MICHIGAN.

Population 2,810,173.

STATE CAPITAL, LANSING.

MICHIGAN is bounded north by Lake Superior, east by Lakes Huron, St. Clair, and Erie, and their connecting rivers, south by Ohio and Indiana, and west by Lake Michigan and Wisconsin; land area, 57,430 square miles. It consists of two peninsulas, of which the southern is the principal seat of wealth and population, its length, north to south, being about 300 miles; width, about 200; coast line of state on lakes not less than 1600 miles. This part of the state is a very level region, abounding in lakes and streams, with very extensive forests of pine and other timber in the north, oak openings or natural parks in the south, and prairies in the southwest. The soil contains sufficient sand to make it easily tilled, and few sections excel it as a farming region. In the west and southwest is the great fruit belt. Beans, winter wheat, oats, and potatoes are abundant, and of excellent quality; corn and other cereals are largely grown. In 1909 the crop of wheat was estimated at 12,000,000 bushels, corn 53,000,000 bushels, oats 41,000,000 bushels, potatoes 26,000,000 bushels, beans, over 6,000,000 bushels. Dairy products are very valuable. Wool is raised in very large quantities, the product being about 15,000,000 pounds; livestock is plentiful. Peppermint and celery are raised extensively in the southwest, and grapes in the south. Sugar beets are grown in large quantities, and 79,597 tons of beet sugar was made in 1909. The surface of the northern peninsula is somewhat rough and mountainous, with a good soil in most parts outside the mining regions; its mineral wealth is very great, especially in copper, and iron. Large quantities of iron ore are mined and shipped to Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois to be smelted either alone or with the inferior ores found in those states. Marquette, Ishpeming, Negaunee, Gladstone, St. Ignace and Escanaba are the principal points of shipment. By far the most important copper mines of the country, and what is claimed to be the largest iron mine in the world, are in this state. The production of copper in Michigan is almost equal to that of Montana, and the two states combined have more than half the total output of the country. Michigan produced 111,134 tons in 1908. There is a large quantity of coal in the lower peninsula, used chiefly for local and railroad purposes, the production in 1907 reaching 1,898,446 tons. The salt producing territory covers about 9,500 square miles, and the annual product is not far from 5,000,000 barrels, which is more than double that of New York; it is procured from artesian wells, and the Saginaw river and the mouth of the Manistee are the chief centres of manufacture. About 100,000 barrels of dairy salt are produced, pronounced by competent judges to be the best in the world. 3600 persons are employed in the salt manufacture. Gypsum, fire clay, and glass sand are also found. The manufacture of cement is becoming a very important industry, over 3,000,000 barrels being turned out each year. Michigan ranks high in the value and extent of its lumber product; the largest interest centering in East Saginaw. The lumber product, however, is rapidly falling off, through the rapid and wasteful reduction of the forest area. The fisheries on the great lakes are very valuable, the fish sold each year having a value of nearly $2,000,000. $2,500,000 is invested in this industry, which keeps nearly 7000 men employed. Manufactures are important and varied. Among the leading products are iron, lumber, salt, paper, wooden ware, furniture, farm implements, leather, cotton and woolen goods, machinery, castings, and hollow ware. The great extent of the coast line gives Michigan a commanding position in lake commerce. The ship canal at Sault Ste. Marie handles more traffic than any similar thoroughfare in the world. In 1906, 41,276,862 tons passed through, three times as much as went through the Suez canal.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Michigan is 738, including 83 daily, 6 tri-weekly, 24 semi-weekly, 535 weekly, 1 fortnightly, 4 semi-monthly, 84 monthly and 1 quarterly. The places of publication number 387, of which 82, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

Excellent harbor; a large commerce in grain with Canada and a very large shipping trade in grain, pork, wool and copper ore to Eastern markets. About 30,000 vessels traverse the river every year, carrying from 60,000,000 to 75,000,000 tons of freight, chiefly iron and copper ore. The Michigan Central R.R. is constructing a tunnel under the river, to be finished in the year 1911. It will save about two hours time on each train of freight or passengers, which is now consumed in ferrying the trains over the river. Manufactures numerous and important, including immense railroad car works and iron working establishments, numerous tanneries and tobacco factories and stove, pharmaceutical supplies, emery wheel, ship building, locomotive, and other works. There are 1,600 factories, employing 90,000 wage earners, who produce goods to the value of over $220,000,000 each year. Much capital invested in iron and copper mines and lumbering interests.

MINNESOTA.

Population 1,979,912.

STATE CAPITAL, ST. PAUL.

MINNESOTA is bounded north by Ontario and Manitoba, east by Wisconsin and Lake Superior, south by Iowa, and west by North and South Dakota. Its extreme length from north to south is 380 miles; breadth varies from 183 miles in the center to 262 on the south line, and about 330 on the north border; land area, 79,205 square miles. The climate, although the cold during the winter season is somewhat severe, is healthful and invigorating. The surface is generally an undulating plain, diversified with rolling prairies, dotted with lakes and groves, with frequent timber belts. The northeast is generally hilly, and was formerly entirely covered with immense forests. The greater part of the salable pine has been cut, but there is a vast quantity of valuable timber, both pine and hardwood, still standing. This region also contains innumerable lakes, which abound with almost every species of freshwater fish; and much marsh land. The Red River valley is almost a dead level. The southeast is a beautiful rolling prairie region, while the surface rises from the undulating prairies of the south and southwest to the Hauteur des Terres or Heights of Land in the northwest. In St. Louis county in the northeast is located one of the greatest iron producing regions in the world. There are productive fisheries of white fish and lake trout in Lake Superior. The soil is fertile, about two-thirds of it being adapted to the cultivation of cereals and general farm produce, although little more than one-third of this is under cultivation. The rainfall averages 28½ inches per annum, which provides ample moisture for all crops which can be grown in the latitude of Minnesota. In the northern part of the state drainage ditches are being constructed, and millions of acres will thereby be made suitable for agricultural purposes. Minnesota's largest and most valuable crop is wheat, for which its soil is peculiarly adapted. Instances are known where wheat has been produced for twenty-five years on the same land, which still continues to yield abundantly. Corn of high quality grows well all over the state, even in the northern counties. Wool growing is remunerative in the southwest. Maple sugar is an important product. Cattle, horses, and swine of the finest class are largely exported, and pork packing is a valuable industry. In 1909 Minnesota raised 94,500,000 bushels of wheat, 89,400,000 bushels of oats, 60,000,000 bushels of corn and 31,600,000 bushels of barley, besides large crops of rye, flax, hay and potatoes. The 1909 crop of cereals was estimated to be worth $200,000,000, of live stock, $125,000,000, of dairy products, $50,000,000. The value of other farm crops, together with poultry, eggs, and miscellaneous produce, made the total agricultural wealth produced in 1909 close to $500,000,000. Manufactures are rapidly increasing in number and value, and their value in 1909 amounted to about $400,000,000. The leading branches are flour and grist mill products, lumber and woodenware, carriages, furniture, and cooperage, while boots and shoes, brick, leather, lime, saddlery, and woolen goods are also extensively manufactured. It is estimated that the state's streams have sufficient undeveloped water power to supply the future needs of every industry, public or private, in the state.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Minnesota is 731, including 38 daily, 5 semi-weekly, 621 weekly, 3 fortnightly, 11 semi-monthly, 50 monthly, 2 bi-monthly and 1 quarterly. The places of publication number 429, of which 85, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

MISSISSIPPI.

Population 1,708,272.

STATE CAPITAL, JACKSON.

