Some Facts as to Newspaper Directories

WHICH MAY INTEREST PUBLISHERS AND ADVERTISERS

The late George P. Rowell began the publication of his American Newspaper Directory in 1869, the year in which this firm began business.

To the gathering and publishing of newspaper statistics, an undertaking always abounding in difficulties and discouragements, Mr. Rowell devoted the best years of his life.

The press of this country owes much to the man who for so long collected and published the statistics which inform the outside world as to every newspaper enterprise, and contribute so largely to the prosperity and respect which the publishing business enjoys.

The firm of N. W. Ayer & Son was organized in April, 1869—forty-one years ago. It discovered early that in order to do successful newspaper advertising it was necessary to have at hand reliable data concerning the newspapers themselves. For years it industriously gathered these indispensable statistics. In 1880 they were bound in a volume and made available to the public under the title "The American Newspaper Annual."

The brief preface of the first volume said: "The object of the Annual is to assist an advertiser in making a selection of papers that will best serve his purpose in the territory he desires to cover.''

On the important subject of newspaper circulation it said: "Every opportunity has been given publishers to furnish truthful statements. Careful consideration has been given to reports received, and but one object held in view—full justice to everyone. Any publisher whose circulation may have been under-rated may rely on having justice done him in future editions if he will furnish us with sufficient evidence of the truth of his statement. If we have erred in any case—and that we have is more than probable—it has been the result of want of sufficient proof or else an error of judgment. We desire in every case to give the honest figures. In the matter of circulation we have neither friend nor foe."

While there have been many changes during the intervening years, we do not to-day know how to state better the object of this publication. The reader now holds in his hands the thirty-first volume. We invite examination of it as a fresh, accurate and complete description of the Newspaper and Magazine Press of the United States. The vast publishing interests of this country are here or nowhere represented; and its advertising interests have here the essential facts on which their incalculably great expenditure is annually made.

Finding that his health was impaired, and realizing what some people have never discovered—that only an advertising agency can maintain such a publication—Mr. Rowell, in his later years, discussed repeatedly with us the purchase of his Directory. It was not, however, until after his death that the sale was consummated, and the rights, titles, records and property of his book became ours.

The consolidated work, under the title "The American Newspaper Annual and Directory," is now the only publication of its kind—no other attempts seriously to gather newspaper statistics from original sources. This volume lists 24,217 publications. Over fifteen hundred appear for the first time in it, and nearly as many have been dropped. There are more than fifteen thousand changes from last year's volume, aside from those dealing specifically with circulations.

This standard volume presents the condition of the press of the country as it is to-day. With its unbiased circulation estimates and other data; its commercial description of each place where a newspaper is published; its 61 up-to-date, specially engraved maps showing every newspaper town; its 182 special lists of publications—daily, weekly, monthly; and those covering every important class or trade—it places at the disposal of publishers, of advertisers, of government and corporation officials, of librarians, of students and of business men in general, information not to be procured elsewhere. Once used and given an opportunity to answer questions, the book is never willingly dispensed with.

In recent years Rowell's Directory sold for $10.00 a copy. The price of the consolidated book is $5.00, carriage extra. Postage 60 cents. Orders should be addressed to the publishers,

PHILADELPHIA

A SERVICE OF GREAT VALUE TO PUBLISHERS AND ADVERTISERS

Recognizing the great value to publishers and advertisers of exact and certified statements of circulation; desiring to help on the growing movement in that direction; and, further, to improve this publication, we introduced in the fall of 1909 a plan for auditing and certifying newspaper and magazine circulations, as outlined in the following pages.

We scarcely need say that we consider this undertaking one of much interest and importance to the sellers and buyers of advertising space. It was launched in a quiet way, our preference being to await the verdict of those most concerned. Many publishers have not yet had an opportunity to avail themselves of this certification and publicity service. The first year we published the audits of 14 publications; the list of those which have since endorsed the plan of certified circulations is found on pages 5 and 6 of this section.

Circulation Certified by the American Newspaper Annual and Directory

The gratifying increase in the number of publications audited; the assurances of support which we have received from many other publications, and the appreciation which the space buyers of the country are expressing, justify us, we believe, in declaring this movement a success. In the nature of things no plan of this kind can be perfect, but this seems far in advance of anything yet devised to meet the needs of both sellers and buyers of advertising space.

The intelligent buying of advertising space calls for knowledge on three points, namely, the quantity, the quality and the price of what the seller offers. When either of these three legs is lacking from the stool, the result is bad for the buyer. It is bad for the seller, also. Assuming that the buyer is a man of sense, he always concludes that the withholding of information on any of these points is done for what the publisher conceives to be his own advantage. Being, for instance, without the seller's statement as to circulation, the buyer makes an estimate of his own, and then often drops the deal without further discussion with the publisher. It is only natural that the buyer's estimate should fall below the real figures; but it was the publisher who forced the guessing, and of course he has no ground for fault-finding if the buyer guesses below the truth—and governs himself accordingly.

This plan places at the command of the publisher the services of an experienced and reliable auditor, with the understanding that a certificate of audit, stating the circulation and bearing our seal and signature, shall be furnished the publication, and the result announced to the advertising world in the ensuing issue of this volume.

It must not be assumed that this plan is of interest only to publications of large circulation. In the mind of the buyer of space a difference of a few hundred or a few thousand, more or less, is not of the most moment—the thing that produces the most favorable and most lasting impression on him is the conviction that a publisher always tells exactly what circulation he has, and proves the statement in a way that compels belief.

Circulation Certified by the American Newspaper Annual and Directory

No matter what its circulation, this course persistently followed will bring to a publication good-will of the highest type and value.

We invite the particular attention of advertisers to the publications mentioned on the following pages. Consider what these publishers have done. It is as if each one said to the advertisers of the country:—

> "I know the circulation of my publication, and I state it honestly; but I realize that I am an interested party, and so do not ask you to take my unsupported word in a matter that means dollars and cents to you.
> "I therefore open my door and open my books to a disinterested expert in circulation matters. I pay for a searching examination, and through the work which represents the publishing industry I announce the result of the audit to the space-buyers of the country.
> "What more can I do?"

That such a position and such action entitle a publisher to the most favorable consideration of advertisers is the conviction of—

Circulation Certified by the American Newspaper Annual and Directory

DETAILS OF THE PLAN

By the audit plan and service described herein, the publisher is offered all the following:—

The Audit—A searching examination of books, lists, standing orders and all other records bearing on circulation, by a reliable auditor, experienced in both publishing and advertising and familiar with this branch of accounting, who makes a complete, detailed report to the publishers of the Newspaper Annual and Directory.

The Rating—Based on the findings in that examination and audit, the publication is given the highest rating accorded under any circumstances, not only in the general catalogue section of the Annual and Directory, but also wherever in any special classification its name and description appear; it being in each instance set forth, in bold face type, that the net circulation given has been proved by the American Newspaper Annual and Directory.

The Enrollment—Every publisher receiving this service is given valuable standing with the advertisers of the country by the inclusion of his publication in the list of those which prove their circulation by means of this audit.

The Certificate—Formal attestation concerning the examination and audit is provided in a handsome photogravure certificate, original in design and convincing in text, size 18 x 24 inches, on heavy parchment paper, cream tint, done in sepia ink, signed and sealed by the publishers of the Annual and Directory. This certificate, framed appropriately, is delivered to the publisher, to be hung in his office and testify to the standing of his medium.

The Facsimile—A photo-engraved reproduction of the certificate, reduced to the size of a full page, is inserted in still another section of the Annual and Directory, to which the advertisers who consult the book are referred for more detailed information.

The Book—Finally, every publisher who orders an audit receives a copy of the Annual and Directory in which it appears. This book, placed within reach, will answer many questions for him, for his staff, and for those who patronize his office.

INTRODUCTION.

In this issue of the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER ANNUAL AND DIRECTORY we have listed 24,235 publications, an increase of 146 over last year.

We show in this issue 11,219 towns where newspapers are published, an increase of 170 over last year. This volume contains 1,573 new publications. The suspensions and consolidations during the year make the net gain 146, as shown above.

DAILY NEWSPAPERS.—Following the General Catalogue is a complete list of all dailies in the United States and their possessions and the Dominion of Canada, which are issued continuously throughout the year, distinguishing the morning and evening issues by the use of Roman and italic type respectively and also indicating by an asterisk (*) all that have Sunday editions whether under the same or different titles.

MONTHLY AND WEEKLY PUBLICATIONS.—These are comprised in three lists—viz: Magazines, including literary, illustrated and humorous weeklies of general circulation; Women's Publications of Home Circulation, and Mail Order Journals. Attention is invited to the special note on page 1133 relative to this group.

