SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Under Title I of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, (50 U.S.C. App. 2061, et seq.), the President is authorized to require preferential acceptance and performance of contracts or orders supporting certain approved national defense and energy programs, and to allocate materials, services, and facilities in such a manner as to promote these approved programs. Additional priorities authority is found in section 18 of the Selective Service Act of 1948 (50 U.S.C. App. 468), 10 U.S.C. 2538, and 50 U.S.C. 82. DPAS authority has also been extended to support emergency preparedness activities under Title VI of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief Act and Emergency Assistance Act, as amended (45 U.S.C. 5914, et seq.) The President delegated DPAS authority to the Department of Commerce in Executive Order 12919 (June 3, 1994), and it was subsequently redelegated to the Bureau of Industry and Security.

Originally published in 1984, the DPAS regulation was revised on June 11, 1998 (63 FR 31918) to update, streamline, and clarify a number of provisions. Allocations rules like the DPAS (i.e., controlled materials programs) were established in response to previous periods of national security emergency such as the Second World War and the Korean conflict to assure the availability of any scarce and critical item for approved programs. The basic elements of the controlled materials programs were set-asides (the amount of an item for which a producer or supplier must reserve order-book space in anticipation of the receipt of rated orders), production directives (requiring a producer to supply a specific quantity, size, shape, and type of an item within a specific time period), and allotments (the maximum quantity of an item authorized for use in a specific program or application).

Discussion and Request for Comments

Currently, the DPAS regulation includes a set-aside that applies to metalworking machines. Section 700.31 of the DPAS regulation states as follows:

"(c) A metalworking machine producer is not required to accept DO rated orders calling for delivery in any month of a total quantity of any size of machine in excess of 60 percent of scheduled production of that size of machine for that month, or any DO rated orders received less than three months prior to the beginning of the month for which delivery is requested. However, DX rated orders must be accepted without regard to a set-aside or the lead time, if delivery can be made by the required date."

In pursuit of the DPAS mission, the Department of Commerce endeavors to minimize disruptions to the normal commercial activities of industry. In an effort to streamline the DPAS regulation, BIS is seeking comment on the impact of the DPAS's set-aside for metalworking machines on industry and the effect on industry of the possible elimination of this set-aside.

Submission of Comments

All comments must be submitted to the address indicated in this notice. The Department requires that all comments be submitted in written form.

The Department encourages interested persons who wish to comment to do so at the earliest possible time. The period for submission of comments will close on May 17, 2006. The Department will consider all comments received before the close of the comment period. Background

On May 11, 2005, the FHWA issued a policy memorandum to clarify the interpretation of our material or product selection policy regarding culvert pipes. Titled "Guidance on Pipe Selection,"¹ this memorandum stated that 23 CFR 635.411(d), Appendix A was not intended to limit or restrict the use of certain pipe materials in specific drainage installations, nor was it intended to prohibit the specifying of alternative materials when the appendix did not require it. The FHWA stated that it would consider further policy changes to clarify this issue following the enactment of reauthorization legislation.

On August 10, 2005, the President signed the SAFETEA-LU (Pub. L. 109-59; Aug. 10, 2005). Section 5514 of the SAFETEA-LU titled "Competition for Specification of Alternative Types of Culvert Pipes," requires the Secretary of Transportation to ensure that States provide for competition with respect to the specification of alternative types of culvert pipes through requirements that are commensurate with competition requirements for other construction materials. This section requires the Secretary to accomplish this action not later than 180 days after the enactment of SAFETEA-LU (or by February 6, 2006).

On October 6, 2005, the FHWA issued a memorandum titled "SAFETEA-LU