MISSISSIPPI is bounded north by Tennessee, east by Alabama, south by the Gulf of Mexico and Louisiana, and west by the Mississippi River, which separates it from Louisiana and Arkansas. Its extreme length from north to south is 332 miles; average breadth, 142 miles; land area, 46,340 square miles. The surface is generally hilly or undulating, except in the Mississippi bottom, from Vicksburg to the Tennessee line, and between the Mississippi and Yazoo rivers, where it is low and swampy, subject to inundation, and covered with a dense growth of timber, but with soil which, if reclaimed, would be exceedingly fruitful. Below Vicksburg the surface for some miles inland is hilly, and known as the "cane hills" or "bluffs," and with a generally productive soil. There is a very fertile prairie region in the northeast where alfalfa, producing from three to five heavy crops each year, is one of the principal products. The southern part is chiefly a level pine region, and furnishes good pasturage and large quantities of timber, tar, turpentine, etc. In the production of yellow pine, Mississippi ranks third among the states. The soil of this tract, although sandy, is with suitable fertilization particularly well adapted to truck farming, and is being largely taken up for that purpose, as soon as the timber is cut off. Cotton and corn are the great staples. The average crop of cotton is about 1,500,000 bales, and its value, including its by-products, is about $100,000,000. The crop in 1908 was 1,735,000 bales. While cotton is still king in Mississippi, the doctrine of diversified farming is spreading, with benefit both to the land and the farmers. It is estimated that the corn acreage of 1910 was almost double that of 1909. The corn crop for 1909 was over 55,000,000 bushels; that of oats 2,000,000. Wheat is grown in the north, and rice and sugar cane in the south. Dairy products, sorghum, and sweet potatoes are produced in considerable quantities. A little tobacco is grown. In the coast counties the growing of semi-tropical fruits is meeting with decided success. The pecan crop in these counties is worth over $150,000. Among other agricultural products, there were produced in the year 1909, 1,000,000 tons of hay, 400,000 pounds of wool and over 1,500,000 hogs. Drainage districts in the Yazoo-Mississippi delta have been organized, one project calling for the expenditure of $8,000,000. This will change the swamp lands into farming land unexcelled anywhere for fertility, as the soil has for ages been enriched and augmented in depth by the alluvial deposits of the two rivers. The manufactures are neither varied nor very extensive, lumber and grist mill products being the most important, while cotton goods and cotton seed oil and cake rank next in importance. Its commerce is carried on principally through New Orleans and Mobile; coasting and river trade is large. The coast ports of Gulfport and South Pascagoula have a large commerce which is growing rapidly, both in exports and imports. These two ports send out over 400,000,000 feet of lumber annually. The state has no coal or iron of practical value. Its mineral deposits are confined mainly to fertilizers, soft limestone and clays. Tishomingo county has large beds of fine pipe and potter's clay, there is also some sandstone suitable for rough masonry.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Mississippi is 258, including 16 daily, 6 semi-weekly, 213 weekly, 3 fortnightly, 5 semi-monthly and 15 monthly. The places of publication number 152, of which 86, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

MISSOURI.

Population 3,293,335.

STATE CAPITAL, JEFFERSON CITY.

MISSOURI is bounded north by Iowa, east by Illinois, Kentucky, and Tennessee, south by Arkansas, west by Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska; length, north to south, 277 miles; average breadth, about 244 miles, ranging from 208 miles in the north to 312 miles in the south; land area 68,735 square miles. The Missouri River divides the state into two distinct parts. The surface north of the river is generally nearly level, while that south of it is undulating, becoming rougher and somewhat mountainous as it approaches the Ozark Mountains. There are also open, treeless plains, an extension of those in Kansas, and in the southeast, bordering on the Mississippi River, is an extensive marshy tract, called the "Sunk Country," the result of the earthquake of 1811-12. Plans have been made to reclaim the lands along the Mississippi and Missouri rivers and their tributaries, by levees along the great rivers and drainage canals in the valleys of the smaller rivers, and by this means large tracts of swamp lands, and other tracts subject to destructive overflows, can be profitably tilled. The state contains every variety of soil. Corn, wheat, and oats are the staple products, the yield of corn in 1909 being 213,840,000 bushels, which gives Missouri third place in corn production. Barley, rye, hay, fruit, white and sweet potatoes, tobacco, dairy and market garden products, wool, cattle, and pork are raised largely in excess of home needs. Sorghum and castor oil beans are largely produced. Cotton, hemp, and flax are cultivated to some degree in the southern counties; so are grapes, and much wine is made. The principal live stock are sheep and swine, but cattle, horses and mules are produced in great numbers. Missouri sheep, in 1908, contributed to the national wealth, outside of what was consumed within the state, nearly 6,000,000 pounds of wool, having a value after scouring, of over $6,000,000. The output of poultry products is enormous. In 1907 Missouri's surplus from her poultry yards, amounting to over $47,000,000, was worth nearly twice as much as all the silver produced in the United States. Dairying is an industry which is rapidly increasing, the surplus products having grown from a little less than $4,000,000 in 1906 to $8,260,711 in 1908. As the products shipped out of the state are estimated as only two-fifths of the total, her total dairy products in 1908 were probably not far from $20,000,000. Iron ore is mined and manufactured in very large quantities, and the supply seems inexhaustible. Lead ore is also produced in greater quantity than from any other state, Missouri's 180,375 tons of ore in 1908 producing 122,457 tons of lead. The zinc ore of the same year produced 123,645 tons of zinc. More than half the zinc in the U. S. comes from the Missouri mines. Copper, cobalt and nickel are also found in small quantities. Oregon is the only other state producing nickel. Missouri's output in 1908 was 550 tons of copper, 57,000 pounds of cobalt and 83,000 pounds of nickel. Bituminous coal is found in considerable quantities, the output in 1907 being 4,350,000 tons. The Kansas oil field extends into several counties in Missouri and about 10,000 barrels are taken out in the state. Some natural gas exists in the western part. Many other minerals abound; also marble, limestone, glass sand, kaolin, barytes, fire clay, etc. Lumbering is also an important industry. Meat and packing house products, flour and meal, tobacco, boots and shoes, millinery, cars, and malt liquors are among the most important manufactures, but there are innumerable other articles made in the state, among them may be noted pearl buttons to the value of $113,469 in 1898, and corn cob pipes, the manufacture of which is confined to three or four counties in the state, where corn of a special variety producing a peculiarly large cob is used. In 1908, 24,671,460 "Missouri meerschaums" were made and shipped to all parts of the world. Over $520,000,000 in manufactured goods was the 1905 output of the state. Missouri has grown rapidly in population and wealth, railroads have multiplied, and extensive areas of territory, particularly in the southwest and southeast portions of the state, have been brought into cultivation, and now support large populations, and afford a considerable surplus to feed the world.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Missouri is 995, including 87 daily, 15 semi-weekly, 750 weekly, 5 fortnightly, 14 semi-monthly, 114 monthly, 1 bi-monthly and 9 quarterly. The places of publication number 468, of which 113, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

MONTANA.

Population 303,575.

STATE CAPITAL, HELENA.

MONTANA is bounded north by British America, east by North and South Dakota, south by Wyoming and Idaho, and west by Idaho; length, east to west, about 540 miles; breadth, about 280 miles; land area, 146,080 square miles. Montana's total area is 94,000,000 acres, classified into mountainous, 26,000,000 acres; farming lands, 30,000,000 acres; grazing lands, 38,000,000 acres. The farming area of Montana is equal in size to the state of Iowa; the Indian and forest reserves equal in area the state of Georgia, and the mountainous and grazing lands are equal in extent to the state of Indiana. The area of cultivated land is rapidly increasing. While Montana has always been considered a mining state, the agricultural production is nearing the total of mineral production, and will soon exceed it in value. Nearly all staple crops known to northern states are grown in Montana. Fruit growing in the western portion of the state has become a great industry. Wheat and oats are largely grown. The Government has irrigation projects in course of construction, which will bring into use large tracts of land is northern Montana, while private enterprise is also reclaiming an immense area. "Dry farming" is also being practiced with a considerable degree of success in districts adapted to it. While cattle raising is still one of the state's great industries, it is gradually giving place to agriculture. In Yellowstone, Gallatin, Beaverhead, and Cascade counties large numbers of sheep and cattle are winter fed for the spring markets. Montana has more sheep than any other state, over 5,000,000 head, producing about 35,000,000 lbs. of wool, and making Montana the greatest wool producing state in the Union. One-third of the population is engaged in farming and stock raising. The output of gold for 1909 was $3,451,500, of silver $6,051,250, of lead $10,500,000. There was also 310,532,474 pounds of copper, the largest output of all the states. In the western and northwestern portions of the state vast lumbering interests have been developed; fir, pine, tamarack, and cedar being the chief varieties. Leading industries are mining, lumber sawing, quartz crushing, smelting, flour milling, etc. Nearly every county has iron, and ten counties have deposits of bituminous coal, of which the 1907 yield was almost 2,000,000 tons. There are petroleum deposits in the northern part of the state.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Montana is 154, including 17 daily, 7 semi-weekly, 121 weekly, 2 semi-monthly and 7 monthly. The places of publication number 89, of which 28, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEBRASKA.

Population 1,068,484.

STATE CAPITAL, LINCOLN.

