

We live in Sundance Hills just North of Dayton and Orchard. There are some particularly noisy small rear engine jets which seem to cut the corner heading west during the afternoon. I assume they have older engines or maybe what you call stage one? I certainly agree with the recommendations listed in the Greenwood Village Newsletter from March 2008.

Sincerely

Anthony Dobrski