Dear Ms. Kenney,

I believe that it's wrong to tamper with mother nature in growing genetically engineered foods.

Heaven only knows what it's going to do to people, animals and the environment.

Since there doesn't seem anyway to stop it, there should be mandatory safety testing (not on animals) and certainly labeling.

Sincerely,
Mildred Cranmer