NEBRASKA is bounded north by South Dakota, east by Iowa and Missouri, south by Kansas and Colorado, and west by Colorado and Wyoming. Its extent from north to south is about 210 miles; greatest length about 420 miles; land area, 76,840 square miles. The surface is generally a vast gently undulating plain, with a gradual ascent toward the mountains; the river bottoms are level. There are some bluffs along the Missouri river, some hills in the northwest, which is also partly occupied by the Mauvais Terres or Bad Lands. The state is well watered; three large rivers, the Niobrara, the Platte, and the Republican crossing it from west to east, while the Missouri flows for 500 miles along the eastern border. The Missouri is the only navigable river. East of the Bad Lands and south of the Niobrara is a tract of sand hills of 8,000 square miles area, which afford some pasturage. Timber is scarce. There is little coal, and that poor; but peat abounds. Brick and potter's clay is plentiful, and there are extensive saline deposits; good building stone abundant. The eastern half of the state is a rich agricultural region. The west is mainly adapted to grazing, but farms are being taken up in many districts. Sugar beets are successfully grown there without irrigation, and crops of thirty tons to the acre are not uncommon, grass is also grown. There is an abundant rainfall in the east, and that of the west seems increasing annually since the era of agriculture, so that the farm limit is extending westward. The leading products are wheat, corn, barley, oats, sorghum, flax, and hemp; vegetables, small fruits, and grapes are raised extensively. Nebraska is one of the foremost states in grain growing. The 1909 corn crop was 169,179,137 bushels. In the same year the state produced 50,313,600 bushels of wheat, and 59,653,479 bushels of oats. Other products were 2,820,632 bushels of barley, 1,227,322 bushels of rye, 1,971,770 tons of alfalfa, 8,034,173 bushels of potatoes and 7,000,000 tons of hay. More than 150 species of wild grasses have been classified, which afford excellent pasturage to large numbers of cattle and sheep. The shipments of live stock in 1908 were: hogs 2,996,120, sheep 502,222; horses and mules, 62,445, and cattle 1,140,942. The same year saw shipments of poultry, 28,119,058 pounds; dressed meat, 210,393,160 pounds; eggs, 24,470,265 dozens; butter, 37,414,274 pounds, and cream, 3,502,776 gallons. Manufacturing interests are growing, but are chiefly confined to a few of the large cities, principally Omaha, South Omaha, Lincoln and Nebraska City. They include meat packing and canning, smelting and refining, and the making of flour, farming implements, wagons, cars, etc. The dressed meat and packing industry is by far the largest, its product in 1908 being worth $82,243,720. Refining and smelting of metallic ores comes next, with an output of $34,912,360. Mill products $11,559,165, and butter, over $8,000,000, are next in line.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Nebraska is 623, including 30 daily, 2 tri-weekly, 15 semi-weekly, 541 weekly, 1 fortnightly, 2 semi-monthly and 32 monthly. The places of publication number 386, of which 90, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEVADA.

Population *75,000.

STATE CAPITAL, CARSON CITY.

NEVADA is bounded north by Oregon and Idaho, east by Utah and Arizona, and southwest and west by California. Extreme length from north to south, 485 miles in the eastern, and 210 in the western boundary; greatest breadth, 320 miles, decreasing to 310 miles in the north and to a point in the south; land area, 109,740 square miles. Surface generally is a table land about 4,000 feet above the sea, traversed by nearly parallel mountain ranges, between which are valleys varying in width from 5 to 20 miles, in some cases narrow canons, and in others broad deserts, covered with sage brush and other scanty herbage. The soil, when irrigated, is fertile and produces spring wheat, barley, oats, potatoes, hay, etc., abundantly. There is much good pasturage, and cattle and sheep fatten readily upon it. The state lies almost wholly in the "Great Basin," the most arid region of North America, but it is considered possible, by storing the waters of its mountain streams, to reclaim several millions of acres by irrigation. Several irrigation enterprises have been completed and there are numerous others planned and under construction, and the agricultural interests are steadily increasing. Cotton and sub-tropical fruits do well in the south. Nevada's greatest wealth, however, is in its minerals. It has for years been the leading state in the production of the precious metals. The milling and smelting of ore is the leading manufacturing industry. The output of precious metals is over $16,000,000, the yield in 1908 being, gold, $11,689,400, and silver, $5,086,100. Other minerals are lead, salt, sulphur, borax and gypsum, all of which are produced in commercial quantities. A valuable deposit of anthracite coal has been discovered on the Elko river, near Humboldt, which is being developed, over 17,000 tons of this being mined in 1907, in addition to over 2,000,000 tons of bituminous. The cattle interests of the state are next in importance to its mineral resources.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Nevada is 57, including 13 daily, 2 tri-weekly and 42 weekly. The places of publication number 33, of which 13, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Population 432,624.

STATE CAPITAL, CONCORD.

NEW HAMPSHIRE is bounded on the north by Quebec, east by Maine and the Atlantic Ocean, south by Massachusetts, and west by Vermont. Its length is 180 miles from north to south; its extreme breadth 93 miles; average breadth 50 miles; land area, 9,005 square miles. Most of the state, except the southeastern part, has a rough and hilly surface. In the northern part are the White Mountains. The state is generally well wooded, and the yield of timber is very large. The valley of the Connecticut is famed for the beauty of its farms and villages. In productions, the hay crop is by far the most valuable, and while this is steadily increasing the agricultural interests have for some years been gradually declining. While there are some very fertile tracts among the valley lands, the greater part of the surface is rugged and stony, and much more valuable as woodland or pasture than as tilled land. Oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, and corn are very generally cultivated, but little more is grown than suffices for home needs. Dairy farming and wool growing are followed to some extent. Tobacco is grown in Cheshire county, in the southwestern part of the state. A fair quality of wrapper tobacco is produced. Fruit raising is generally profitable. In some localities in the south the peach is successfully cultivated. One of the chief industries of the state at the present time is that of providing for summer visitors. New Hampshire has an almost perfect summer climate, especially in the central and eastern portion, and the scenery throughout the state is remarkable for its beauty, that in the White Mountain district being unsurpassed in all the eastern states. Visitors from the other New England states, and from many other parts of the country spend the summer months here, and the hotel and boarding house industry is one of considerable magnitude. It is estimated that summer visitors leave about $10,000,000 in the state each year. The state government, recognizing the value of good roads, is constructing three trunk line highways extending from the Massachusetts line to the White Mountains. $1,000,000 was appropriated for this work in 1909. Fine building granite is extensively quarried at Concord, Milford, Pelham, Plymouth, and other points, and a fine soapstone at Francestown. Iron ore is mined principally at Franconia, but abounds in several other localities. There is a thin vein of tin at Jackson. Lead, silver, and zinc are developed in Madison and Warren. There is abundant water power in all parts of the state, and manufactures constitute by far the largest industry. There is scarcely a town of any considerable size without its important manufacture. It is especially noted for its textile interests, which turned out cotton goods to the value of $42,879,360 in 1909, and woolen goods valued at $5,498,799. Paper and pulp in the same year $11,212,042, and lumber, $10,202,668. The other important manufactures are leather, carriages, flour, saddlery, clothing, starch, etc.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in New Hampshire is 133, including 11 daily, 2 tri-weekly, 1 semi-weekly, 106 weekly, 12 monthly and 1 bi-monthly. The places of publication number 67, of which 12, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEW JERSEY.

Population 2,144,143.

STATE CAPITAL, TRENTON.

NEW JERSEY is bounded north and northeast by New York, east by New York and the Atlantic Ocean, south by the Atlantic Ocean and Delaware Bay, and west by Delaware and Pennsylvania. Its extreme length is 167 miles; its greatest breadth 59 miles, and its least 32 miles; land area, 7,525 square miles. The surface is mountainous in the northwest, hilly in the northeast and central parts, low and gently undulating in the south. The mountains, a part of the Appalachian system, are the Kittatinny or Blue, and the Highland Range. Between them lies the Kittatinny Valley, about 10 miles wide; soil productive but varied—the northern part adapted to grain and grass; the central part has been well fertilized, and yields abundant farm and market garden products and fruit; the southern part is sandy and light. The agricultural products of the state generally, especially market garden produce, are very extensive. The central part is the most thickly settled and is, in fact, a vast market garden for the supply of New York and Philadelphia, and the fruits and vegetables from this region are of a quality which is not surpassed anywhere. Large quantities of grapes and small fruits are grown in the south. It is estimated that more than half of the cranberries produced in the United States are grown in this state. The chief cranberry counties are Ocean, Atlantic, and Burlington. It is celebrated for its marl and clay deposits, peat, bog iron ore, and glass sand. It has become one of the leading states in the value of its manufactures, which embrace a wide range of goods, and had a value in 1904 of nearly $800,000,000. Prominent among them are fruit and vegetable canning, pottery, rubber, iron and steel, chemicals, wire, glass, electrical goods, silk and other textiles, leather goods, petroleum products and soap. Its iron mines, zinc mines, slate quarries, clay banks and oyster and deep sea fisheries are very valuable. Iron ore is found generally throughout the state. There are a large number of productive mines of magnetic iron ore in Sussex, Passaic, Morris, and Warren counties. Clay for gas retorts and fire brick is found at Amboy, and valuable deposits of franklinite at Mine Hill and Stirling. In the northwestern portion of the state excellent roofing-slates, building and flag stones and rich hematites are abundant. It has a large coasting trade, and considerable ship building is carried on. New Jersey is well provided with marine transportation, as three-fourths of her border is on navigable waters. An inland waterway is now being constructed, which will provide a sheltered channel from the northern end of Ocean county to Cape May, about four-fifths of the whole ocean coast of the state. It will have a minimum width of 100 feet, and a low water depth of six feet. Plans are being made for a canal from the Delaware, near Bordentown, to the ocean. Newark, the metropolis, has a population of 347,469, and its manufacturing industries are said to be more important in proportion to population than those of any other city in the United States.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in New Jersey is 366, including 50 daily, 1 tri-weekly, 6 semi-weekly, 269 weekly, 2 semi-monthly, 33 monthly, 1 bi-monthly and 4 quarterly. The places of publication number 158, of which 21, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEW MEXICO.

