

Christopher Amato
Director, International Market Making
E*TRADE Financial

As Director, International Market Making at E*TRADE Capital Markets, Chris Amato is responsible for developing institutional trading systems for the international business, including marketing and relationship management. Having played a key role in the origination of ADR and ordinary market making at E*TRADE, Mr. Amato currently oversees the making of markets in ADRs and foreign ordinaries, as well as ordinary securities upon demand. He is also responsible for international clearing systems.

Prior to joining E*TRADE FINANCIAL in 2002, Mr. Amato served as Senior Vice President of Trading at GMST World Markets. He has also held senior trading positions at International Assets Holding Corp. and Raymond James Financial. Mr. Amato has a B.S. in Finance from DePaul University.