CLASS PUBLICATIONS.—These lists have, as usual, been carefully revised from the press proofs of the catalogue. Several new lists have been added, one of which gives the names of papers devoted to "New Thought;" a subject in which many persons are interested, judging from inquiries we have received.

POPULATION.—The following states have taken count of population since the United States Census of 1900, viz.: Florida, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming in 1905, and Michigan in 1904. No report was published by Oregon. The population figures of Kansas are from the reports of the county assessors for 1910, those of Oklahoma from the United States Census of 1907, and those of Washington are from a report issued by the State Bureau of Statistics for the year 1907.

While the 1910 census figures for most of the states were not completed in time to be used in this edition, we are able, through the courtesy of the Director of the Census, to give the 1910 figures for all cities of 25,000 or more, with a few exceptions. We have had the 1910 census figures complete for Connecticut, the District of Columbia, Rhode Island, Vermont and Porto Rico; in Arizona, Delaware, Massachusetts and New Mexico, all the county populations are from the 1910 census and a large part of the cities are either 1910 figures or recent estimates. In several other states we have all the 1910 county figures. In all cases we have given 1910 figures where we could procure them before going to press. Where the figures in any state are chiefly derived from earlier censuses, those from the 1910 census are indicated by the character (‖).

Outside of the states mentioned, the population is taken mainly from the official reports of the United States Census of 1900 and the Canadian Census of 1901. The population of all cities and towns of 10,000 and over in the United States was amended in 1907 in accordance with a bulletin issued by the Census Bureau giving the estimated population of these places in 1906. Figures marked with an asterisk (*) signify that they are estimated from local or other reports.

On pages 20 to 30 inclusive will be found the population of all places in the United States and Canada which have 3,000 inhabitants and upward, arranged alphabetically by states and by groups in each state as follows: Towns of from 3,000 to 5,000, 5,000 to 10,000, 10,000 to 20,000, 20,000 to 50,000 and 50,000 upward. As these tables were made after the catalogue was printed, we have been able to give the 1910 figures for a number of towns which have older figures in the catalogue.

MAPS.—The maps have been carefully revised to date, so that practically every newspaper town contained in the ANNUAL will be found on them, and each town indexed so that it may be readily located if reference to it is desired. The reference follows the population of each place, as (G 5), etc., the letters referring to vertical and the figures to horizontal divisions. To facilitate reference where the county in which the town is situated is large, or a number of counties are contained within any one of the divisions, and the place desired is located on, or near the horizontal line, we have marked it thus, (G $5\frac{1}{2}$,) etc. All places so marked will be found very near the line (above or below) between the number given and the next higher one.

STATE HEADINGS.—The state headings have been carefully revised and brought up to the present time, giving concise and valuable statements of the wonderful resources and growth of the country. The agricultural and other departments, and many of the publishers in the various states, have furnished much statistical and other information for this work, and we thank them for their assistance.

TOWN HEADINGS.—These headings have also been carefully revised. The distance of the town, and in most cases the direction from some prominent point is given; its means of communication by railroad, water or stage; whether it is a telegraph and express station or not, and if not, what the nearest telegraph or express point is. If a place has a bank the word "Bank" appears, if more than one, "Banks," if there is no bank in the place the nearest, or most accessible, or the usual banking town for that point is given. Then follows the description of the place itself, setting forth as fully as possible its advantages of location, the nature of the surrounding district, with its productions, agricultural or otherwise, the leading manufactures, and educational and other public institutions.

SUB-EDITIONS.—We endeavor to distinguish between independent and distinct publications and those which are simply reprints of some other paper, usually with little or no change beyond the name. All papers so issued, as far as it was possible to trace them, are entered in the Catalogue under the name of the leading paper, and, under the place of apparent publication, the name of the sub-edition is given with a reference to the paper issuing it. It is very difficult at times to determine positively this question of similarity of issue. Publishers of such papers are frequently unwilling to give information or to send sample copies, and it is possible that in some instances an error may have been made either in quoting a paper as a sub-edition of another, when it would be fairly entitled to an independent entry if all the facts were known, or in giving a paper an independent standing when it is not entitled to it. Every effort however, is made to guard against either of these possibilities.

PUBLICATIONS EXCLUDED.—In accordance with our usual custom there are several hundred publications which we do not insert, having no value for the general advertiser or the general public. Among them are those issued by private and high schools, the smaller colleges, local church papers, papers issued by business houses primarily for the exploitation of their own goods, and generally known as "house organs," and publications issued in the interest of institutions, unless having an influence outside of the particular one by or for which they are published. Care has also been exercised in the selection of newspapers and periodicals which do rightly come within the scope of this work. Experience teaches that it is not wise to insert every paper when it is first issued, for while the exclusion may be unfortunate in a few instances, much dead matter is thereby kept out of the book; as many of these ventures have very short lives.

NAMES OF EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.—No labor has been spared in the effort to have this department of the work as accurate as possible at the time of going to press; the continual changes of ownership and places of publication, however, necessarily preclude absolute accuracy.

CIRCULATION.

The form sent to every publisher when the revision of the ANNUAL commences contains the following:

By CIRCULATION we do not mean the number of readers, on a basis of five (or any other number of) readers to each copy of the paper; nor do we mean sheets, nor impressions. The legitimate circulation of a newspaper or a periodical is its regular, necessary issue, sent to names on its honestly compiled mailing list or subscription book; sold over the counter, or through news agents or news boys. Returned and unused papers should not be included in the count.

Our understanding of the term "CIRCULATION" is embodied in the above paragraph, The word "AVERAGE" is liable to be misinterpreted. It is the custom of some publishers to issue occasional large extra editions; to add these and the regular editions together for a given time, and divide the total by the number of days, weeks or months, as the case may be; contained within that period. This is not what we desire. By "AVERAGE CIRCULATION" we mean that number of complete copies which usually fills the needs of the mailing lists, and the demand either in or out of the office.

Averages made up by including one or more large editions are not available; the only fair average is one which is made from a uniform, or a slightly fluctuating circulation.

Statements in detail enable us to see to what extent special or extra editions figure in the issues of a given period, and also to what extent the circulation fluctuates or steadily increases; when such statements are furnished, publishers may rely on being rated fairly, and they will have no cause of complaint against us, if, in the absence of such statements, our ratings are inadequate.

Ratings will not be increased, as a rule, except upon receipt of satisfactory, signed statements. They may, however, be reduced where the publishers' continued failure to furnish such statements makes it necessary for us to estimate his circulation from outside information.

SWORN DETAILED STATEMENTS covering a period of not less than six months preceding date of report we consider the strongest kind of statements that can be made. All such are printed in bold face type throughout the book, and marked with a star (). Detailed statements, not sworn to, are printed in plain figures and marked by a star (). A double dagger (‡) indicates the publisher's claim unsupported by either affidavit or detailed statement. Our own estimates are set in plain figures and unmarked.

While we would greatly prefer a detailed statement of issues for a whole year, yet records for six months or more, will, if properly signed by the publisher or some responsible person for him, ordinarily entitle the paper to a rating in accordance therewith. We say ordinarily, because we do not believe that the rendering of such a statement is incontestable proof of its correctness, and there are instances in which such statements, even when supported by affidavits, could not be accepted in the face of positive information to the contrary; but we believe that such instances are comparatively few in number, and in the large majority of cases a detailed statement covering a period of several months, properly signed, is prima facie evidence of its reliability.

It frequently happens that the publishers when sending in their orders and copy for advertisements in the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER ANNUAL AND DIRECTORY enclose therewith a statement of circulation, generally accompanied by a request that the ratings of their papers in the ANNUAL may be made to agree with the figures thus given. This will not be done. Circulation ratings are fixed before the solicitation of advertisements begins, from reports made out in proper form, and signed by publishers, or, in the event of failure to receive such reports, from any believed-to-be-authentic information in the editorial office.

Although the greater number of ratings are determined when copy is being made in July and August we are always willing to revise the figures as late as October 1st, provided acceptable statements are sent to the editor of the ANNUAL, entirely apart from any consideration of the subject of advertising therein, with which he has nothing to do. Advertisements, however, being received up to the time of going to press, not infrequently contain much later information than can possibly be given in the Catalogue. This will explain, in many cases, what would otherwise appear to be discrepancies between the statements made in the advertisements and the ratings given the papers in the various lists.

Circulation is not given in the following instances — where the paper has been established during the current year, or is entered for the first time in the ANNUAL; where the information received is unsatisfactory, or the reports are conflicting; or where publishers have requested omission, in which case the word "Decline" is printed in the circulation column.

We aim at strict impartiality in this important part of our work, and desiring always to avoid injustice to publishers, in our efforts to procure accurate and trustworthy information for advertisers, we will gladly receive communications from any who may consider themselves unfairly dealt with in any statement in this volume, and will cheerfully correct in future editions any mistakes made in the present one, if furnished with satisfactory evidence of error.