Population 327,396.

TERRITORIAL CAPITAL, SANTA FE.

NEW MEXICO is bounded north by Colorado, east by Oklahoma and Texas, south by Texas and Mexico, and west by Arizona; greatest length, north to south, 390 miles, average width, 335 miles. Land area, 122,460 square miles. Its general surface is a region of high plateaus, traversed by mountain ranges with isolated peaks. The valleys are generally nearly level, and their soil fertile. In the southeast is a part of the "Llano Estacado" or "Staked Plain." Some of this plain is being brought into use under the improved systems of farming arid and semi-arid lands. The territory has 40,000,000 acres of public lands open to entry. 75,000 homestead entries have been made in the past four years. The mesas, or table lands, occupy a large part of the surface, placing stock raising and wool growing among the leading occupations; the bunch grass affords rich pasturage, and neither hand feeding nor shelter is necessary for the herds and flocks. The live stock in the territory is estimated at over 1,000,000 cattle, 5,000,000 sheep, 200,000 goats, and 80,000 horses. About 350,000 cattle and 7000 horses are shipped out of the the territory each year. Agriculture is the leading industry of the territory now, and its products last year were valued at $75,000,000. Irrigation is in use on nearly half a million acres. There are extensive systems of water storage and irrigation on the Pecos, Rio Grande, and other large rivers, works are now projected sufficient to reclaim three or four million acres. Many farmers are irrigating their own land by means of artesian wells. There are over 700 of these in Chaves and Eddy counties. There are many other river valleys of high fertility, whose soil is susceptible of irrigation. Over 15,000,000 acres have sufficient annual rainfall to be classed as "dry farming" land, and the flow of immigration in these districts is heavy and continuous. Those who have followed the correct methods of culture proper to such lands have been successful with such crops as are adapted to the conditions. While there is still much experimenting to be done with the system, there is no doubt that it will in the near future add considerably to the nation's food supply. New Mexico has over 3,000,000 acres farmed on this system at the present time. The agricultural productions are increasing rapidly in amount and value. Wheat, corn, beans, onions, cabbage, alfalfa, sugar beets, canteloupes, oats, wild hay, and all kinds of vegetables are produced abundantly. Of fruits, the apple, peach, melon, fig, apricot, pomegranate, and especially grapes, flourish. Gold, silver, copper, iron, and lead exist, and all are being extensively worked. New Mexico's gold in 1909 was worth over $300,000, its silver, $215,000. Iron ore has recently been discovered in extensive deposits. Bituminous coal is very abunadnt and large deposits of fine anthracite exist. The coal product in 1909 was 2,708,624 tons. Plumbago, cement, fire clay, gypsum, mineral paint, marbles and other excellent building stones are found. The mineral production for 1909 was $8,000,000. Chief industries are quartz crushing, milling and manufacturing of woolens, lumber, wines and brandies. A fine system of public roads has been planned, comprising over 1,000 miles through various parts of the territory, the work being done by convict labor. Several hundred miles have already been surveyed.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in New Mexico is 123, including 6 daily, 1 semi-weekly, 113 weekly, 1 semi-monthly and 2 monthly. The places of publication number 79, of which 23, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NEW YORK.

Population 8,067,308.

STATE CAPITAL, ALBANY.

NEW YORK is bounded on the north and northwest by Lake Ontario and the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, east by Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and the Atlantic Ocean, south by the Atlantic Ocean, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, and west and northwest by Pennsylvania and Lake Erie. Its greatest length from north to south is 312 miles; its greatest breadth 412 miles; land area, 47,620 square miles. The surface is exceedingly diversified. It has numerous ranges of mountains, chains of hills, beautiful valleys, much undulating land, some broad plains, and numerous lakes. The greater portion of the soil is arable, much of it exceedingly fertile. In the total value of agricultural products, New York is exceeded in the United States only by Iowa, Illinois and Ohio, and stands first in the value of its product per acre under cultivation. It stands first in the number of dairy farms, the number of dairy cows, the number of gallons of milk produced, and the total value of dairy products. St. Lawrence and Delaware are the leading counties in this important branch of industry. While St. Lawrence leads in the total value of dairy products, Delaware is far in advance in butter making. In 1899, the latest year for which exact figures can be obtained, Delaware county made a total of 5,920,095 pounds of butter, 3,000,000 pounds more than its nearest rival in this line, Steuben county. The annual production for the state is about 750,000,000 quarts of milk, about 80,000,000 pounds of butter, and over 100,000,000 pounds of condensed milk. The numerous large cities make hay a valuable product, and more ground is devoted to this crop than in any other state. In 1908, 5,717,000 tons were grown on 4,764,000 acres, and its value was over $70,000,000. Immense crops of cereals are grown in the valley lands, which also produce an abundance of grapes and other fruit; hops in Otsego, Madison, Chautauqua, and Oneida counties; tobacco is raised in several counties, and corn generally throughout the state. In the neighborhood of the large cities, market gardening is extensively carried on. The state is well wooded, and the timber varied and excellent. Its leading mineral is iron ore, of which the mines, especially those of the Champlain and Adirondack regions, yield heavily. Galena is found in large quantities in St. Lawrence and other counties. Building stone is abundant, consisting of granite, white and colored marbles, of which those of Westchester and St. Lawrence counties are the most important; Potsdam and Medina sandstones and gray and blue limestones; also fine brick clay. It has large quarries of slate and stone for flagging. There are extensive deposits of hydraulic cement and gypsum, the former being largely produced at Rondout, Manlius, and Akron, the latter near Syracuse. A vast amount of salt is made, chiefly from the springs of Onondaga county, the product being more than 10,000,000 bushels annually. In recent years new and promising salt fields have been developed in Wyoming and Genesee counties. There are natural gas wells in several counties, and oil is found near Olean, Wellsville, etc. New York has no coal. The state ranks first in the value of its manufactures. The industries cover almost the whole range of business, and are well distributed over the state. The value of the manufactured goods in 1904 was $2,488,345,579. The fishing industry is large and valuable, the menhaden and oyster fisheries being the most productive. Transportation facilities in New York are of the best. Railroads penetrate everywhere, the total mileage in the state being 8,416 miles. The Erie Canal connects the great lakes with the Hudson river, and a new barge canal, costing $101,000,000, is under construction, to take the place of the Erie Canal when completed. The main canal will run from the Niagara river to the Hudson river, with branches to Lake Ontario, and from the Hudson to Lake Champlain. It will have a depth of twelve feet, and the locks will be fifty-five feet wide and three hundred feet long, permitting vessels of 2,500 tons to pass without transferring cargo, from any of the lake ports to the ocean.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in New York is 1,988, including 208 daily, 6 tri-weekly, 48 semi-weekly, 1,066 weekly, 9 fortnightly, 39 semi-monthly, 1 every three weeks, 563 monthly, 1 eight times a year, 1 seven times a year, 15 bi-monthly, 1 five times a year and 30 quarterly. The places of publication number 504, of which 62, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

On Manhattan Island at m. of Hudson R., and on L. I. Sound (or East R.), and New York Bay. Term. of 14 important R.Rs. running to all parts of the country, including the Erie; N. Y. Cent. & Hud. Riv.; Penna.; W. Shore; Cent. R.R. of N. J., etc. Exp. Banks. Has one of the finest harbors in the world, and is the commercial metropolis of the United States. The foreign commerce of New York is very large, comprising more than half the entire import and export trade of the nation. The tonnage entered in the port for the fiscal year ending in 1906 was 10,476,993 tons, and there were cleared 9,913,960 tons, not including coastwise trade, making a total foreign commerce of about 20,000,000 tons, which exceeds the business done by any other port in the world. Its domestic commerce is still greater, a considerable portion of the country drawing its supplies from this city. Its manufactures are little less important, and have grown rapidly of recent years, there being over 20,000 manufacturing establishments. Some few of the larger are furniture, clothing, machinery, sugar refining, tobacco and cigars, printing and publishing, lard refining, malt liquors, musical instruments, etc. Its educational and other institutions include Columbia University, University of the City of New York, Cooper Institute, Colleges of Medicine, Law, Theology, etc.; Astor, Lenox, Mercantile, and other libraries; Metropolitan Museum of Art, Museum of Natural History, and many others.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Population 2,059,326.

