 18. Ms. Kukhahn/IMF Decoder falsely determined that the IRS had 14 fraudulently coded the undercover agent’s IMF as a “Virgin Islands filer.”

15 19. The undercover agent then received the “Phase 3 rebuttal package” from 16 Ms. Kukhahn/IMF Decoder. The rebuttal package, which included a false disclaimer that 17 IMF Decoder is not offering tax advice, falsely states that the IRS is not an agency of the 18 federal government and demands “lawful documentation evidencing” that the undercover
19 agent’s assumed identity is subject to internal revenue laws and required to file and pay 20 income taxes.

21 20. As part of promoting her decoding services, Ms. Kukhahn falsely tells 22 customers that paying income taxes and filing federal income tax returns are voluntary,
23 unless a person is engaged in an excise taxable activity such as manufacturing firearms.

24 21. As part of the “decoding” process, Ms. Kukhahn falsely informs her
25 customers that the IRS has fraudulently coded them as either residents of United States
26 territories or persons engaged in businesses subject to an excise tax.

1           22.    As a result, Ms. Kukhahn falsely tells her customers that they can rely on 2 her “decoding” to prove that they are not legally obligated to file federal income tax
3 returns or pay federal income taxes.

4           23.    In promoting her scheme, Ms. Kukhahn falsely claims that the government
5 is forbidden from taxing “natural born citizens.”

6           24.    In promoting her scheme, Ms. Kukhahn falsely states that if an individual
7 signs an IRS tax form, particularly IRS Form 1040, then the individual has “declared
8 under penalty of perjury [he/she] executed the [Form] 1040 in Washington, D.C., or a 9 Territory or Commonwealth or possession of the government of the United States” and 10 that an individual who “executed the [Form] 1040 while . . . in one of the states of the 11 Union, [he/she] would have committed perjury.”

12           25.    In promoting her scheme, Kukhahn falsely states that if an individual signs
13 any IRS form, especially IRS Form 1040, that person is declaring under penalty of 14 perjury that he/she is a resident of and engaged in a taxable business activity in the Virgin
15 Islands.

16           26.    In meetings in June and August 2005 with IRS undercover agents posing as 17 potential customers of IMF Decoders, Kukhahn made the following statements:

18               (a)    that the IRS had coded Ms. Kukhahn’s IMF to indicate that she is a 19 pistol and revolver manufacturer living in the Virgin Islands;

20               (b)    that Ms. Kukhahn has studied in-depth IRS Forms W-2, W-4, and 21 1099;

22               (c)    that Ms. Kukhahn has thousands of customers;

23               (d)    that one purpose of the decoding process is to create more work for 24 the IRS to discourage the IRS from investigating the customer.

25           27.    In correspondence with customers, Ms. Kukhahn/IMF Decoder falsely
26 states that only citizens with qualified foreign sources of income are required to file a 27 federal income tax return.

1           28.    In correspondence with customers, Ms. Kukhahn/IMF Decoder falsely
2 states that no tax is imposed on earnings of U.S. citizens living and working within the 50
3 states who make an equal exchange for their labor for wages since no gain results from 4 the transaction.

5           29.    Ms. Kukhahn claims to be a certified paralegal and claims to have done in-
6 depth research on “rebutting” Forms 1040, W-2, W-4, and 1099.

7           30.    Ms. Kukhahn also advises her customers on methods to fraudulently hide
8 assets and income from the IRS.

9           31.    Ms. Kukhahn, through Paralegal Research Advocates, charges $125 per 10 letter to respond to IRS collection notices. She stated to IRS undercover agents that the 11 IRS has no authority to issue summonses and thus said that customers can put summonses
12 in a shredder.

13          32    Ms. Kukhahn knows, or has reason to know, that her statements to 14 customers are false and that customers are legally obligated to file federal income tax 15 returns and to pay federal income tax.

16          33.    On an April 24, 2008 conference call posted on her website, Ms. Kukhahn
17 falsely claimed that she transferred to the United States funds to compensate customers of 18 IMF Decoder, Paralegal Research Advocates, and Advocates for Justice, Liberty, and 19 Freedom, for any harm those customers may have suffered for relying on Ms. Kukhahn or 20 her businesses’ services.

21          34.    On this conference call, Ms. Kukhahn also falsely claimed that her
22 customers could collect their share of the settlement proceeds by submitting a claim form
23 to United States Department of Justice Tax Division attorney John Monroe.

