Community College Apprenticeship Related Training Providers and Notification

(1) Community colleges, within the limits of the available resources and facilities of the community college, will provide core apprenticeship services for the registered apprentices. Community colleges may contract with other community colleges to assist in providing core apprenticeship services to registered apprentices.

(2) By March 1, 2003, and by February 1 of each year thereafter, each community college will submit to the Department their intention to offer apprenticeship related training and core apprenticeship services to registered apprentices for the following school year beginning July 1.

(3) By April 1, 2003, and by March 1 of each year thereafter, the Department will publish the Annual List of Community College Related Training Providers identifying the community colleges that have indicated their interest in offering apprenticeship related training courses and core apprenticeship services for the following school year. The Department will provide the Annual List and menu of core apprenticeship services to the Bureau of Labor and Industries—Apprenticeship and Training Division, the local joint committees and the community colleges.

(4) Local joint committees will utilize the Annual List of Community College Related Training Providers to enter into contractual agreements with one or more community colleges within the local joint committee boundaries to provide apprenticeship related training and core apprenticeship services to registered apprentices indentured to the local joint committee.

The following community colleges submitted “Intent to Offer” forms for the 2007-08 academic year. The information listed here was provided by the community colleges on the “Intent to Offer” form available at: <http://www.ode.state.or.us/search/results/?id=230>

These following community colleges are eligible to provide apprenticeship-related training and core apprenticeship services for academic year 2007-2008 beginning July 1, 2007.