STATE CAPITAL, RALEIGH.

NORTH CAROLINA is bounded north by Virginia, east and southeast by the Atlantic Ocean, south by South Carolina and Georgia, and west by Tennessee. Its extreme length from east to west is 490 miles; extreme breadth, 185 miles; land area, 48,580 square miles. The surface is very varied. For nearly 100 miles inland from the coast the country is level, marshy, and swampy; soil sandy but very fertile. It is estimated that there are nearly 3,000,000 acres of swamps in this region, which is known as the "Tidewater" section. Next is the middle or "Coastal Plain" section, with varied surface and fine soil. West of this is the "Piedmont" section, a fine farming region, producing North Carolina's staples, cotton and tobacco, in abundance, as well as large crops of wheat and other grain. It is a land of fertile valleys and gently sloping hills, increasing in altitude until they reach the "Mountain" region in the west. Some of the peaks in the Black Mountains and the Blue Ridge attain an elevation of from 5,000 to 6,000 feet, the highest land east of the Rocky Mountains. This region contains good grazing land, with much hard timber; and stock raising is largely carried on. It is a country of fine pastures and live stock of all kinds thrive. Grain and fruit, especially apples, are grown abundantly. The scenery is remarkably beautiful, and the climate is such that it is becoming a popular health and pleasure resort. In the coast region the river bottoms and reclaimed swamp lands are very fertile, and here cotton, corn, honey, beeswax, apples, peaches, and pears abound. Frost is infrequent, and the rainfall averages 60 inches. The Scuppernong and Catawba grapes are native here; cranberries and vegetables of all kinds are extensively produced, melons being especially fine. The lumber industries and fisheries are very valuable. Drainage work is being energetically prosecuted in this region, and many thousands of acres of swamp lands are annually brought under the plow. The pine region is being settled as the timber is cut off, but the forests are still extensive, and a large trade is done in timber, tar, and turpentine. Cotton is raised chiefly in the southern and central counties. The middle section is adapted to the growth of cereals, tobacco, and cotton; sweet potatoes are a leading staple. In this section are a large number of cotton mills and wood-working plants. The state is second only to Kentucky in its tobacco crop, the production in 1908 reaching 134,000,000 pounds. In the truck growing industry she is among the first. The principal manufactures are furniture, lumber, tar, turpentine, rosin, cotton and woolen goods, tobacco, zinc (smelted and rolled), carriages. The manufacture of cotton goods is very large and is constantly increasing, there being a greater number of cotton mills than in any other state. In the number of furniture factories North Carolina is exceeded by only one state. It exports coastwise and to foreign ports large amounts of lumber, cotton, tobacco, flour, and fish. The state is very rich in minerals. Gold is mined to a considerable extent in Cabarrus, Mecklenburg, Lincoln, and Rowan counties, the 1908 yield being worth nearly $100,000, and there is a branch of the United States Mint at Charlotte. Silver, lead, and zinc exist, and there is a very valuable mine of copper in Ashe county; mica, corundum and many other minerals, and even precious stones are found. Coal and iron are very abundant; the coal is mostly bituminous, and is contained in two fields, one in Stokes and Rockingham counties, known as the Dan River field, the other in Chatham and Moore counties, known as the Deep River field. The region from the Roanoke and Cape Fear rivers westward to Cherokee county contains rich beds of magnetic and hematite ores; the "Cranberry" mine, in Mitchell county, yields the purest magnetic ore yet found in the United States, producing a remarkably strong and tenacious iron. The granite quarries in Surry and Rowan counties produce immense quantities of stone of high quality and their total product has been said to be of as great value as all the other minerals of the state combined. There is abundant transportation by both water routes and railrads; and the latter are constantly extending. Particular attention is paid to educational matters, and over a thousand school houses were built in the three years preceeding 1911.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in North Carolina is 306, including 30 daily, 21 semi-weekly, 209 weekly, 4 fortnightly, 11 semi-monthly, 26 monthly, 1 bi-monthly and 4 quarterly. The places of publication number 166, of which 85, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Population *609,472.

STATE CAPITAL, BISMARCK.

NORTH DAKOTA is bounded north by Manitoba and Saskatchewan, south by South Dakota, east by Minnesota, and west by Montana. Length, east to west, about 355 miles, width, about 200 miles. Land area about 70,552 square miles. The Missouri river furnishes navigation for boats of three to six hundred tons burden. The Red River of the North, also navigable, drains the great wheat valley on its eastern border. That portion of the state east of the Missouri river is mostly rolling prairie; the soil on the Missouri slope being a black, sandy loam, with clay subsoil; while in the Red River valley it is a vegetable deposit of unsurpassed richness. West of the Missouri river the land is more broken, with stretches of excellent farming and grazing lands along the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad. In the north is a group of hills of moderate elevation known as the Turtle Mountains. In the southwest is a district of eroded clay hills, called the "Bad Lands," generally a good grazing region. North Dakota's live stock, next to its grain crops, is the state's chief product. In 1909 there were over 500,000 cattle in the state, of which 146,000 were used for dairy purposes; 444,840 horses, 226,920 sheep and 150,000 hogs. The animals killed for home use during the year were valued at nearly $2,000,000, and about $5,000,000 was received for those shipped out of the state. The northern and central parts are especially adapted to the raising of wheat and other cereals, potatoes, vegetables and the earlier varieties of corn. The Red River valley is not excelled on this continent for wheat production. The chief products of the state are wheat, oats, barley, flax, corn, potatoes, dairy products, butter, cheese, and wool. The 1909 crop of wheat was 90,000,000 bushels; of oats, 59,746,208. Dairy products are worth nearly $5,000,000 annually, and the wool clip averages about 1,250,000 pounds. The rainfall is not great, but sufficient in ordinary years. The Missouri river and all small streams and lakes are lined with timber, and west and north of Bismarck are found beds of lignite coal, of which about 350,000 tons is mined yearly.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in North Dakota is 357, including 12 daily, 1 semi-weekly, 338 weekly, 1 semi-monthly and 5 monthly. The places of publication number 267, of which 48, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

OHIO.

Population 4,448,677.

STATE CAPITAL, COLUMBUS.

OHIO is bounded north by Michigan and Lake Erie, east by Pennsylvania and West Virginia, south by West Virginia and Kentucky, and west by Indiana; greatest length from east to west 225 miles; greatest breadth 200 miles; land area, 40,760 square miles, of which less than 700 square miles is waste land. The general character of the surface is that of a plateau of about 800 to 1,000 feet above sea level. The most prominent feature is the great divide which separates the drainage of Lake Erie from that of the Ohio river. This passes diagonally across the state from Trumbull county in the northeast to Mercer and Darke counties in the west. Its average height is about 600 feet above the lake; and from it the surface slopes gradually northward toward the lake and southward toward the river. The riversand streams have excavated deep valleys, which give to the surface its distinctive undulating or rolling character. The soil is universally fertile; and Ohio holds a leading position in every branch of agriculture. The uplands are well suited to wheat, the southern slope of the watershed to grain generally, the northern slope to grazing and dairying, and the northeast section or Western Reserve especially so. The bottom lands of the Miami, Muskingum, and Scioto rivers are very rich in corn; the Western Reserve and Miami regions are famous for apples. Wheat and oats each produce about 30,000,000 bushels each year, corn over 100,000,000 bushels. Dairy products are also of considerable value. There are over 2,000,000 sheep in the state, and the wool clip in 1907 was 13,394,168 pounds. Flax and linseed are staple products, and tobacco is largely grown in most of the southern counties, 50,400 acres being under tobacco in 1908, producing a crop of 33,768,000 pounds. Cincinnati is one of the country's largest tobacco markets, Ohio is one the leading states in poultry and poultry products. The virgin forests have largely disappeared, and while about one-fifth of the state's area is forest land, chiefly second growth, it is not of high value commercially, and the numerous woodworking industries are only partially supplied by the native woods. The fishing interests of Lake Erie are important. The manufactures of the state are very numerous and valuable, and Ohio stands fifth among the states in the annual output of manufactured goods. Iron, pork products, farm implements, clothing, flour and grist mill products, lumber, pottery, (in which Ohio leads all the states,) and malt and distilled liquors are among the most important. Coal (bituminous) underlies 12,000 square miles, 80,000,000 tons being produced annually, which makes the state rank fourth as a coal producer; iron ore is abundant, especially in the south; salt is very largely produced from springs; lime and cement are other important products. Good grindstones and building stones are obtained at Amherst, Berea (Berea grit), Buena Vista, and Independence. There are excellent qualities of limestone and sandstone for building, especially at Massillon and Dayton. Marl deposits abound in the Maumee valley and other localities. There are good pottery and fire clays, the fire bricks of Mineral Point being among the best in the United States. Cleveland, Massillon, Youngstown, and the towns on the Ohio river are the chief seats of the iron manufacture, which includes pig, forged, and rolled; iron castings and sheet iron, rails, Bessemer steel rails, etc. The development of the wonderfully productive oil fields, and the discoveries of natural gas in apparently inexhaustible quantities at many places in the state, have been of incalculable value to its industrial interests. The railroad facilities are rapidly increasing, and Ohio has now a net work of well constructed and busy transportation lines.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Ohio is 1,145, including 172 daily, 5 tri-weekly, 55 semi-weekly, 715 weekly, 3 fortnightly, 13 semi-monthly, 1 every three weeks, 151 monthly, 8 bi-monthly and 22 quarterly. The places of publication number 413, of which 88, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

OKLAHOMA.