Papers which are believed to decline general advertising are designated in the Catalogue by the words "No Advts." in the circulation column.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENTS.—An alphabetical index to the advertisements will be found commencing with page 6. A careful examination of these advertisements will result in the acquisition of a mass of valuable information which, for the sake of compactness and facility of reference, must necessarily be excluded from the Catalogue. We invite attention to the article on this subject on the insert preceding the advertisement section.

THE REVISION of this book for the edition of 1912 has already been begun, and newspaper publishers will confer a favor by notifying us of the establishment, suspension or change of any papers within their knowledge, or by calling our attention to any inaccuracies in newspaper descriptions, town headings, state headings or any other department of the ANNUAL.

HOW THIS DIRECTORY IS MADE

Sometimes a publisher asks us the question, "Why don't you revise the ANNUAL every year?" Our answer is, "We do."

We try to make this book perfect, not because we hope to attain perfection, but because we know that by striving for perfection we shall grow better all the while. The publisher with the too convenient pigeon-hole is the greatest obstacle in our way. By the system we follow, no publisher can justly say that we have neglected to describe his paper correctly. If its description is incorrect, it is because he failed to give us correct information, when we gave him his annual opportunity to do so.

Every year, a printed proof of the entry of each and every one of the 24,000 newspapers in the ANNUAL is cut out, mounted on a blank, and mailed to the publisher, with the request that he make any necessary corrections and return it to us. This blank also provides space for his circulation figures. Another blank, printed and ruled for a detailed statement, is also sent him, as well as a stamped and addressed envelope in which to send us the facts. It costs a publisher small effort and no money to have his paper's correct description and his circulation statement properly set before the thousands of discriminating advertisers who use the ANNUAL. An increasing number of publishers take advantage of this opportunity each year, although there are still too many who indulge the propensity for slipping things into pigeon-holes, to their detriment and loss.

This sending of proof slips and blanks to each paper for each edition of the ANNUAL is only a part of the work of revision. The description of each of the 11,000 towns named in the ANNUAL is also sent out for correction every year. Most of these come back, some with changes, more with the information that no changes are needed.

In preparing the 1911 Edition we found 3,241 new journalistic ventures of such apparent importance as to warrant our sending for copies. We received 2,021 of these. Of the remainder, some were merged with others, some reached us too late to get into the ANNUAL, and still others died in infancy.

Of the 2,021 received, there were many which, although no doubt of considerable value and interest to their readers, were not considered of sufficient importance to be entered in the ANNUAL. These were papers evidently issued for campaign purposes, or published by single churches, by schools and other institutions, or as house organs, etc. As a result of careful investigation of those received, 1,573 were judged as worthy of being listed in the ANNUAL, and consequently make their bow to the advertisers of the country in this volume. We wish them all success, and trust they will annually fill out and return their statement blanks with care and promptitude, eschewing the pigeon-hole habit.

Of the fifteen or sixteen thousand newspapers whose publishers felt sufficient interest in their correct representation to return our blanks, many were found to have changed in size, price, issue, name, politics or ownership. A conservative estimate of the number of these changes made every year from the above and other sources would be at least 15,000 This does not include circulation changes, which probably reached 20,000; the insertion of new papers, nor the taking out of dead ones.

This summary of the changes made in a single year instances the truth of the statement of the late George P. Rowell, the first publisher of a newspaper directory; when he declared that a last year's newspaper directory had about as much value as a cancelled postal stamp.

Our rule is to make no changes upon hearsay. We receive every year thousands of communications relating to newspapers, in the shape of clippings, correspondence and voluntary items of information from other sources. Every one, unless coming directly from the paper concerned, is verified before the information is used for the new ANNUAL.

The work of making a new ANNUAL each year calls for a large outlay for postage. The postal matter used in the preparation of the 1911 edition included 33,000 two cent stamps, about 28,000 stamped return envelopes, 5,000 stamped wrappers, 500 single postal cards, 4,000 double postal cards, about 2,000 Canadian stamps and sundry West Indian, Cuban and other stamps. These stamps and cards were used solely for the work of revision, and do not include any of those used in selling the ANNUAL, or in connection with the advertising in it, these being matters entirely outside the province of the department having charge of the editorial work on the book.

We have given much time, thought, effort and cash to the preparation of the ANNUAL AND DIRECTORY. We do so every year. We have tried to avoid errors of every kind, but in the listing of over 24,000 newspapers, with ten separate and distinct items of information about each one; and of 11,000 towns with a dozen or more particulars of each and in the making up of a hundred and eighty-two lists of different classes of periodicals; it would be a marvel indeed if every one of the half million distinct pieces of information should be absolutely correct. We shall consider it a favor to be informed of any error that exists.

We bespeak from our friends an appreciation of the merits of the book and a frank and friendly criticism of what they consider its faults.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS

GIVING THE PLACES IN WHICH THEY ARE PUBLISHED IN THE UNITED STATES, TERRITORIES, INSULAR POSSESSIONS, AND DOMINION OF CANADA. ARRANGED ALPHABETICALLY IN STATES ETC.; A DESCRIPTION OF EACH PLACE, ITS LOCATION, RAILROAD AND OTHER MEANS OF COMMUNICATION, TELEGRAPH AND EXPRESS ROUTES AND BANKING FACILITIES; THE COUNTIES IN WHICH THE PLACES ARE SITUATED, WITH THE LOCATION AND POPULATION OF EACH; AND, IN CONNECTION WITH THE PAPERS, THE FREQUENCY OF ISSUE, POLITICS, DENOMINATION OR GENERAL CHARACTER, YEAR OF ESTABLISHMENT, SIZE, SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, CIRCULATION AND NAMES OF EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.

Populations, unmarked, in the United States are from the United States Census of 1900 or 1910 or State Census of 1904 and 1905, in Kansas from the reports of the county assessors for 1910, and in Washington from the report of the State Bureau of Statistics for 1907. The figures for cities of 10,000 and over in states having 1900 Census figures are from the Amended Census Bulletin of 1906. Canadian populations are from the Census of 1901. All marked with an asterisk (*) are estimated. In the states where most of the population figures are from earlier sources of information, those from the 1910 Census are marked with the character (‖).

Circulation statements for which affidavits have been furnished, and the net average circulations of those papers whose circulation records have been audited by the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER ANNUAL AND DIRECTORY, are printed in bold-face figures; detailed statements are designated by a six-pointed star (*); signed statements, neither detailed nor sworn to, are designated by a double-dagger (‡); those unmarked are estimated.

Where circulation figures are omitted, we have been unable to obtain any satisfactory information, or the paper was established during the current year, or is entered for the first time in the ANNUAL, or else is issued for advertising purposes. The word "decline" indicates that the publishers have declined or objected to furnish any statement for publication.

County seats are indicated by a dagger (†).

ALABAMA.

Population 2,017,877.

STATE CAPITAL, MONTGOMERY.

ALABAMA is bounded north by Tennessee, east by Georgia and Florida, south by Florida and the Gulf of Mexico, and west by Mississippi. Its extreme length north to south is 336 miles; breadth varying from about 150 to 200 miles; land area, 51,540 square miles. The Alleghany range enters the state at the northeast and extends toward the centre, finally losing itself in mere hills; then follows a tract of rolling prairies, interspersed with pine barrens and exceedingly rich alluvial bottoms, including the cane brake region, one of the richest cotton producing districts in the world. From this to the Florida border and the Gulf the land is gently undulating. This part is covered with forests of yellow pine, which is growing valuable, since the available supply of better timber has become small. Over a billion feet is cut annually. The product of naval stores here is very considerable. The cut over pine lands are being settled by white farmers and good crops of corn, cotton, truck and fruit are grown. North of this is a broad belt of rich black soil, constituting the great cotton producing section of the state. The soil then becomes sandy and poor, but abundant water power renders it capable of becoming a fine manufacturing district. The mineral region occupies the northeast part, while the northwest is a good agricultural and stock raising country. The mountain district and the valley of the Tennessee possess fine forests of hardwood timber. Cotton is grown throughout the state, but mainly in the central belt alluded to, 1,405,000 bales being produced in 1908. Tobacco is also grown everywhere and the light sandy loams of the central and southern portions produce a remarkably good quality of wrappers, of both the Sumatra and Cuban varieties. Very fine wheat is grown in the north and northeast; rice in the south; corn largely all over the state. Dairy products, fruits, wool, oats, and sweet potatoes are produced in considerable quantities and immense quantities of truck of all kinds, berries and small fruits are grown and shipped north, the climate and other local conditions being peculiarly favorable to this industry. Manufacturing and mineral development have become very important. The chief manufactures are iron, steel and their products, machinery and heavy castings, iron and soil pipe, cotton gins, flour, lumber, leather, cotton goods, yarns, thread, turpentine, etc. Cotton manufacturing is growing fast and there are nearly a million spindles in the various mills in the state. Alabama's export and import trade centers at Mobile. Cotton, lumber, iron and naval stores are the chief exports. Extensive beds of brown and red iron ore are found in the counties of Jefferson, Bibb, Cleburne, Blount, St. Clair, Franklin, Shelby, Talladega and Etowah, covering a total area of over 7,500 square miles. Coal deposits are found over a large section of North Alabama in and around the Birmingham district, the total area of coal bearing lands being estimated at 5,500 square miles. Bituminous coal of several kinds is found and the mining of it now gives employment to many thousand men. The state's coal production in 1907 was 14,417,863 tons; iron ore, 3,995,098 tons; lime, 97,402 tons; pig iron, 1,674,848 tons; coke, 3,217,068 tons. Birmingham is the center of the iron and coal region. Here are situated large steel works, many furnaces and scores of foundries, machine shops and pipe plants. The manufacture of basic steel from Alabama ores has proved a practical success and steel rails are now being manufactured at Ensley and other towns in Jefferson county, to the amount of about 50,000 tons each month. Considerable gold has been mined; silver and copper are also found; potter's, porcelain and fire clays, hydraulic limestone, manganese, mica, graphite, asbestos, emery and many other minerals exist in considerable quantities; there are various building stones. The statuary granite and white marble of Coosa county and the variegated marbles of Talladega and adjacent counties are not surpassed by any in the country. In Fayette and other counties natural gas is found.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Alabama is 258, including 26 daily, 6 semi-weekly, 208 weekly, 9 semi-monthly and 9 monthly. The places of publication number 138, of which 69, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

