Natural Resources Conservation Service Employees
Scholarship Program
2008 Information and Guidelines

The United States Department of Agriculture - Natural Resources Conservation Service (USDA-NRCS) was first organized in 1933, as the Soil Erosion Service and was later known as the Soil Conservation Service. In 1994, USDA went through reorganization and the Agency's name became the Natural Resources Conservation Service. The Agency's purpose has always been, and continues to be, the promotion of the conservation and wise use of our country's natural resources. USDA-NRCS employees possess backgrounds in a variety of disciplines that include - agronomy, agricultural engineering, animal science, civil engineering, computer science, crops science, hydrology, range science, soil science, wildlife science, and several other disciplines.

NRCS accomplishes its conservation goals by drawing upon the various sciences and conservation disciplines to help private landowners conserve their soil, natural resources and water resources. NRCS employees and private landusers assess the land's capabilities and resources along with the existing conservation problems and opportunities. NRCS employees then work closely with agricultural producers and landowners to assist them in developing conservation plans and with the implementation of conservation practices while achieving their production goals and objectives. Through the implementation of conservation practices, the overall quality of life within a watershed and across our country is improved.

The National Organization of Professional Hispanic Natural Resources Conservation Service Employees (NOPHNRCSE) was established as a Professional Society of Natural Resources Conservation Service employees. NOPHNRCSE promotes the belief that Hispanics can and should fill an existing, invaluable void in the protection of our country's natural resources and the wise use of our agricultural and recreational private lands. NOPHNRCSE was created to assist the USDA-NRCS with its delivery of Program Information and Program Benefits to minority and non-minority communities; to showcase the value that Hispanics bring to the USDA-NRCS; to demonstrate the role of Hispanics in a diverse, multi-cultural workforce; and to serve as a strong link between the USDA-NRCS and the Hispanic community.

USDA-NRCS has recognized the fact that Hispanics are the most under-represented group within the Agency. The USDA-NRCS leadership also recognizes the fact that Hispanics are the fastest growing segment of the U.S. population and that many of today's agricultural producers come from Hispanic backgrounds. NOPHNRCSE was organized to augment the outreach programs of USDA and NRCS, and to improve and enhance USDA Program Delivery. Internally, NOPHNRCSE has vowed to assist USDA-NRCS achieve a multicultural workforce and to assist with the recruitment and professional development of quality Natural Resources Conservation Service Hispanic employees.

USDA-NRCS and NOPHNCSE recognizes that Hispanics face a daunting educational challenge and that Hispanics continue to be severely under-represented in our nation's colleges and universities. Hispanics also continue to be under-represented in the natural resources and natural resources conservation field of study. With this Scholarship Program, NOPHNCSE achieves one of its founding goals, "to develop and establish a NOPHNCSE Scholarship & Endowment Fund." NOPHNCSE intends to support Hispanics goals of higher education and to encourage Hispanics to become protectors of our country's natural resources through this Scholarship and Endowment Fund Program.

NOPHNCSE wishes to provide scholarships to deserving Hispanic students who wish to pursue, are currently enrolled in, or are admitted to an accredited four year institution with the intent of earning a Bachelor of Science degree in a natural resources field or a natural resources conservation related field of study.

Candidates selected to receive the 2008 NOPHNCSE Scholarship will be selected on the basis of academic achievement, personal strengths, demonstrated leadership abilities, and career goals. NOPHNCSE will accept Scholarship Applications until April 2, 2008.

At least four selected winners will receive $1,000 each. In addition, the Martha Guerra- Arteaga Scholarship will be awarded to one female student majoring in public affairs, communications or a natural resources conservation-related field of study. The NOPHNCSE Scholarship & Endowment Fund Committee will determine the 2008 NOPHNCSE recipients utilizing an established selection criterion. Each applicant will be evaluated on the basis of their complete Scholarship Application package that must include the items requested above. The NOPHNCSE Scholarship and Endowment Fund Committee is organized and administered by the NOPHNCSE National Council.