Population *1,850,000.

STATE CAPITAL, GUTHRIE.

OKLAHOMA is bounded on the north by Kansas, on the east by Arkansas and Missouri, and on the south and west by Texas. Land area, 70,430 square miles. The surface is generally rolling prairie, with abundant timber in the eastern part. The land is generally tillable and the principal occupation of the people is agriculture. Corn is largely grown, and the area devoted to it is increasing. The value of the crop of 101,150,000 bushels in 1909 was $55,682,000. Over 15,000,000 bushels of wheat and 16,000,000 bushels of oats were also grown. Cotton is the second crop in value and the 1908 crop sold for over $20,000,000. Broom corn, kaffir corn, and barley are also profitable crops. Hay and fruit of excellent quality are raised in considerable quantities. The production of alfalfa is increasing, and 210,000 acres were grown in 1910. The wealth of summer forage crops which may be grown and the abundant pasturage during the winter make the production of all classes of live stock very profitable. Limestone, gypsum, and good building stone are plentiful. Large shipments of flour are made to other states, after supplying home consumption. Cotton seed oil mills use the cotton seed produced on the farms, and large numbers of cattle are fed on the meal and hulls. Oklahoma, however, is an agricultural rather than a manufacturing state, although as the population grows, the number of factories established to supply the local needs, and to use the local raw materials is constantly increasing.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Oklahoma is 639, including 55 daily, 4 semi-weekly, 555 weekly, 4 semi-monthly and 21 monthly. The places of publication number 373, of which 76, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

OREGON.

Population *500,000.

STATE CAPITAL, SALEM.

OREGON is bounded north by Washington, east by Idaho, south by Nevada and California, and west by the Pacific Ocean; average length from east to west, about 300 miles; average breadth, about 260 miles; land area, 94,560 square miles. It is divided unequally by the Cascade Mountains. East of this range the surface is generally undulating table land, with high cone-like hills and deep canons. Between the Cascade and Coast ranges is the Willamette valley, 60 miles wide by 150 miles long, and exceedingly fertile; from the Coast range westward the surface is mountainous, hilly, and broken. The principal industries of this region are dairying and fruit growing, but it is well adapted to wool growing, stock raising, and the growth of winter wheat, barley, oats, and hay. The eastern portion does better as a stock raising region, but good wheat is also grown there, especially in the northern counties, and several irrigation projects have been started to develop the arid portions of this region, the soil of which needs only water to make it produce abundantly. In the Willamette valley, wheat, corn, hops, tobacco, wool, flax, fruit, linseed, dairy products, and potatoes are raised in large quantities. Many of the trees are gigantic in size, and afford excellent lumber. The Rogue River valley, on account of its mild climate, is well adapted for raising fruits, especially grapes, and large quantities are shipped from there annually. The climate is salubrious. In the extreme west, between the coast range and the ocean, the annual rainfall is very heavy, being about 70 to 80 inches; in the central and eastern portions it ranges from normal to scanty. The live stock product is large, there being about 1,000,000 cattle and 3,000,000 sheep in the state. The manufactures comprise lumber—the large Douglas fir affording the best masts and spars in the world;—leather, boots and shoes, saddlery, milling and smelting of ores, carriages, furniture, liquors, linseed oil, etc. The lumber industries are of immense value. The cut in 1909 was over 600,000,000 feet, of which 375,000,000 was distributed through the country, 85,000,000 feet was shipped to foreign countries, and the rest used within the state. The trees are chiefly Douglas fir, western hemlock, spruce and pine of various species, hardwoods forming a very small portion, not more than three per cent. Salmon canning, especially along the Columbia, is a great industry, and meat packing establishments take care of the local live stock. Gold and silver are produced, the gold in 1908 being valued at over $900,000, and the silver at $30,000; copper and iron ore are abundant, petroleum, cement rock, clay, glass sand, granite, marble, coal, etc., are also found. Navigable water lies on three sides of the state, the Snake River on the east, the Columbia River on the north and the Pacific Ocean on the west, and in addition to the mouth of the Columbia, which is one of the finest harbors in the world, there are several inlets along the coast.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Oregon is 256, including 29 daily, 1 tri-weekly, 12 semi-weekly, 190 weekly, 1 semi-monthly and 23 monthly. The places of publication number 130, of which 34, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Population 6,928,515.

STATE CAPITAL, HARRISBURG.

PENNSYLVANIA is bounded north by New York and Lake Erie, east by New York and New Jersey, south by Delaware, Maryland, and West Virginia, and west by West Virginia and Ohio. Its greatest length from east to west is about 302 miles; its greatest breadth about 175 miles; mean length 280 miles; mean breadth 158 miles; land area, 44,832 square miles. The surface is exceedingly varied, chiefly level or slightly undulating in the southeast, hilly and mountainous in the interior, and generally rolling or broken in the west. A series of parallel ridges, members of the Appalachian system, each with a distinct name, traverse the state from northeast to southwest. The most eastern of these is the South Mountain, an extension of the Blue Ridge, and the western and highest the Allegheny, from which the surface slopes generally toward Ohio. The soil of the valleys and plains is generally fertile, and some of it exceedingly so. Lancaster county, and some of the counties bordering on the Ohio river, are the most productive. The state excels in dairy and market garden produce and all the agricultural staples of the Northern states. In 1908, 29,000,000 bushels of wheat, 27,000,000 bushels of oats, and 57,000,000 bushels of corn were grown. The tobacco crop in 1908 was 39,008,000 pounds, grown on 29,440 acres. Lancaster and York counties are the chief seats of this industry, Lancaster yielding nearly twice as much as any other county in the United States. The beds of anthracite and bituminous coal and iron ore, and the great oil basin, are sources of immense wealth. Anthracite coal is found mainly in the counties of Carbon, Dauphin, Lackawanna, Luzerne, and Schuylkill, to some extent in Columbia and Northumberland, and semi-anthracite in Sullivan and Wyoming. Bedford, Bradford, Centre, Clearfield, Fulton, Lycoming, and Tioga counties contain fields of semi-bituminous coal, while the bituminous coal beds are located beyond the main Allegheny ridge, every county west of it, with the exception of Erie, yielding more or less of this coal. Mercer supplies a good block coal for furnace use. The total coal production in 1907 was 149,759,089 tons of bituminous coal, and 86,279,719 tons of anthracite, more bituminous coal than any four other states, and more than one-third of the total output of the country; and almost all of the anthracite, as only about 62,000 tons came from the other two states producing it. The petroleum region is situated mainly in the counties of Venango, Butler, McKean, and Clarion, and covers about 2000 square miles. The natural gas field is about 2780 square miles. No other state has as large an area of either. Salt springs abound in the same region. It is rich in minerals, cement, slate, and building stone of many kinds. There are many medicinal springs, the principal of which are at Bedford, Doubling Gap, Ephrata, Yellow Springs, and York. The southeastern corner of the state is rich in limestone and marble, of which great quantities are quarried for use in Philadelphia. This region also produces combined iron and chromium ores, hematite, magnetic iron, and corundum. Nickel is found at Lancaster, galena at Phœnixville, zinc at Friedensville and Bethlehem. A handsome black limestone is quarried at Williamsport, roofing-slates in the Lehigh and Delaware valleys, Silurian limestone in the Cumberland valley and at other places. The lumbering industry is decreasing, and the state, which was first in 1880, now occupies the seventh place. In manufactures, Pennsylvania is second only to New York, the value of its manufactured goods in 1904 amounting to almost $2,000,000,000. Philadelphia is one of the principal seats of foreign and coastwise trade. The leading exports are grain, provisions, petroleum, tobacco, oil cake, lumber, tallow, hides, leather, shoes, cotton goods, machinery, and coal. Erie and Pittsburg are also great commercial centres. Kensington and Chester are the chief ship building stations. Pittsburg, Allegheny, Harrisburg, Reading, and Scranton are the chief seats of the iron manufactures. Philadelphia is one of the great manufacturing cities of the world, and has an enormous production of iron goods, textile fabrics, and other articles.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Pennsylvania is 1,402, including 212 daily, 6 tri-weekly, 46 semi-weekly, 849 weekly, 7 fortnightly, 11 semi-monthly, 229 monthly, 1 every six weeks, 9 bi-monthly and 32 quarterly. The places of publication number 461, of which 67, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

