Cover: On the front cover, SWIFT2D model results are shown for the tidal Potomac River between Indian Head and Morgantown, MD, near Washington, DC. Flow velocities and salinities computed by the model are plotted as vectors and color-coded contours, respectively, during ebb (left map) and flood (right map) tide. Every fourth flow vector from the 200-m grid is displayed.