ALASKA.

Population, *70,000.

TERRITORIAL CAPITAL, SITKA.

ALASKA is bounded north by the Arctic Ocean, east by the Yukon district of Canada and British Columbia, south by the Pacific Ocean, and west by Behring's Sea and Strait, and numerous islands. It has a total area of about 590,884 square miles, its greatest length, from north to south, being 1100 miles and greatest breadth over 700 miles. The northern half is low with great swampy morasses along the streams, running back into low, rolling hills. Native Indians inhabit that section, living along the streams in small bands. The southern half is mountainous, and along the southeast coast are some of the highest mountain peaks on the American continent; Mount St. Elias, the principal one, is over 18,000 feet. Near the center of the territory is Mt. McKinley, the loftiest on the entire continent, summit over 20,000 feet. The southwesterly section comprises the peninsula of Aliaska and the Aleutian islands, the latter the seat of the valuable fur seal and sea otter fisheries. The production of the latter fur has greatly decreased, as the animal is now almost extinct. This district is mountainous and actively volcanic. The principal industry at present is mining, the country being seamed by the largest quartz veins in the world. The production of gold in 1908 reached a value of over $20,000,000. Valuable deposits of copper are also being developed, 2,197 tons being produced in 1908. Coal, which was first discovered in 1855 by the Russians, has been worked to a small extent, the output in 1909 being about 10,000 tons, all lignitic and bituminous. Large deposits of anthracite of high quality have recently been discovered, as well as new fields of bituminous, the new coal fields covering an area of almost a thousand square miles, and it is believed that Alaska, with improved transportation facilities, will be able to supply the needs of the whole Pacific coast. Some small deposits of petroleum have been found, also gypsum, antimony and graphite. Marble is quarried on Prince of Wales Island. The fisheries in 1908 employed 256 vessels of a total of 64,189 tons, and 13,337 persons, the product being worth $11,847,443. Over $10,000,000 is invested in this industry. The agricultural industries in Alaska are confined to a few small truck farms near the cities, but the Department of Agriculture has established experiment stations in various places and oats and wheat have been brought to maturity in favored situations. Some cattle have been raised on the Aleutian Islands, and it is believed that the enterprise will be successful. The Department of Agriculture is also raising sheep there. The exports amount to over $30,000,000 per year, and consist chiefly of gold, canned salmon and other fish, copper ore and furs. The imports, chiefly hardware, machinery and provisions, have a value of $17,000,000 yearly. About 27,000,000 acres of forest land are set apart as national forests under the care of the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture and their timber will be cut under the supervision of the department in such a manner as to make them a permanent source of supply. The Seal Islands in Behring Sea pay a large yearly revenue to the government. The principal towns are Sitka, the capital, and Juneau, the metropolis and supply point. The coast, from the southern boundary to Cape Spencer, is lined with a continuous chain of islands, between which and the main land are salt water channels, navigable for the largest sized steam ships. In the interior is one of the largest rivers in the world, the Yukon, which has a course of between 1,500 and 1,600 miles through the territory, navigable the entire distance, and which is 60 miles wide at the mouth.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Alaska is 27, including 12 daily, 1 semi-weekly and 14 weekly. The places of publication number 14.

ARIZONA.

Population 204,354.

TERRITORIAL CAPITAL, PHŒNIX.

ARIZONA is bounded north by Utah and Nevada, south by Mexico, east by New Mexico, and west by California and Nevada; length, north to south, 390 miles, breadth averaging about 300 miles; land area, 113,000 square miles. It lies entirely within the valley of the Colorado, which stream forms nearly all the western boundary. The streams generally flow through deeply eroded chasms, among them being the remarkable "Grand Canon of the Colorado." The soil of the valleys is very fertile when irrigated; and the mountain lands are well adapted to stock raising and wool growing. The raising of ostriches is one of the great industries of the territory, which has more than eighty per cent of all the ostriches in the United States. The ostrich farms are all in the Salt River valley, which seems to be peculiarly well adapted to their needs. Over 5,000 birds are in the valley, and feathers of the finest quality are abundantly produced. Their principal food is alfalfa, and that they thrive on it is shown by the fact that nearly 2,000 young birds were successfully raised in 1909. Under the national irrigation law, the Salt River valley, in which Phœnix is located, will be the scene of a large work in government reclamation of arid lands. The Tonto dam, which is under construction for this purpose, will be one of the largest in the world, and will supply irrigating water for 180,000 acres of land which has been compared to that in the valley of the Nile for fertility. About three-fourths of the work has been completed. Oranges, lemons, grape fruit, canteloupes, dates and deciduous fruits thrive, as well as every variety of fruits and vegetables which will grow in the temperate and semi-tropic zones. Alfalfa and grain are the principal crops grown on the irrigated lands, and with the division of the farms into smaller holdings, the dairy industry is increasing and will soon take a prominent position. Sugar beets have been successfully grown, and the acreage will be considerably increased as soon as the factories can take care of the crops. "Dry farming" has been carried on with good results in some parts of the territory, and fair crops of grain and fruit have been secured, but the results are yet somewhat doubtful. It is believed, however, that the establishment of an experimental station in the district suited to this branch of agriculture will result in discoveries that will be of great benefit. The chief wealth of the territory, however, lies in its mineral deposits. Gold, silver, lead, and copper abound, and the mining and working of gold and copper ores is at present the leading industry. Gold to the value of $2,500,000, silver, worth over $1,500,000 and 145,084 tons of copper were produced in 1908. An extensive system of good roads is provided for under a special tax and will be of material assistance in opening up the territory to settlement.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Arizona is 71, including 18 daily, 49 weekly, 1 semi-monthly and 3 monthly. The places of publication number 32, of which 14, designated by a dagger (†) are county seats.

ARKANSAS.

Population 1,421,574.

STATE CAPITAL, LITTLE ROCK.

