SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: These proposed regulations will have no impact on the reindeer grazing regulations administered by the Bureau of Land Management, which are found at 43 CFR part 4300.

This proposed rule is published by authority of the Secretary of the Interior granted under 25 U.S.C. 500k and delegated to the Assistant Secretary—Indian Affairs by 209 DM 8.1.

Background

The Reindeer Act of September 1, 1937, 50 Stat. 900 (25 U.S.C. 500-500n) authorizes and directs the Secretary of the Interior to organize and manage the reindeer industry or business in Alaska in such a manner as to establish and maintain a complete and self-sustaining economy for the Natives of Alaska, and to encourage and develop Alaska Native activity and responsibility in all branches of the industry or business (25 U.S.C. 500 and 500f). To preserve the Native character of the reindeer industry in Alaska, the sale or transfer of Native or government-owned reindeer or reindeer products is allowed only under regulations to be developed by the Secretary (25 U.S.C. 500i).

For many years the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) used an informal permit system in conjunction with the infrequent sale of live reindeer. Contracts for the sale of meat (and more recently velvet antler) were seldom reviewed. A May 23, 1979, opinion by the Assistant Regional Solicitor, Alaska, concluded that 25 U.S.C. 500i prohibited transfer of ownership of reindeer or reindeer products to anyone not an Alaska Native, unless such transfers were carried out in accordance with regulations adopted by the Secretary. A subsequent opinion concluded that, in the absence of such regulations, BIA officials had no legal authority to permit such sales. A primary purpose of the regulations being proposed is to prescribe the procedures by which valid transfers can be carried out. A secondary purpose is to ratify or validate past transfers that have occurred without benefit of authorizing regulations.

For better than five decades after enactment of the 1937 Reindeer Act, it was presumed that it established a government and Native monopoly on the ownership of live reindeer in Alaska. However, litigation more recently arose over the right of a non-Native to import into Alaska reindeer obtained from external sources. The Reindeer Herders Association challenged the Bureau of Indian Affairs' 1989 interpretation of the Act, which had found that non-Native importation of non-Alaska reindeer was not prohibited. Although that BIA interpretation was initially disfavored, in decisions by the Interior Board of Indian Appeals and the Federal District Court, it was eventually approved and reinstated by Circuit Court of Appeals in Williams v. Babbitt, 115 F.3d 657 (9th Cir. 1997), cert. denied, 523 U.S. 1117 (1998). Accordingly, it is necessary in these regulations to draw a distinction between Alaskan reindeer, owned by Alaska Natives or the United States Government, and imported reindeer, which are not descended from those present in Alaska at the time of the passage of the Reindeer Act. The former are subject to the restrictions on alienation imposed by 25 U.S.C. 500i, whereas the latter are not.

Although the BIA has for many years under the authority of 25 U.S.C. 500(g) administered a program under which government-owned reindeer were loaned to individual Native herders to help them establish or increase the size of their private herds, it has been determined that more formal guidelines for the operation of such loan program need not be provided for in these regulations. As a result of animals running off to join wild caribou herds that have invaded the grazing range of the domesticated herds, the substantial majority of the government-owned reindeer in the hands of Native borrowers have been lost. Because the BIA has no means to rebuild its stock of reindeer available for loan, it has been determined that it is not feasible to continue the reindeer loan program.

Procedural RequirementsRegulatory Planning and Review (Executive Order 12866)*

In accordance with the criteria in Executive Order 12866, this rule is not a significant regulatory action. OMB makes the final determination under Executive Order 12866.

(a) This rule will not have an annual economic effect of $100 million or adversely affect an economic sector, productivity, jobs, the environment, or other units of government. A cost-benefit and economic analysis is not required. The scale of reindeer herding in Alaska is such that the value of the entire industry, including animals and infrastructure, is less than $100 million.

(b) This rule will not create inconsistencies with other agencies' actions. The Bureau of Indian Affairs is the sole agency tasked with administration of the Reindeer Act of 1937.

(c) This rule will not materially affect entitlements, grants, user fees, loan programs, or the rights and obligations of their recipients. There are no entitlements, grants, fees, loan programs or other obligations associated with the administration of the Reindeer Act of 1937.

