

Hello,

You are seeking comments on pornographic spam and I would certainly like to make one.

I have built special rules into my e-mail messaging, activated spam blockers and done whatever I could to block these unwelcome messages, only to have them sneak through anyway. I even changed my high speed internet access provider hoping to avoid such disgusting material. Nothing helps.

I believe people have a right to their ability to access such material if that's how they want to spend their time, but I do not need or want such filth EVER. I also believe that electronic mail providers have a responsibility to filter such material.

Please do something so these unscrupulous people cannot send their e-mail to unsuspecting receivers. Our children and our adults have a right to know what a message contains before they open it! I have even received some messages that directly open with explicit pictures - I never have a chance to avoid them.

Thank you,
Katherine Kautz