ARKANSAS is bounded north by Missouri, east by Missouri, Tennessee, and Mississippi south by Louisiana, southwest by Texas, and west by Oklahoma; greatest length from north to south, 240 miles, and breadth from 170 to 250 miles; land area, 53,045 square miles. The eastern part is low and level, originally covered with dense forests and many swamps and lakes, and frequently more or less inundated by the Mississippi, Arkansas, and other rivers, but this part of the state is being drained, and the land, which is of great fertility, brought into use, a great part of it being devoted to the culture of rice. The surface rises toward the centre, where it is hilly and diversified with forests and rolling prairies. Further west are branches of the Ozark Mountains, comprising the Black Hills in the north, Cane Hills in the northwest, and the Ouachita Hills in the south. The valley of the St. Francis, in the northeast, like the Mississippi valley, is gradually being drained; the valley of the Arkansas, from the Oklahoma line entirely across the state, is unsurpassed as a cotton producing country; the valley of the White in the north, abounding in forests, is also rich in agriculture and has deposits of zinc and marble. In the southern part of the state are the Saline, Ouachita, Little Missouri and Red rivers, while in the southeast the Bayou Bartholomew drains a large area, giving it communication with the Mississippi. The soil is very varied in character, and its elevation reaches up 2,500 feet, so that almost every crop which can be grown between the lakes and the Gulf of Mexico can be successfully grown in Arkansas. The river bottoms are very fertile, and yield large crops of cotton, corn, sweet potatoes, rice, tobacco and fruit. Over 1,000,000 bales of cotton are grown annually. The soil on the uplands, particularly in the north, produces good crops of wheat, oats, and fruit, especially apples. Two crops of potatoes are frequently grown in one year. Cotton is the chief staple; corn next. Rice is becoming one of the state's great products, and the small grains and hay are important crops. Stock raising is growing rapidly, the mild winters making it unnecessary to house the stock during that season. The principal manufactures are cotton seed oil, rice and rice flour, flour and grist mill products, cotton gins, leather, wool carding, furniture, wagons and lumber. The production of hardwood lumber for cabinet purposes is an important industry. Coal, argentiferous galena, zinc, copper, and iron, marble, grindstone, granite and kaolin are among the minerals. Diamonds have been discovered in Pike county, and the mines are being worked by English capital. Good coal is mined in Crawford, Conway, Franklin, Johnson, Perry, Pope, Pulaski, Sebastian, Scott, Washington, White, and Yell counties. Silver is found in connection with galena in Pulaski, and Sevier counties, and with lead in Benton, Carroll, Independence, Izard, Lawrence, Madison, Marion, Newton, Pulaski, Randolph, Searcy, and Washington counties; excellent marble, especially in Madison county. Slate for all purposes is quarried in Pike, Pulaski, Polk, Garland and Sevier counties; Garland county has extensive quarries of Arkansas hone or oilstone. In Pulaski county, a few miles south of Little Rock, very extensive quarries of blue granite have been opened up, and valuable discoveries of iron have also been made. The mineral deposits in general are being rapidly developed, and much eastern capital is being invested. Among the mineral springs, the "Hot Springs of Arkansas," at Hot Springs are the most renowned. There are also others celebrated for their medicinal qualities at Eureka Springs, Heber and Searcy.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Arkansas is 310, including 32 daily, 6 semi-weekly, 256 weekly, 1 semi-monthly, 12 monthly, 1 bi-monthly, 1 five times a year and 1 quarterly. The places of publication number 167, of which 84, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

CALIFORNIA.

Population 1,648,049.

STATE CAPITAL, SACRAMENTO.

CALIFORNIA is bounded north by Oregon, east by Nevada and Arizona, south by Lower California, and west by the Pacific Ocean. A line drawn through its centre, following the curves of the eastern and western borders, would measure about 770 miles. Its greatest breadth is about 330 miles; least breadth, 150 miles; average breadth, 230 miles; land area, 155,980 square miles. It is the largest state in the Union except Texas. The surface is traversed by two great ranges, the Sierra Nevada in the east and the Coast Range in the west, while between them are the beautiful and fertile valleys of the Sacramento and San Joaquin, which form what is practically one immense basin, over 400 miles long. The Yosemite and other valleys are on the western slope of the Sierra Nevadas, and the entire range teems with minerals, so also does the Coast range to a lesser degree. The extreme north is an elevated mountain region, with a great deal of good land, and is becoming celebrated for timber, mines, and fresh fruits, such as apples, etc. The soil of a large part of the state is very deep and rich, and the yield of agricultural products generally is very great. Irrigation, originally introduced by the mission fathers, has been largely increased since the American occupation. The Mormons introduced a very elaborate system in San Bernardino county in 1853, and the big Riverside Canal was built in 1869. A large project at Orland in the Sacramento valley, under construction by the government, is nearly completed. Some large private enterprises in the San Joaquin valley have been finished and are now in operation. California occupies an eminent position in agriculture. Her 125,000 farms produced in 1908 an average of $2,632 per farm, the highest average in the United States. For every kind of fruit that grows in semi-tropical and temperate climates, California is, in soil and climate, pre-eminently favorable. The wheat crop was 11,680,000 bushels in 1908. Barley exceeds 22,000,000 bushels. Cattle and sheep are largely raised, dairy cows number over 3,000,000, other cattle and calves, over 1,100,000; sheep, over 5,000,000. There are several celebrated stock farms, some of which have produced famous trotters. The wool clip is estimated at 22,000,000 pounds. There are several "ostrich farms" in the state, and the feathers produced are equal to the best of those imported from Africa. The largest are at South Pasadena, where there are about 1,000 birds. Several others at different places in the state have each 100 birds or more. It is estimated that each ostrich will produce each year feathers of a value of about $30 raw, and $100 after undergoing the various treatments necessary to prepare them for use. The yield of raisins is about 115,000,000 pounds; the average yield of wine, 40,000,000 gallons, and of brandy, 500,000 gallons. Dried fruits are extensively produced. The yield of prunes is 115,000,000 pounds; other dried fruits, over 70,000,000 pounds; fresh fruits, 420,000,000 pounds; nuts, 20,000,000 pounds; oranges, 12,000,000 boxes; lemons, 1,200,000 boxes; canned fruits, 2,500,000 cases. Honey, tobacco, corn, barley, oats and hops are raised in various parts of the state. In beet sugar, the state is surpassed only by Colorado. The 1909 output was over 88,000 tons. There are also produced 35,000,000 pounds of butter, 7,000,000 pounds of cheese, 21,000,000 pounds of asparagus, nearly 120,000,000 pounds of beans, and over 4,000,000 bushels of potatoes. Nearly 800,000,000 feet of lumber are produced. The olive is attracting a great deal of attention, and justly so, as the state furnishes on its hills and mountain slopes the soil exactly suited to its production, and the fruit produced in the California olive groves is fully equal to that from the Mediterranean. The yield of fruits of all kinds, exclusive of home consumption, has a value of over $55,000,000. California is famous for her wheat, fruit, vineyard produce and agricultural products generally, scarcely less than for her yield of the precious metals. The gold produced in 1908 was worth over $19,000,000, silver over $900,000, and the copper output was over 18,000 tons. It is estimated that the production of mercury is over 2,000,000 pounds annually. There are numerous other minerals, including valuable deposits of lead, coal, copper, iron, chromium, antimony, borax, rock salt, soda, potash, sulphur, etc. Petroleum is produced to the value of $15,000,000, while natural gas is being used at Sacramento, Stockton, Santa Barbara, Redwood City, and other places. Manufacturing interests are growing rapidly, the principal being lumber, flour, woolens, wine, brandy, tobacco, cigars, machinery, and metallic wares. The annual value of the fisheries is about $6,000,000. A large number of interurban electric lines have been built within the past few years, especially in the vicinity of San Francisco, Los Angeles and Sacramento, one of them from Sacramento to Chico being ninety miles long.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in California is 803, including 158 daily, 4 tri-weekly, 31 semi-weekly, 495 weekly, 1 fortnightly, 11 semi-monthly, 99 monthly, 1 eight times a year, 2 bi-monthly, and 1 quarterly. The places of publication number 302, of which 56, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

COLORADO.

Population 615,570.

STATE CAPITAL, DENVER.

COLORADO is bounded north by Nebraska and Wyoming, east by Nebraska and Kansas, south by Oklahoma and New Mexico, and west by Utah. Length, from east to west, 380 miles, breadth, 280 miles; land area, 103,645 square miles. The surface consists of three divisions—the mountains and parks, the foothills and the plains. It is intersected near the center by the main range of the Rocky Mountains, otherwise known as the "Continental Divide," and including the highest peaks, among which are Pike's and Long's, Mts. Torrey, Lincoln, Gray, Yale and Harvard, the Spanish Peaks, etc. The mountains enclose wonderful valleys or basins known as parks, many of which are small, but others larger than some entire states. These parks are well timbered, and abound with beautiful scenery, being diversified with low hills and ridges, which contain the sources of all the great rivers that rise in the state. The eastern part of Colorado is an immense plain which was for many years devoted to cattle raising, but is now being rapidly developed into one of the finest agricultural districts in the country. Much of the land will always no doubt be better fitted for grazing than for other uses, but the cultivated area is steadily increasing. Extensive irrigating ditches have been constructed in all parts of the state, and are being rapidly added to. The total length of canals and ditches is now over 20,000 miles; acres irrigated, at the end of 1909, 4,000,000. Where water can be had the soil is very productive. The leading farm products are wheat, corn, sugar beets, alfalfa, barley, oats, flax, hay, melons, potatoes, fruits, honey, garden and dairy products. The annual yield of wheat is 6,000,000 bushels; of oats, over 7,000,000; of corn, over 2,500,000, and of potatoes about 2,500 carloads. Colorado stands first in production of beet sugar, the 1909 output being 140,000 tons, worth $12,600,000, over twenty-five per cent. of the total production of the country. Fruit growing is becoming one of the leading industries. In 1909 8170 carloads of fruit were exported, 5100 being apples. The total fruit crop for that year was valued at $7,500,000, double the value of any previous year. The western slope is particularly adapted to the apple, more than two-thirds of the state's crop coming from that region. Berries and other small fruits do well. Cattle, sheep and hog raising are among the chief agricultural pursuits. Colorado is estimated to have 18,000,000 sheep, and 1,300,000 cattle, while the wool clip is over 10,000,000 pounds. Lumbering is an important industry, but the mining of gold, silver and other metals is a chief source of wealth. The annual production of the precious and semi-precious metals is very large, the gold alone produced in 1908 being valued at $22,871,000. Over $5,000,000 worth of silver was produced in the same year. Other mineral products are also abundant. Large beds of anthracite, lignite, bituminous and semi-bituminous coal, of good quality, exist, the total extent of coal-bearing strata in the state being estimated at more than 20,000 square miles. The production of coal in 1909 was 10,736,459 tons, including 60,944 tons of anthracite. Petroleum has been discovered, and there are about 125 producing wells in the Florence field alone. Copper, cement, slate, sandstone, marble, granite, fire clay and manganese are being worked, and the iron of the state is manufactured into steel and iron rails. Thirty-three separate minerals are produced in commercial quantities, and the total annual mineral production is valued at $50,000,000.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Colorado is 411, including 47 daily, 6 semi-weekly, 313 weekly, 1 semi-monthly, 43 monthly and 1 bi-monthly. The places of publication number 181, of which 58, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