(d) This rule will not raise novel, legal or policy issues. This rule merely formalizes commonly accepted practice for the administration of the Bureau of Indian Affairs' responsibility under the Reindeer Act of 1937.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Department of the Interior certifies that this rule will not have a significant economic effect on a substantial number of small entities as defined under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). The proposed regulations do not require any permitting or data gathering from Native reindeer owners, and only a very few non-Natives who wish to acquire Alaska reindeer will be affected, and then only by limited data gathering and not in an economic way.

Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act (SBREFA)

This rule is not a major rule under 5 U.S.C. 804(2), the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act. This rule:

(a) Does not have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more. The entire reindeer industry in Alaska, including the value of all the animals and the supporting infrastructure, does not add up to $100 million.

(b) Will not cause a major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions. These regulations only affect the administration of the Reindeer Act of 1937 and do not affect the value of, or prices received for Alaska reindeer.

(c) Does not have significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or the ability of U.S.-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises. The administration of the Reindeer Act allows Alaska Natives to compete, should they wish, with other nations' reindeer industries, and protects the industry from illegal competition from non-Natives.

Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

In accordance with the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (2 U.S.C. 1501 et seq.):

(a) This rule will not "significantly or uniquely" affect small governments. A Small Government Agency Plan is not required. The administration of the Reindeer Act does not affect any governmental agency, but clarifies for Indian Reorganization Act councils the regulatory requirements for Alaska reindeer sales to Natives and non-Natives.

(b) This rule will not produce a Federal mandate of $100 million or greater in any year; i.e., it is not a "significant regulatory action" under the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act. The entire reindeer industry in Alaska, including the value of all the animals and the supporting infrastructure, does not add up to $100 million.

Takings Implications (Executive Order 12630)

In accordance with Executive Order 12630, the rule does not have significant takings implications. A takings implication assessment is not required. The proposed regulations do not involve taking issues. They do clarify under what conditions non-Natives may acquire Alaska reindeer, do not affect the ownership of Alaska reindeer by Natives, and are not expected to affect Alaska reindeer currently owned by non-Natives.

Federalism (Executive Order 13132)

In accordance with Executive Order 13132, the rule does not have significant Federalism effects. A Federalism assessment is not required. The proposed regulations do not involve any aspect of Federal-State relations.

Civil Justice Reform (Executive Order 12988)

In accordance with Executive Order 12988, the Office of the Solicitor has determined that the rule does not unduly burden the judicial system and meets the requirements of sections 3(a) and 3(b)(2) of the Order. The proposed regulations do not involve court action, nor do they provide significant use of enforcement and judicial action.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The previous OMB Control Number, 1076-0047, covered the loan of reindeer to Alaska Natives who wished to start their own herd of reindeer or to improve their existing herd. The collection was allowed to expire because many reindeer ran off to join the caribou herds that traveled into the area where the federal reindeer were located. Therefore, a sufficient number of reindeer could not be maintained in the reindeer loan program to meet the minimum PRA transactions per year. This proposed regulation does require an information collection under the Paperwork Reduction Act. The information will be used to monitor the use and sale of Alaskan reindeer. The information we now require under the proposed regulations is limited to names and addresses of non-Natives who wish to possess Alaska reindeer and to reports of reindeer disposition and yearly reports. The reporting or application hourly burden varies from 5 minutes to 20 minutes, depending upon the kind of report or application used. The special use and sale reports are submitted annually to BIA staff. Researchers at the University of Alaska, who study the Alaska Native reindeer, submit their findings to BIA staff in lieu of a generic report. The table below explains the collection activity.

Form	Time per form (minutes)	Time x number of users	Estimate cost per form	Cost per form x no of users	Federal cost @ $32.75/hour

We invite your comments on the necessity of the information collection to perform agency functions adequately; whether the estimate of the public burden is accurate; whether the agency can improve the quality, utility, and clarity of the information requested; if the use of automated, electronic, mechanical or other technological collection techniques would reduce the time needed for public response; and if our methodology and assumptions are valid.

Documentation has been prepared and submitted to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, for review and approval of the information request.

Please note that we will not require nor sponsor a request for information, and you need not respond to a request that does not have a valid OMB Control Number.

We request comments on the information collection request. You may submit them to the location in the ADDRESSES section. Please note that these comments are separate from any comments on the rule. Your comments will be available for public review at the location in the ADDRESSES section. If you wish your name or address withheld, you must state this prominently at the beginning of your comment. We will honor your request to the extent allowed by law.

