Petition to the Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration

9068 '01 NOV 7 10:57

We, the undersigned health professionals, urge the FDA to require that ingredient lists on food labels be printed in a clear, easy-to-read format similar to the one used for the Nutrition Facts label. The ingredient list should use a readable typeface of sufficient size, black printing on a white background, and upper- and lower-case letters. The percentages of key ingredients should be declared (e.g., the amount of whole wheat in "wheat" bread).

We, the undersigned health professionals, urge the FDA to require that ingredient lists on food labels be printed in a clear, easy-to-read format similar to the one used for the Nutrition Facts label. The ingredient list should use a readable typeface of sufficient size, black printing on a white background, and upper- and lower-case letters. The percentages of key ingredients should be declared (e.g., the amount of whole wheat in "wheat" bread).

Petition to the Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration

We, the undersigned health professionals, urge the FDA to require that ingredient lists on food labels be printed in a clear, easy-to-read format similar to the one used for the Nutrition Facts label. The ingredient list should use a readable typeface of sufficient size, black printing on a white background, and upper- and lower-case letters. The percentages of key ingredients should be declared (e.g., the amount of whole wheat in "wheat" bread).