CONNECTICUT.

Population 1,114,756.

STATE CAPITAL, HARTFORD.

CONNECTICUT is bounded north by Massachusetts, east by Rhode Island, south by Long Island Sound, and west by New York. Its average length from east to west is 86 miles; its average breadth, 55 miles; land area, 5,004 square miles. The eastern part is principally composed of rounded hills, which, though stony, afford rich pasturage; and the valleys support a thrifty agricultural and manufacturing population. The Connecticut valley, near the river, and at a distance from the Sound, is very fertile. In the south the land is broken and the soil sandy and gravelly, but when well manured yields good crops of potatoes, rye, oats, and corn. In the west the surface is rough and the hills are abrupt. There are several good harbors on the coast, and a large business is done in oyster fishing and in the taking of fish for oil and fish-guano. Agriculture employs less than one-third of the working population and the capital invested in agriculture is estimated at $115,000,000. Dairy products and hay are the principal staples of the east and west. Tobacco is largely grown, chiefly in the Connecticut valley, which produces the finest cigar wrappers grown in the United States. In 1909, 12,000 acres were planted, resulting in a crop of about 19,200,000 pounds, with a total value, at the farm, of over $3,000,000. Corn, rye, oats, and potatoes are grown in nearly all sections. The land near the large cities and towns is chiefly devoted to market gardening. The total value of the agricultural products is about $30,000,000. The Connecticut river is open to steamboat navigation from its mouth to Hartford. The Thames river is likewise navigable by Sound steamers as far as its formation by the Yantic and Shetucket rivers in Norwich city, and steamers ply regularly between that city and New York, and, in the summer season, to the seaside resorts. Connecticut is mainly a manufacturing state, having an unusual abundance of water power, and its industries are very extensive and varied; among the leading productions are clocks, hardware, india-rubber goods, firearms, machinery, tools, automobiles, bicycles and textile fabrics. Excellent iron is made from Connecticut ores, and very large quantities of brown stone are taken from the celebrated Portland sandstone quarries. The state of Connecticut, and especially its capital city of Hartford, has become celebrated for the extent and solidity of its insurance interests,—the nineteen life and fire companies of Hartford alone representing in capital and assets nearly two hundred millions of dollars.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Connecticut is 160, including 37 daily, 8 semi-weekly, 91 weekly, 3 fortnightly, 1 semi-monthly, 15 monthly, and 5 quarterly. The places of publication number 65, of which 9, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

DELAWARE.

Population 202,322.

STATE CAPITAL, DOVER.

DELAWARE is bounded north by Pennsylvania, east by the Delaware River and Bay, and the Atlantic Ocean, south and west by Maryland. Its length from north to south is 96 miles, its breadth ranging from 9 to 12 miles in the north to about 36 miles in the south; land area 1,960 square miles. The surface in the north is finely diversified with hill and dale, and southward the land is rolling, with fringes of marshes and swampy tracts along the indentations of Delaware Bay. The southern portion of the state is in great part a sandy region but by skilful farming has been made highly productive. Kaolin and iron ore are found in the north. The soil in the interior of the state is light and easily cultivated. The agricultural products are grain, corn, fruit, potatoes, and market garden produce; peach growing and small fruits—berries, —are prominent industries. Over one hundred evaporators and canneries are engaged in preserving all kinds of fruits, berries and garden vegetables, at Seaford, Dover, Milford, Georgetown, Smyrna and other towns in the lower half of the state. In 1909, the state produced 6,000,000 bushels of corn, 18,845,539 quarts of berries, 1,212,110 cases of canned tomatoes, 628,786, baskets of fresh tomatoes, 258,982 bushels of canteloupes, and other fruit and vegetables in abundance. Manufactures are various, and are carried on chiefly in Wilmington and its vicinity. Iron goods, iron and wooden steam and sailing vessels, cars, bridges, structural steel, fibre products, crates and boxes for the canneries, gun-powder, paper, pulp, leather, carriages, machinery, cotton and woolen goods, and flour are the leading products. Seaford ships immense quantities of oysters, and Lewes is a station for menhaden and other fisheries. Oyster growing and fishing are important industries. Large quantities of timber are cut for ship building and railroad ties. A bill is now in Congress providing for increasing the depth and width of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, which connects the upper portions of the bays, and converting it into a free ship canal, which would greatly facilitate traffic between Philadelphia and Baltimore, and other ports in Maryland and Virginia. Other projects are being pushed for the drainage of swamp lands in Sussex County, and for the building of good roads, New Castle County alone spending $600,000 for the latter purpose.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Delaware is 34, including 3 daily, 26 weekly, 1 semi-monthly and 4 monthly. The places of publication number 14, of which 3, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

FLORIDA.

Population 614,845.

STATE CAPITAL, TALLAHASSEE.

FLORIDA is bounded north by Alabama and Georgia, east by the Atlantic Ocean, south and west by the Gulf of Mexico and Alabama. The peninsular portion of the state is about 375 miles long by an average breadth of 90 miles; the upper portion 360 miles from east to west by from 30 to 90 miles from north to south: land area, 54,240 square miles. The surface is diversified with numerous lakes, the largest, Okeechobee, being 40 miles long by about 30 miles broad. There is a coast line of about 1150 miles, while the water surface comprises one fifteenth of the whole. The larger portion of that part of the peninsula south of Lake Okeechobee is occupied by the Everglades, an evergreen marsh or swamp, fifty-five miles wide by one hundred and fifty miles long, and covered with a dense growth of "saw grass," eight to ten feet high and so thick as to be practically impenetrable, except where it is intersected by numerous winding channels. The surface is dotted with innumerable islands of from half an acre to hundreds of acres in extent, almost all being subject to overflow during rainy seasons. The state has made good progress on a project for draining the Everglades, by cutting through the rim of limestone rock which confines the waters, and by controlling the overflow of Lake Okeechobee. This project when carried to completion, will add millions of acres of most fertile soil to the area of tillable land. From the northern end of the swamp to Georgia is mostly a dead level, with occasional undulations and small hills. West of the neck of the peninsula the surface becomes a little more uneven; the central portion is the most fertile. There are numerous gentle eminences called hammocks, which are remarkably fertile, as are also the swamp lands when ditched and drained. Sugar cane is raised chiefly along the Gulf coast. Both long and short staple cotton and tobacco are grown, corn, rice and oats are the principal cereals. Oranges, lemons, limes, pineapples, figs, olives, and grapes flourish luxuriantly; garden vegetables are largely produced for the northern market. The total value of the farm products is nearly $50.000,000. Cattle require little care, are not housed in winter, and large numbers are raised and shipped to Havana. Hogs form an important part of the live stock. Sponges are found on many parts of the coast. Pine lumber, ship timber, tar, rosin, turpentine, cotton seed oil and cake, palmetto hats and braids are manufactured; salt is made by solar evaporation; cigars are manufactured at Key West and Ybor City, near Tampa, in large quantities. Naval stores form a very important part of the products, the value of turpentine and rosin alone amounting to over $15,000,000 each year. Immense deposits of phosphate rock underlying parts of several counties furnish material for large fertilizer industries, the product being shipped not only to other states but to European countries. The total product is estimated at $1,000,000 annually. The fisheries are of great value, the inland and coast waters being full of fish; oysters are abundant, and the sponge and coral fisheries are of considerable importance, the annual production of sponges being estimated to have a value of $2,000,000. The winter climate of Florida is exceedingly mild, frost being of rare occurence, and it has become a most fashionable resort at that season. The Coast Line Canal, with a depth of five feet from Miami to Jacksonville has been completed. It is 370 miles long. A ship canal across the state from Jacksonville is under consideration and U. S. engineers have made preliminary surveys.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Florida is 170, including 18 daily, 2 semi-weekly, 141 weekly and 9 monthly. The places of publication number 89, of which 46, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

GEORGIA.

