

I understand you are the one accepting comments regarding centennial airport noise. I live next to Cherry Creek State Park on the east side (Bellevue and Parker rd.). Fortunately, I don't hear (too often) the loud the departures from the jets due to the departure direction and runways. I get more landing jet traffic which is usually quieter--some of the larger ones are surprisingly quiet due to "coasting".

The helicopters are the much louder problem for me. I think they move more air/noise down? I don't know what, if anything, can be done. Maybe I am in the helicopter flight path? I knew the airport was there when I bought--but thought I'd comment on the louder noise issue for me. I prefer the noise not get worst due to more traffic, louder jets, more helicopters or changing patterns over my area.
Sincerely,
Claudio Rebollo.
