[A-570-868]

Amended Final Results of the First Antidumping Duty Administrative Review: Folding Metal Tables and Chairs From the People's Republic of China

AGENCY: Import Administration, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce.

DATES: Effective Date: January 21, 2005.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Amber Musser, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 482-1777.

Amendment to Final Results

In accordance with section 751(a) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the "Act"), on December 20, 2004, the Department published the final results of the first administrative review of the antidumping duty order on folding metal tables and chairs from the People's Republic of China ("PRC"), in which we determined that the cooperative respondent, Dongguan Shichang Metals Factory Co., Ltd. and Maxchief Investments, Ltd. ("Shichang"), sold subject merchandise to the United States at less than normal value during the period of review ("POR") (69 FR 75913). On December 20, 2004, we received an allegation, timely filed pursuant to section 751(h) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.224(C)(2), from Shichang that the Department made a ministerial error in its final results. The petitioner<sup>1</sup> did not comment on the alleged ministerial error.

After analyzing Shichang's submission, we have determined, in accordance with section 751(h) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.224, that we made a ministerial error in our final margin calculation for Shichang. Specifically, we incorrectly calculated the selling, general, and administrative ("SG&A") and profit financial ratios because we did not include the line item "Purchase of Traded Goods" in the denominator of these ratios. For a detailed discussion of the ministerial error, as well as the Department's analysis, see the memorandum to James C. Doyle, Office Director, from Amber Musser, analyst, dated January XX, 2005.

Therefore, in accordance with section 751(h) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.224(e), we are amending the final results of the first antidumping duty administrative review of the order on folding metal tables and chairs from the PRC. The revised dumping margin is as follows:

Exporter/manufacturer	Original final margin percentage	Revised final margin percentage
Dongguan Shichang Metals Factory Co., Ltd. and Maxchief Investments, Ltd. ....	4.27	3.30

We will notify U.S. Customs and Border Protection ("CBP") of the revised cash deposit rate for Shichang.

Scope of the Order

The products covered by this order consist of assembled and unassembled folding tables and folding chairs made primarily or exclusively from steel or other metal, as described below:

rectangular, and any other shapes with legs affixed with rivets, welds, or any other type of fastener, and which are made most commonly, but not exclusively, with a hardboard top covered with vinyl or fabric. the table. One set of legs is composed of two individual legs that are affixed together by one or more cross-braces using welds or fastening hardware. In contrast, folding metal tables have legs that mechanically fold independently of one another, and not as a set.

(2) Assembled and unassembled folding chairs made primarily or exclusively from steel or other metal ("folding metal chairs"). Folding metal chairs include chairs with one or more cross-braces, regardless of shape or size, affixed to the front and/or rear legs with rivets, welds or any other type of fastener. Folding metal chairs include: Those that are made solely of steel or other metal; those that have a back pad, a seat pad, or both a back pad and a seat pad; and those that have seats or backs made of plastic or other materials. The subject merchandise is commonly, but not exclusively, packed singly, in multiple packs of the same item, or in five piece sets consisting of four chairs and one table. Specifically excluded from the scope of folding metal chairs are the following:

- b. Lawn furniture;
- c. Stools;
- d. Chairs with arms; and

Although the HTSUS subheadings are provided for convenience and customs purposes, the Department's written description of the merchandise is dispositive.

These amended final results of this new shipper review and notice are in accordance with sections 751(h) and 777(i) of the Act and 19 CFR 351.224(e).

Dated: January 13, 2005.

Todd A. Stevenson,
Secretary.

Settlement Agreement and Order

1. In accordance with 16 CFR 1118.20, Polaris Industries Inc. ("Polaris") and the staff ("Staff") of the United States Consumer Product Safety Commission ("Commission") enter into this Settlement Agreement ("Agreement"). The Agreement and the incorporated attached Order ("Order") settle the Staff's allegations set forth below.

Parties

2. The Commission is an independent federal regulatory agency established pursuant to, and responsible for the enforcement of, the Consumer Product Safety Act, 15 U.S.C. 2051-2084 ("CPSA").

3. Polaris is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the state of Minnesota. Its principal offices are located at 2100 Highway 55, Medina, MN 55340. Polaris designs and manufactures all terrain vehicles (ATVs) and other vehicles.

Staff Allegations

Throttle Control

4. From December 1998 through July 2000, Polaris manufactured and/or sold a total of approximately 13,600 units of certain 1999 Scrambler 400, Sport 400, and Xplorer 400 ATVs, and of certain 2000 Scrambler 400 and Xplorer 400 ATV's ("400cc ATVs").

5. Each 400cc ATV is a "consumer product" that Polaris "distributed in commerce," and Polaris is a "manufacturer" of a consumer product, as those terms are defined in sections 3(a)(1), (4), (11), and (12) of the CPSA, 15 U.S.C. 2052(a)(1), (4), (11), and (12).

6. The throttle on the 400cc ATVs could stick as a result of the throttle cable becoming caught on the throttle control cover, preventing the ATVs from slowing down or stopping when riders released the throttle lever. A stuck throttle can cause an ATV rider to lose control and crash, possibly resulting in severe injury or death.

7. From December 1998 to May 2000, Polaris received 88 reports of 400cc ATV throttles that stuck as a direct or apparent result of the cable becoming caught on the throttle control cover. In 19 of the 88 reports, the stuck throttle caused crashes, other accidents, or damage, and in 7 of the 88 reports, the stuck throttle caused injuries. The injuries included, among others, a dislocated hip, a broken shoulder, and torn back muscles.

8. From September 1999 to May 2000, Polaris obtained knowledge about the 400cc ATVs' throttle defect, hazard, and risk, and Polaris made 3 engineering changes to address the defect. As of the end of September 1999, Polaris had received 47 of the 88 stuck throttle reports, it had received several reports from dealers who specifically noted the defect's characteristics, and it had begun engineering changes to address the defect. As of January 2000, Polaris had received additional reports, made 2 engineering changes, decided on a further engineering change, and successfully tested revised parts.

9. By September 30, 1999, Polaris had obtained information that reasonably supported the conclusion that the 400cc ATVs contained a defect that could create a substantial product hazard or that they created an unreasonable risk of serious injury or death. Sections 15(b)(2) and (3) of the CPSA, 15 U.S.C. 2064(b)(2) and (3), required Polaris to immediately inform the Commission of such defect or risk.

10. Polaris did not report to the Commission regarding the 400cc ATVs until May 23, 2000, thereby failing to immediately inform the Commission as required by sections 15(b)(2) and (3) of the CPSA, 15 U.S.C. 2064(b)(2) and (3). This failure violated section 19(a)(4) of the CPSA, 15 U.S.C. 2068(a)(4).

11. Polaris knowingly failed to immediately inform the Commission of the 400cc ATVs' defect or risk, as the term "knowingly" is defined in section