In carpets, woolen and cotton goods, and other textile fabrics, its production is enormous, and the same may be said of the products of iron and steel, while many other branches of manufacture are also very largely represented. The domestic and foreign commerce of this city is also large, but is secondary in importance to its manufactures Among its numerous institutions may be named Independence Hall, the University of Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania Hospital and many others, Jefferson and other medical colleges, Girard College, Drexel Institute, Franklin Institute, Academy of Natural Sciences, Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia Library, the magnificent City Hall, and Fairmount Park, the largest and most picturesque pleasure ground in the United States.

PITTSBURG†, pop. ‖533,905 (B 5½); ALLEGHENY Co. (W.S.W.), pop. 775,058. On Ohio R., at junc. of Allegheny and Monongahela Rs. 354 m. W. by N. of Philadelphia. Penna.; Balt. & Ohio; Pittsb. & L. Erie; and several other railroads. Tel. Exp. Banks. Second city of Pennsylvania, and the leading iron and steel manufacturing city in America. Its pig iron product is said to be one-fourth, and its steel product more than one-half of the total product of the United States. The glass manufacture is also very important, the product being claimed to be about one-half of the total produced in this country. Coke is very largely produced, and there are numerous smaller manufactures. The abundance of natural gas fuel gives Pittsburg special advantages in manufacturing. The commerce of this city is also very considerable; oil, coal, lumber, iron, steel and glass products, etc., being largely distributed. Here are the University of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania College for Women (Presbyterian), Carnegie Technical Schools, Carnegie Institute and Library, a United States Arsenal, etc.

RHODE ISLAND.

Population 542,674.

STATE CAPITAL, PROVIDENCE.

RHODE ISLAND is bounded on the north and east by Massachusetts, south by the Atlantic Ocean, and west by Connecticut. Its extreme length from north to south is 47½ miles; extreme breadth, 40 miles; average breadth, 35 miles; land area, 1,067 square miles. It is the most densely peopled state in the union, but on five-sixths of the area the population averages only about fifty to the square mile. The remaining one-sixth holds ninety per cent. of the people. The surface is for the most part rough, hilly and stony. There are no mountains, and few hills of any altitude. Nearly one-fourth is woodland. Rhode Island is not an agricultural state. The production of corn and oats is but little more than is used at home; that of other cereals small; dairy and market-garden produce and live stock very moderate. Agriculture is steadily declining, the only branch of this industry which is increasing being dairy farms carried on for supplying milk to the cities. It is essentially a manufacturing community, and its factories produce an immense variety of goods. The most prominent manufactures are cotton, woolen and worsted goods, knit goods, machinery, jewelry, silver and plated ware, clothing, iron and ironware, rubber and elastic goods, leather, refined sugar and molasses, and flour mill products. In its production of cotton goods it is surpassed only by Massachusetts, and it is the chief center of the jewelry manufacturing industry of the United States. Coal was mined as early as 1812. The mines are situated at Cumberland, Portsmouth and Valley Falls, but the coal produced is hard and difficult to burn, and very little is being dug at present. There are extensive granite quarries at Westerly, which are the most profitable mineral resources of the state. The output in 1909 was valued at $700,000. Graphite is also mined, but not of high quality, as it contains much grit. The product is used chiefly for foundry facings, and as a basis for certain kinds of paint. The fisheries employ 131 vessels, and about 1,500 men, and the product in 1909 was about $2,000,000.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Rhode Island is 53, including 13 daily, 3 semi-weekly, 26 weekly, 1 semi-monthly, 9 monthly and 1 bi-monthly. The places of publication number 18, of which 4, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Population 1,453,818.

STATE CAPITAL, COLUMBIA.

SOUTH CAROLINA is bounded north and northeast by North Carolina, southeast by the Atlantic Ocean, west and southwest by Georgia. Its greatest length from east to west is about 275 miles, and its greatest breadth about 210 miles; land area, 30,170 square miles. The surface presents nearly the same features as that of North Carolina. The coast for 100 miles inland is low and level, with sandy soil, numerous swamps, and extensive pine forests; then follows a tract of low sand hills, the soil of which is moderately productive. The land rises abruptly on the western edge of this belt, and continues to rise until it terminates in the Blue Ridge, the highest peak of which, Table Mountain, is 4,000 feet above the sea. The swamps embrace over 1,000,000 acres, and the pine lands 6,000,000. The sea islands are mainly devoted to sea island cotton and rice; the tidal swamps to rice; inland swamps, when drained, to rice, cotton, corn and peas; the salt marshes to long staple cotton; the oak and pine and oak and hickory lands to corn and cotton; and the pine barrens to fruits and vegetables. Rice, cotton, and corn thrive best in the central and southern counties. The northwestern region produces corn, wheat, barley, oats, tobacco, and many fruits. Cotton is the chief crop, averaging well over 1,000,000 bales, the 1908 crop being 1,242,012 bales. Tobacco is also an important product, and over 25,000,000 pounds were grown in 1908. Corn is also largely grown, considerably over 2,000,000 acres being planted, against 2,500,000 acres of cotton. The time when cotton was almost the sole money crop has passed, and while it holds its own as the chief staple, the production of of other crops such as grain, tobacco, fruits and truck is increasing year by year. Stock raising and wool growing are carried on with profit. Figs and pomegranates grow in the lower counties, and the peach and grape thrive over the state generally; strawberries are abundant. Tea is being grown at Pinehurst, and while the total product is still small, crops have been grown producing 600 pounds of dried tea of good quality to the acre, and the demand for native tea is growing. Much attention is being paid to the improvement of the breed of cattle, both dairy and beef stock. Much care and money is devoted to agricultural education. Besides the work of the State Agricultural Department, there are a number of agricultural high schools, with experimental farms attached, and good work is being done by these institutions in developing the agricultural possibilities of the state. Alfalfa has been successfully grown, and many experiments are being made with other crops not native to the soil. The manufactures are principally cotton goods, cotton seed oil, flour, lumber, machinery, tar, turpentine, carriages and fertilizers. The chief industry is the manufacture of cotton goods, the annual production of which is rapidly increasing. In 1909 there were 179 textile mills in the state, with a total capital of over $60,000,000, employing 46,855 persons, and the value of the product was $66,971,307. The cotton seed oil mills numbered 108, and the product was worth over $10,000,000. The state has abundant water power and will, no doubt, work up a great part of its own raw cotton into textile goods before many years have passed. Commerce is mainly confined to Charleston, Georgetown, and Beaufort. Exports are chiefly rice, cotton, lumber, phosphate, naval stores, cotton seed and its oil, oil cake, fish, and spring vegetables. Shad and oyster fisheries are valuable. The mineral wealth, though large, has not been much developed. Some gold is found in the northwestern counties, over $50,000 worth being produced in 1908. There are large deposits of excellent iron ore in Greenville, Pickens, Spartanburg, and Union counties; manganese, copper, lead, and bismuth are also found, mainly in the northwest; white and colored marbles and limestones, granites and cyanites, soapstones, flagging stone, and buhr stone are abundant. In Fairfield county is found what is claimed to be the finest granite in the United States. It is of beautiful appearance, great strength and fine quality. Aiken county contains immense beds of the finest porcelain clay. A little coal is found in Chesterfield county. The most valuable mineral at the present day is, however, a bone phosphate marl, a fossil deposit of recent origin and one of the best of fertilizers, found in the lowlands and river beds near Charleston; on the Stono, Ashepoo and Edisto rivers; also near St. Helena sound.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in South Carolina is 177, including 13 daily, 1 tri-weekly, 22 semi-weekly, 120 weekly, 4 semi-monthly and 17 monthly. The places of publication number 84, of which 43, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

STATE CAPITAL, PIERRE.

