

sector providers offer an array of value-added cash services that the Federal Reserve Bank offices do not provide. The revised policy also clarifies that armored carriers may be designated as endpoints. The Board's revised policy, therefore, does not adversely affect the ability of depository institutions or service providers to compete with the Federal Reserve Banks to provide cash services.

V. Federal Reserve Cash Service Access Policy

The Board has adopted the following Federal Reserve cash access policy:

1. Number of endpoints eligible for free cash access. Each depository institution can designate up to ten endpoints to receive free cash access (deposit and order) service from each Reserve Bank office. A depository institution may not designate an endpoint to receive free cash access from more than one Reserve Bank office. A designated endpoint may be a branch, head office, a money room and/or an armored carrier used by the depository institution to provide cash services. Individual ATM locations are not eligible for designation as endpoints. If a depository institution uses an armored carrier to service ATMs, the armored carrier may be designated as an endpoint.

Beyond the ten endpoints, Reserve Bank offices will provide free cash access to endpoints whose volumes exceed a specified threshold. Each Reserve Bank office will set a "high bundle threshold," within the range of fifty to one hundred bundles, to accommodate the needs of the geographic area being serviced within that Federal Reserve office territory. If a depository institution receives free access for more than ten endpoints, each endpoint must meet the high bundle threshold.

2. Frequency of access. Normal free access for each designated endpoint of the depository institution will be one deposit and one order per week. Access more frequent than once per week will be available free of charge to each designated endpoint whose volume exceeds a twenty-bundle aggregate threshold and that satisfies the local Reserve Bank office's denomination bundle standard.

3. Priced access. Reserve Bank offices may choose to accommodate additional access where the demand exists subject to the constraints of the physical facilities at each Reserve Bank office. Reserve Banks must price access to cash services beyond the free service described above, if offered.

4. Delegation of authority. The director of the Division of Reserve Bank Operations and Payment Systems, under delegated authority, may (1) approve changes in the base number of free endpoints and the volume thresholds; (2) waive the policy for a limited period if warranted by special circumstances, such as a natural disaster or the introduction of new currency; and (3) interpret the cash access policy. The director may further delegate this authority to interpret the policy to the Federal Reserve Banks' Financial Services Policy Committee.

By order of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, March 5, 1998.

William W. Wiles,

Secretary of the Board.

Section 127 of the Modernization Act added section 503A to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 353a). Section 503A directs FDA to issue regulations relating to the application of Federal law to the practice of pharmacy compounding. To assist the agency in preparing these regulations, Congress directed FDA to convene and consult an advisory committee that will include representatives of the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy (NABP), the United States Pharmacopoeia (U.S.P.), pharmacy, physician, and consumer organizations, as well as other experts selected by the agency. Accordingly, FDA is requesting nominations for 15 members to serve on the Pharmacy Compounding Advisory Committee.

The committee will include one representative of the NABP, one representative of the U.S.P., one representative of a pharmacy organization, one representative of a physician organization, one representative of a consumer organization, and one representative of the pharmaceutical manufacturing industry. The term of office is 4 years, except that initial appointments will be staggered to permit an orderly rotation of membership.

Nomination Procedures

Interested persons may nominate one or more qualified persons for membership on the advisory committee. Nominations shall state that the nominee is willing to serve as a member of the advisory committee and appears to have no conflict of interest that would preclude committee membership. Potential candidates will be asked by FDA to provide detailed information concerning such matters as financial holdings, consultancies, and research grants or contracts to permit evaluation of possible sources of conflict of interest.

Selection of a representative of a consumer organization is conducted through procedures which include use of a consortium of consumer organizations which has the responsibility for screening, interviewing, and recommending candidates for the agency's selection. Representatives of a consumer organization must possess appropriate qualifications to understand and contribute to the committee's work.

Selection of the member representing pharmaceutical manufacturing industry interests will be made in accordance with the advisory committee member selection process (21 CFR 14.80).

The NABP and the U.S.P. will be sent letters requesting nominations for their representatives on the advisory committee.

This notice is issued under the Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App. 2), section 503A of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 353a), section 904 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 394) as amended by the Food and Drug Administration Revitalization Act (Pub.