Population 2,443,719.

STATE CAPITAL, ATLANTA.

GEORGIA is bounded north by Tennessee and North Carolina, northeast by South Carolina, southeast by the Atlantic Ocean, south by Florida, and west by Alabama. Its extreme length from north to south is 320 miles, extreme breadth 254 miles; land area, 58,980 square miles. The surface is varied; along the coast, it is intersected by numerous rivers and sounds, and the country for miles inland is a succession of ridges of pines and live oaks and swamps of cypress; the great Okeefinokee swamp is in the southeast. Back from the coast is a stretch of sandy land, mostly pine barrens, and yielding large amounts of timber and naval stores. A series of terraces bring the land in the middle of the state to about 575 feet above tidewater, from which elevation it rises toward the north more rapidly, until it becomes mountainous, being there crossed by spurs of the Appalachians. The soil of the islands is sandy, producing sea island cotton; that of the mainland, rich alluvial, producing corn, cotton, and rice; the middle region is red loam, yielding good cotton, corn, tobacco, etc. In the north there is much fertile soil; grain, tobacco, fruits, and vegetables are largely grown, but not much cotton, which is mainly raised in the central, west central, and southwestern regions. Georgia's fruit and vegetables, especially peaches and watermelon, are greatly celebrated and enjoy a great sale in the northern markets. In the production of cotton Georgia ranks second among the states, her crop in 1909 reaching nearly 2,000,000 bales with a value of $150,000,000 for cotton and $22,000,000 for cotton seed. Sugar cane is grown in the south, and considerable pork fattened, mainly for home consumption; sweet potatoes are largely produced; wool is prominent, but corn and cotton are the leading staples. Wheat and oats are grown in considerable quantities. Among the leading industries are lumber, flour, boots and shoes, carriages, cotton and woolen goods, wool carding and cloth dressing, leather, saddlery, metallic wares, furniture, castings, machinery, farm implements, etc. There are many cotton factories in the state. The most important are at Augusta and Columbus, the other chief seats of the cotton manufacture are Athens, Atlanta, Decatur, Macon, Savannah, and West Point. Savannah is the most important South Atlantic seaport. The city is the seat of a large foreign and domestic commerce. Its railroads extend to all parts of the country, and its steamships ply daily to the principal North Atlantic ports. Savannah is the largest naval stores and second largest cotton and rice port in the United States, and holds an important place in the manufacture and shipment of lumber and fertilizers. Atlanta has large iron works, and has developed into a great manufacturing city. Rome, Dalton, Marietta and Thomasville are manufacturing towns. The iron and steel trade is overtaking the cotton manufacture in importance. Other important branches of manufacture are lumber, flour, pulp, etc. Darien, Brunswick and St. Marys manufacture and export lumber. Minerals: bituminous coal in the northwestern portion; immense deposits of iron ore in Bartow and Cherokee counties; copper ore in Gilmer county; gold is most plentiful in Cherokee, Carroll, Cobb, and Lumpkin counties, the annual production being about $50,000; silver, lead, and many other minerals, granite, marble, gypsum, slate, and petroleum; excellent marble in Pickens and Cherokee counties; hydraulic limestone in Bartow county. There are numerous mineral springs of which the Indian Spring in Butts county and the Bowden Lithia, or Salt Spring, in Douglas county, are the best known. The development of the rich marble resources in north Georgia during recent years has been wonderful. There are inexhaustible quarries of the finest marble in Pickens, Cherokee, Murray and adjoining counties, and millions of dollars have been invested in opening them.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Georgia is 375, including 26 daily, 2 tri-weekly, 12 semi-weekly, 281 weekly, 2 fortnightly, 6 semi-monthly, 43 monthly and 3 bi-monthly. The places of publication number 213, of which 137, designated by a dagger (†) are county seats.

IDAHO.

Population, 205,704.

STATE CAPITAL, BOISE.

IDAHO is bounded north by British Columbia, east by Montana and Wyoming, south by Utah and Nevada, and west by Oregon and Washington; its length from north to south is about 480 miles, width varying from 44 to 325 miles; land area, 84,313 square miles. Surface is diversified, mountainous in the northern and central portions with arid plains in the south. In the southeast is a volcanic region, abounding in geysers and saline springs. The valley lands in many parts of the state are unsurpassed in fertility, and almost all crops of the temperate zone can be successfully grown, except those which are classed as sub-tropical. Fruits of all kinds, except those of the citrus group, are produced in abundance, and their quality is unexcelled, The chief products are wheat, live stock, fruits, potatoes, sugar beets, hay, oats and barley. The wheat crop in 1909 was over 12,000,000 bushels, that of oats 6,000,000 bushels, barley 2,400,000 bushels, potatoes 3,200,000 bushels, hay 1,320,000 tons. The live stock produced was worth over $9,000,000, the fruit over $7,000,000. Mutton and wool are largely produced. The production of sugar beets and the manufacture of beet sugar form an important industry. The output of beet sugar in 1909 was over 32,000 tons. Many of the arid plains have been irrigated, and make excellent wheat growing districts. There is abundant water in the streams and lakes to reclaim the 10,000,000 acres which are susceptible of irrigation. The water power is said to be sufficient for all the needs of the state for transportation, manufacturing and all other purposes requiring power. Irrigation work to cost about $150,000,000 has been planned and work already done on the various projects to the value of $30,000,000. Dry farming is successfully carried on in various parts of the state. It is estimated that about 10,000,000 acres can be made productive by this means. The forest-covered area is very large, embracing about 20,000,000 acres, much of the timber "lodge pole" pine of small diameter, but growing very thickly. Other trees are fir, spruce, cedar, etc., some of these being very large. The total value of the forest products for 1909 was over $8,000,000. Gold, silver and lead are plentiful in all parts of the state and are largely produced, especially lead, the value of the output of this metal in 1909 being $9,356,571, and silver, the yield of which was valued at $3,625,617. Gold to the amount of almost $1,500,000 was produced in the same year, and copper worth over $1,000,000. Coal and zinc are also mined, and there are immense deposits of coal and phosphate rock which have not yet been developed. Manufacturing industries are increasing with the rapid extension of transportation facilities, and the increase of population.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Idaho is 146, including 11 daily, 1 tri-weekly, 7 semi-weekly, 120 weekly and 7 monthly. The places of publication number 96, of which 23, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

ILLINOIS.

Population, 5,418,670.

STATE CAPITAL, SPRINGFIELD.

ILLINOIS is bounded north by Wisconsin, northeast by Lake Michigan, east by Indiana, southeast and south by Kentucky, and west by Missouri and Iowa; extreme length north and south 385 miles; extreme breadth 218 miles; land area, 58,980 square miles. The surface is mostly level table land, inclining gently toward the south, with bluffs along the principal rivers. A small tract in the northwest, around Galena, is somewhat broken, and a low mountain ridge extends across the southern end from Grand Tower, on the Mississippi River to Shawneetown, on the Ohio, about 850 feet above sea level. This is a great fruit region. The prairies are sometimes level, but generally undulating. More than two thirds of the state is a productive bituminous coal field, the output in 1909 reaching 49,163,710 tons, the largest coal production of any state except Pennsylvania. In the production of petroleum, being credited with more than 38,000,000 barrels in 1908, it is exceeded only by California. The iron ore is good only when mixed with Michigan and Missouri ores. Lead and zinc are mined extensively in the northwest. Copper ore, gypsum and marble are found in various places. Limestone and freestone abound. The prairie soils are deep and fertile; that of the river bottoms often seems inexhaustible. A tract called the American Bottom, extending along the Mississippi River a length of ninety miles by about five in breadth, has an alluvial soil about twenty-five feet in depth. Illinois is unexcelled as an agricultural state, and is among the first in manufactures. According to the 1900 census Illinois had five out of the nine counties in the United States which produced the greatest value in farm crops, the counties being McLean, Champaign, La Salle, Livingston and Iroquois. Spring and winter wheat, corn, and other cereals, dairy produce, wool, and hay, are leading products. Some tobacco is grown. Illinois stands first in corn, The 1909 crop was 369,770,000 bushels with a value of over $200,000,000, surpassing the crop of Iowa, he next largest, by 70,000,000 bushels. The state is second in oats, of which in 1908 she grew 94,300,000 bushels, and in poultry, in both of which she is exceeded only by Iowa. The industrial pursuits embrace a wide range of articles, and the seats of manufacture are distributed generally throughout the state. The leading articles of manufacture include iron and steel and their products, woodenware, furniture, farming implements, cars and carriages, flour, watches, woolen goods, bridge work, lumber, tiles, glassware, soap, malt and distilled liquors, etc. Illinois produces fifty per cent. more pig iron than Alabama. In 1905 the total production of iron and steel goods was valued at $87,352,761. The total value of manufactured goods in 1905 was over $1,400,000,000. Illinois is exceeded, in this respect, by only New York and Pennsylvania. Fishing interests are extensive on the large rivers and on Lake Michigan. They center chiefly at Chicago, which is also the center of an immense business in live stock and lumber, and the slaughtering and meat packing industries in the country. The value of the meat products from these establishments in 1905 was $317,206,082. Natural gas in large quantities has been discovered at various points in the state. The state is amply supplied with transportation facilities, by rail, river and lake. It has 12,216 miles of railroad within its borders.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Illinois is 1,792, including 181 daily, 2 tri-weekly, 37 semi-weekly, 1,084 weekly, 1 three times a month, 3 fortnightly, 29 semi-monthly, 438 monthly, 1 semi-quarterly, 7 bi-monthly and 9 quarterly. The places of publication number 648, of which 102, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