SOUTH DAKOTA is bounded north by North Dakota, east by Minnesota and Iowa, south by Nebraska, and west by Montana and Wyoming. Length, east to west, nearly 360 miles; width, about 240 miles. Land area about 76,850 square miles. The Missouri River furnishes navigation for boats up to six hundred tons burden. That portion of the state east of the Missouri River is mostly rolling prairie; the soil on the Mississippi slope being a black, sandy loam, with clay subsoil. West of the river the land is more broken, with mining and grazing land in the southwestern section or Black Hills region, which is a mountain district of nearly 5,000 square miles in extent, exceedingly rich in valuable minerals. and in great part well adapted to stock raising. It is largely forested, and with the aid of irrigation much of it might be adapted to agriculture. In the northwestern part of the state, the United States Government is constructing irrigation works, which will cost about $2,500,000 and will bring into cultivation many thousands of acres hitherto untilled. The eastern portion of the state is especially adapted to the culture of wheat and other cereals, potatoes, vegetables, and flax. The Missouri river and all small streams and lakes are lined with timber. The principal agricultural products are wheat, corn, oats, barley, flax, hay and vegetables. The value of the live stock marketed in 1909 was $49,065,000; dairy and creamery products, $8,500,000; eggs and poultry, $5,300,000; wool and hides, $900,000. The wheat product in 1909 was 40,875,705 bushels; corn, 86,339,000 bushels, an increase of 30,000,000 over the previous year; oats, 44,341,000 bushels, an increase of 13,000,000 bushels; barley, 19,564,000 bushels; and hay, 3,350,000 tons. The Black Hills possess some of the richest gold mines in the world; the gold production for 1908 was $7,742,200. Tin occurs in great abundance, though as yet but little developed, from difficulty in reducing. Other important mineral products are silver, copper, iron, gypsum, mica, lime, brick, fire and potter's clay and coal. Petroleum and natural gas are also present, and marble and building stone are quarried.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in South Dakota is 433, including 20 daily, 4 semi-weekly, 395 weekly, 2 semi-monthly and 12 monthly. The places of publication number 297, of which 55, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

TENNESSEE.

STATE CAPITAL, NASHVILLE.

TENNESSEE is bounded north by Kentucky and Virginia; southeast by North Carolina, south by Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi; west by Arkansas and Missouri; greatest length from east to west 432 miles, breadth 109 miles; land area, 41,750 square miles. The state is popularly divided into East, Middle, and West Tennessee. East Tennessee comprises the eastern mountain border, the beautiful East Tennessee Valley, and about half of the Cumberland Mountain plateau. Middle Tennessee reaches from about the center of the plateau to the Tennessee river, and is a region of fertile terraces, including the vast elliptical basin of nearly 5,000 square miles, known as the Garden of Kentucky. West Tennessee extends from the Tennessee river to the Mississippi, and is somewhat broken in the east, succeeded by a rolling plain descending to the latter river. The Mississippi bottom is a low, flat, alluvial plain, covered with forests and abounding with lakes and swamps. West Tennessee is extremely fertile, and produces corn and cotton in large quantities. Middle Tennessee is generally fertile, giving excellent grain and tobacco and much cotton, especially toward the south. East Tennessee valley lands are fertile, producing corn, cotton, and winter wheat; potatoes, oats, hay, and hemp are extensively produced; great numbers of stock are raised, especially swine; the wool clip is large and excellent, and much attention is paid to fine breeds of horses. The leading cereals are corn, wheat, oats and rye. Corn in 1908 reached 83,080,000 bushels; wheat about 8,190,000 bushels; oats, 3,675,000 bushels; cotton, 350,000 bales, and tobacco, 52,000,000 pounds. Peanuts form a product of some importance, yielding about 1,000,000 bushels. Tennessee is rich in marble of various kinds, limestone and other building stone; valuable copper mines exist in Polk county; coal and iron ore are very abundant. The coal deposits underlie 5,100 square miles, and the output in 1907 was 6,760,017 tons. Iron mining and smelting is becoming very extensive, and much iron ore is exported to the iron working towns on the Ohio river. The lumbering interest is very great, there being a large area of valuable hardwood timber. About $25,000,000 is invested in the various branches of the lumber industry. Wool carding and cloth dressing are carried on extensively. Flour and grist mill products are very large. Tennessee is one of the foremost states in the production of rock phosphate. Union county contains zinc and lead mines. Colored marbles are found in immense quantities in East and West Tennessee; roofing slates in East Tennessee; hydraulic limestone in East, Middle and West Tennessee; there are also building limestone, sandstone, and granite; fire and potter's clay.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Tennessee is 319, including 17 daily, 9 semi-weekly, 234 weekly, 1 three times a month, 5 semi-monthly, 38 monthly and 15 quarterly. The places of publication number 146, of which 87, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

TEXAS.

STATE CAPITAL, AUSTIN.

TEXAS is bounded north by New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Arkansas, east by Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana, southeast by the Gulf of Mexico, southwest by Mexico, and west by New Mexico; greatest length, about 740 miles; greatest breadth, 825 miles; land area, 265,896 square miles. From the Sabine river to the Trinity river is the great timber region, generally level and sandy in the south, rolling and fertile in the north. From the Trinity to the Colorado is prairie, timbered along streams, with extensive forests of live oak, extending through central and western Texas to the Red river, called the "Cross Timbers." The mean elevation is about 850 feet. The pecan tree is widely distributed, and is a valuable nut-bearing tree, its yield being estimated at 9,000,000 pounds, or 56 per cent. of the entire crop of the United States. Western Texas embraces the counties between the Colorado and Rio Grande; four-fifths of it is prairie; timber generally confined to banks of streams. Between the Colorado and the Brazos rivers are the Comanche and Leon River Mountain ranges. In the north and northwest are the Church and Double Mountains, and the surface is generally broken until the Llano Estacado, or Staked Plain, is reached. It composes a great portion of the "Panhandle" and the natural vegetation consisted only of grass. There is some farming here, but the chief industry of this district, and indeed, the whole northwestern part of the state is stock raising. Between the Pecos and Rio Grande are several ranges, sometimes attaining an elevation of 5,000 feet. The chief crops of Texas, are cotton, corn, and wheat, but almost every variety of plant which can be grown in the temperate or sub-tropical regions, and many which are considered tropical plants, can be grown successfully in some part of this great state. One-fifth of the world's cotton crop is produced in Texas. The 1908 yield was 3,888,000 bales; the total yield of the United States in that year was 13,829,000 bales, and that of the world was estimated at 19,574,000 bales. Galveston, through which port the bulk of Texas cotton is shipped, handles more than any other port. 3,891,695 bales were shipped through Galveston in 1907. Cotton and corn may be grown in nearly any part of the state, but especially in the eastern and central sections; wheat chiefly in the north and centre. Sea island cotton is grown on the coast. Over 200,000,000 bushels of corn were grown in 1909. Sugar cane is raised chiefly on the Brazos and other rivers, near their mouths, and rice in the south and southeast. Oats, barley, tobacco, onions and sweet and white potatoes are largely grown. While the production of beef cattle is still one of Texas' great industries, the day of the great cattle ranges is passing, and the "nester" is coming into possession of the land. The number of families owning and residing upon their farms rose from 172,160 in 1900 to 297,720 in 1910. Texas now produces immense quantities of orchard and garden products. Thousands of acres are under irrigation from flowing artesian wells, principally located in southwest Texas. The chief occupation in the west is stock raising and wool growing. Angora goats form a valuable part of the live stock; Texas goats producing fully half of the 3,000,000 pounds of mohair cut annually in the United States. Figs and oranges thrive in the south. The agricultural products of the state in 1908 had a value of $623,000,009. Manufacturing interests are increasing. The leading products are lumber, cotton seed oil, flour, carriages, foundry and machine shop products, woolens, marble, etc. Cotton mills have been established in the state, operating a total of about 100,000 spindles, and 2,500 looms, There are immense deposits of copper along the line of the Texas Pacific Railroad; coal, timber, limestone, soapstone, and iron are found in the same region. Argentiferous galena is found in large quantities in northwestern Texas; immense quantities of magnetic iron in Mason, Llano, and the western counties, which is now being developed. There is a field of lignite coal about 6,000 square miles in extent, and a field of semi-anthracite in Brown, Coleman, Comanche, and Hamilton counties, nearly 2,000,000 tons being dug annually. The oil wells of the state produced 11,206,464 barrels in 1908. Salt is produced in large quantities from springs in El Paso, Lampasas, Llano, and Mitchell counties. Large quantities of saltpetre are found in Blanco and Burnet counties; marble and roofing slate, grindstones, potter and fire clays, marl and other fertilizers and asphaltum are abundant.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Texas is 989, including 93 daily, 23 semi-weekly, 798 weekly, 1 fortnightly, 8 semi-monthly, 64 monthly and 2 quarterly. The places of publication number 565, of which 221, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.
