

I saw that the FAA is possibly considering a ban on several planes flying in & out of Centennial airport in CO, and I saw your name as a contact.

We live in the area of Cherry Creek Drive & Orchard (Lake Pointe Estates), and no one keeps their windows open due to the noise. Sometimes it is so bad when the Stage 1 & 2 aircrafts fly nearby the houses literally shake. I am very fortunate to live in a beautiful area with an excellent school system, however the schools are what is keeping us here. The noise from the planes is deafening, and we really had no clue prior to moving in to our home. When visitors are here they always think they are military jets flying out of CO Springs.

I hope the ban goes through; it would be nice to have the windows open again!

Sincerely,
