Contaminants break down the immune system and as the immune system breaks down, we are susceptible — the young and the old — to disease.

The consumer has a right to be informed to take control of their own health! The consumer wants to know for themselves.

Consumers have the right to know what's in their bottled water. As a member of the Center for Science in the Public Interest, I support the FDA's proposal that bottled-water manufacturers be required to make available detailed reports of contaminants, just as public water utilities do. All bottled-water labels should also disclose where the water comes from.