National Environmental Policy Act

We have analyzed this rule in accordance with the criteria of the National Environmental Policy Act and 516 DM. This rule does not constitute a major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment. An environmental assessment is not required. The proposed regulations do not constitute any irretrievable commitment of resources, nor will they permit environmental activities that are not otherwise regulated. The proposed regulations are merely administrative matters pertaining to the Reindeer Act of 1937.

Government-to-Government Relationship With Tribes

In accordance with the President's memorandum of April 29, 1994, "Government-to-Government Relations with Native American Tribal Governments" (59 FR 22951), Executive Order 13175, and 512 DM 2, we have evaluated potential effects on federally recognized Indian tribes and have determined that there are no potential effects. The proposed regulations affect only individuals or groups of individuals outside of tribal governments, and the restrictive measures contained affect only non-Natives.

Effects on the Nation's Energy Supply (Executive Order 13211)

In accordance with Executive Order 13211, this regulation does not have a significant effect on the nation's energy supply, distribution, or use. The proposed regulations pertain only to who and under what conditions may own Alaska reindeer. There are no energy issues involved.

Clarity of This Regulation

Executive Order 12866 requires each agency to write regulations that are easy to understand. We invite your comments on how to make this rule easier to understand, including answers to questions such as the following:

- (1) Are the requirements in the rule clearly stated?
- (2) Does the rule contain technical language or jargon that interferes with its clarity?
- (3) Does the format of the rule (grouping and order of sections, use of headings, paragraphing, etc.) aid or reduce its clarity?
- (4) Would the rule be easier to understand if it were divided into more (but shorter) sections? (A "section" appears in bold type and is preceded by the symbol "$" and a numbered heading; for example, § 243.2 What terms do I need to know?)

(5) Is the description of the rule in the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION section of the preamble helpful in understanding the proposed rule?

(6) What else could we do to make the rule easier to understand?

Send a copy of any comments that concern how we could make this rule easier to understand to: Office of Regulatory Affairs, Department of the Interior, Room 7229, 1849 C Street, NW., Washington, DC 20240. You may also e-mail the comments to this address: Exsec@ios.doi.gov

Public Comment Solicitation

If you wish to comment on this proposed rule, you may mail or hand-deliver your written comments to the person listed in the ADDRESSES section of this document. Submissions by facsimile should be sent to (907) 586-7120. We cannot accept electronic submissions at this time. All written comments received by the date indicated in the DATES section of this document will be carefully assessed and fully considered prior to publication of a final rule.

Our practice is to make comments, including names and home addresses of respondents, available for public review during regular business hours. Individual respondents may request that we withhold their home address from the rulemaking record. We will honor the request to the extent allowable by law. There also may be circumstances in which we would withhold from the rulemaking record a respondent's identity, as allowable by law.

If you wish us to withhold your name and/or address, you must state this prominently at the beginning of your comment. However, we will not consider anonymous comments. We will make all submissions from organizations or businesses, and from individuals identifying themselves as representatives or officials of organizations or businesses, available for public inspection in their entirety.

(a) Only Alaska Natives, organizations of Alaska Natives, or the United States for the benefit of these Natives, can own Alaskan reindeer in Alaska.

(1) Any transfer not allowed by this part is not legal, and does not confer ownership or the right to keep Alaskan reindeer, reindeer products, or any interest in them.

(2) Anyone violating this part will forfeit their reindeer or reindeer products to the Federal Government.

(b) An Alaska Native or a Native reindeer organization may transfer reindeer that they own to other Alaska Natives or Native reindeer organizations without restriction, except as provided in this part.

The collection of information as required in §§ 243.4, 243.5, 243.6, 243.7 and 243.8 has not been approved by the Office of Management and Budget under 44 U.S.C. 3507; a previously assigned clearance number 1076-0047 was allowed to expire. A request has been submitted to the Office of Management and Budget for review and reinstatement of this control number.

§ 243.11 Are transfers of Alaskan reindeer that occurred before issuance of this part valid?

(b) BIA's responsibility to ensure that any transfers of ownership are in accordance with this part.

§ 243.13 Who may appeal an action under this part?