24          35.    In reliance on Ms. Kukhahn’s false claims, as of June 11, 2008,
25 approximately 328 persons have submitted claim forms to counsel for the United States
26 requesting reimbursement for the harm caused by Ms. Kukhahn.

1 income tax returns and paying federal income taxes. According to Ms. Kukhahn, by 2 deciphering one document, the IMF, she can reveal and “rebut” the IRS’s purportedly
3 fraudulent assertion that her customers are either a resident of the U.S. Virgin Islands or 4 other United States territory or engaged in an excise taxable industry; and after this 5 revelation and rebuttal, her customers will be classified as “nontaxpayers” who do not 6 have to file federal income tax returns or pay federal income tax. In making these 7 assertions, Ms. Kukhahn misquotes or misapplies a myriad of authority.

8       8. Ms. Kukhahn knew, or had reason to know, that the statements described 9 above were false or fraudulent.

10       9. As someone who claims to have done extensive research on the subject, Ms.
11 Kukhahn is or has reason to be aware that her IMF decoding scheme has been rejected by 12 the courts. See United States v. Standring, 2006 WL 689116 (S.D. Ohio 2006); United 13 States v. Kahn, 2004 WL 1089116, *1 (M.D. Fla. Mar. 30, 2004).

14       10. Moreover, Ms. Kukhahn tacitly admitted to undercover agents to knowing 15 that the IRS rejects the scam she promotes; she advised the undercover agents that they 16 had about three years after they stopped filing before the IRS “come[s] after you.”

17       11. The statements were material because customers might rely, and did in fact 18 rely, on Kukhahn’s false statements in deciding not to file federal income tax returns and 19 pay federal income taxes. As a result, Kukhahn’s repeated false statements are “material” 20 within the meaning of section 6700.

21       12. If not enjoined, Ms. Kukhahn is likely to continue to organize and sell tax-
22 fraud schemes.

23       13. Ms. Kukhahn’s “network and the mechanisms for continuing the business 24 enterprise” are still in place. Moreover, Ms. Kukhahn has not taken any responsibility for 25 her actions and has provided no assurances that she will change her behavior in the future.
26 Unless Ms. Kukhahn is enjoined, she will be free to continue profiting from peddling her
27
28

1 false tax scheme that continues to cause harm to her customers (who rely on her advice
2 and representations) and to the United States.

3 14. I.R.C. § 7402(a) authorizes a court to issue injunctions as may be necessary
4 or appropriate for the enforcement of the IRS laws, even if the United States has other 5 remedies available for enforcing those laws.

6 15. Ms. Kukhahn substantially interfered with the enforcement of the IRS laws
7 by promoting her tax-fraud schemes. Customers who utilize Ms. Kukhahn's services fail
8 to file returns and have filed many frivolous and irrelevant FOIA requests.

9 16. Ms. Kukhahn's conduct resulted in irreparable harm to the United States for 10 which the United States has no adequate remedy at law.

11 17. There are serious questions going to the merits of this matter, and the 12 balance of hardships tips sharply in the Government's favor.

13 18. Unless enjoined by this Court, Ms. Kukhahn is likely to continue to 14 promote her tax-fraud scheme. The United States is entitled to injunctive relief under 15 I.R.C. § 7402(a) to prevent the recurrence of this misconduct.

16 IV. ORDER

17 Therefore, it is hereby

18 ORDERED that the Motion for Default Judgment (Dkt. 19) is GRANTED. Based 19 on the foregoing findings of fact and conclusions of law, the Court enters the following
20 permanent injunction against Sharon Kukhahn:

22 representatives, agents, servants, employees, and anyone in active concert or participation

4 or securing of any other tax benefit by participating in the plan that Ms. Kukhahn

6 or participation with her knows or has reason to know is false or fraudulent as to 7 any material matter;

9 preparation or filing of frivolous FOIA requests with the IRS;

10 (d) preparing or assisting in the preparation of documents purporting to 13 matters, or representing anyone in connection with any matter before the IRS;

15 Revenue Code; or

19 contact, within 30 days of this order, by mail (and also by email, if an email address is 20 known) all persons who have purchased any products, services, or advice associated with 21 the false or fraudulent tax scheme described herein, inform those individuals of the

28

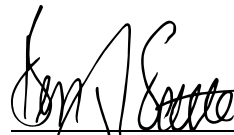

1 tax scheme promotional materials and false commercial speech and to display
2 prominently on the first page of those websites a complete copy of this permanent 3 injunction for one year; and