INDIANA.

STATE CAPITAL, INDIANAPOLIS.

INDIANA is bounded north by Michigan and Lake Michigan, east by Ohio, south by Kentucky, and west by Illinois. Its extreme length north and south is 276 miles; average breadth 140 miles; land area 35,910 square miles. About two-thirds of the surface is undulating or level prairie; near the Ohio and other rivers the surface is hilly. In the extreme northwest there is a sandy tract, with considerable marsh land, where peat abounds and is an article of considerable commercial importance. The northeast abounds in oak openings and prairie land, interspersed with many small lakes. The soil is generally fertile, much of it exceedingly so; the richest is found along the Wabash, White, and White Water rivers. There is abundance of coal of good quality, the annual output being about 12,000,000 tons. The iron manufacture is extensive, Indiana coal being particularly suited to this industry, but the ores used come mainly from the Lake Superior region, Missouri, and Tennessee. Indiana has some bog ore and local deposits of better grades which have been worked to some extent. There are some salt springs, good sandstone, limestone, fire brick, potter's clays, and kaolin. Limestone is particularly abundant, being practically inexhaustible in quantity. Indiana ranks high as a grain producing and stock raising state. Corn, wheat, oats, tobacco, and potatoes are raised in large quantities. Corn, of which 196,520,000 bushels were grown in 1909, is the largest single product; cattle, hogs and horses are raised in all parts of the state. Butter, wool, hay, maple sugar, and sorghum molasses are also important products; lumber is largely exported. Manufactures are numerous and extensive, the principal goods being flour and grist mill products, lumber, woolen goods, furniture, carriages and wagons, iron and iron ware, machinery, agricultural implements, pork products, liquors, metallic wares, leather, boots, shoes, clothing and automobiles. The manufacturing of automobiles is now an immense industry in Indiana, which is surpassed by only one state in the number built. The natural gas belt, said to be the largest known in the world, extends over 21 counties, or more than 6,000 square miles. No state is better supplied with transportation facilities, as it lies directly in the path of almost all the great trunk lines, which have branches extending into all parts of the state; and fully half the borders of the state are on navigable waters.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Indiana is 789, including 157 daily, 2 tri-weekly, 22 semi-weekly, 536 weekly, 7 semi-monthly, 60 monthly, and 5 quarterly. The places of publication number 354, of which 91, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

IOWA.

Population 2,210,050.

STATE CAPITAL, DES MOINES.

IOWA is bounded north by Minnesota, east by Wisconsin and Illinois, south by Missouri and west by Nebraska and South Dakota. Its greatest length from east to west is 300 miles, and breadth 208 miles; land area, 55,475 square miles. The surface is generally rolling prairie, with no mountains nor even high hills, but with frequent bluffs along streams; and in places near the large rivers it presents a broken appearance, caused by erosion from torrents. The southern part is the most level, with prairies, groves, and the numerous affluents of the two great rivers. While Iowa is generally known as entirely an agricultural state, there are about 2,250,000 acres of natural timber lands, situated almost entirely in the eastern portion of the state, and about 120,000 acres of planted timber. Most of the natural growth, however, is of little use except for fuel and fencing, the more valuable species having been largely cut off. In the northeast the surface is more elevated, with numerous low hills, with tops covered with oaks, and abounding in lead and other ore; but the distinguishing feature of Iowa is its prairies, which are everywhere fertile and easily tilled, and having few stones or stumps, are especially adapted for the use of agricultural machinery. The valleys of the Red Cedar, Iowa and Des Moines rivers contain the richest soils; northward of these the soil becomes less fertile, but is still productive and remunerative. Building stone, cement rock, and clay of fine quality are abundant; coal and lead are extensively worked. Iron ore and other minerals are found. Iowa is the foremost state in total value of agricultural products. The cereals generally, dairy and market garden products, hay, wool, linseed, sorghum, and live stock of all kinds are very largely produced. The hay crop of 1908 was larger than that of any other state, being 6,460,000 tons, which exceeded the crop of New York, the next largest, by over 700,000 tons, although Iowa had but 3,800,000 acres in hay, almost 1,000,000 acres less than New York. The greater productiveness of alfalfa, which is much grown in Iowa, is the cause of this difference. The crop, however, on account of the distance from markets, was worth, at the farm, only about half of New York's crop for the same year. As in Illinois and Indiana, corn is the most important product. Iowa's crop is second only to that of Illinois, and amounted in 1909 to 289,800,000 bushels. Iowa produced, in 1908, more oats than any other state, growing 110,440,000 bushels. Barley and other grains are also largely grown. Grapes grow well in the south, and fruit culture is increasing. Stock raising is an industry of growing importance, the live stock in 1908 being valued at over $350,000,000. This state is also first in poultry and eggs, having, according to the 1900 census, over 20,000,000 head of poultry, and producing in the census year 99,621,920 dozen eggs. Dairy and prepared cereal products are also of great value. The manufacturing interests are rapidly developing, especially in flour, lumber, wood working, carriages, woolen goods, boots and shoes, pork packing, saddlery, furniture, malt liquors, and farm implements, and the total output of manufactured goods in 1908 was valued at $750,000,000. Iowa has a well deserved reputation as a leading state in educational matters. She has twenty-six colleges, and over 200 libraries, of which 102 are public and the rest belong to educational and other institutions.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Iowa is 974, including 65 daily, 3 tri-weekly, 46 semi-weekly, 787 weekly, 1 three times a month, 1 fortnightly, 7 semi-monthly, 61 monthly, 1 bi-monthly and 2 quarterly. The places of publication number 575, of which 99, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

KANSAS.

Population 1,606,361.

STATE CAPITAL, TOPEKA.

KANSAS is bounded north by Nebraska, east by Missouri, south by Oklahoma, and west by Colorado. Its length from east to west is 410 miles, and from north to south 207 miles; land area, 81,700 square miles. The surface is chiefly undulating in the east, while the western part has a rolling and varied surface, and until recently has been devoted to stock raising, but irrigation works are gradually changing it to an agricultural district of great fertility. There are no mountains, very few lakes, and those small and shallow; no marshes but salt marshes, and these are valuable. The bottom and table lands are chiefly a rich black loam, and highly productive. When the state was settled only five per cent. of the area was forest, and this was distributed mainly along streams and in occasional groves and small tracts; but it is estimated that the area of forest trees has since doubled by voluntary growth, transplanting, and by seed. Kansas is rapidly developing her rich mineral resources. She is said to produce fully half of the zinc of the United States, which would give Kansas an output of from 90,000 to 100,000 tons; coal is annually produced to the amount of over 6,000,000 tons; petroleum, 1,000,000 barrels, and rapidly increasing; Portland cement, 750,000 barrels; clay products to the value of more than $1,000,000, and she stands third among the states in production of salt. But Kansas is primarily an agricultural state. Winter and spring wheat, corn, rye, oats, live stock and potatoes are the chief products, while broom corn, sorghum, flax, hemp, castor beans, sugar beets, tobacco, and hay are also largely produced. Within the past twenty years, the growing of alfalfa has become one of the chief agricultural industries of the state, and large quantities of alfalfa hay are shipped east. Alfalfa meal mills have been established in many places, and the product is a valuable stock food which is becoming more generally used each year. The wheat crop of 1909 was the largest in the country, over 80,000,000 bushels; corn was 147,005,120 bushels; oats and other grains are also largely grown. Cattle raising is a prominent industry, and sheep farming is increasing in the western part. The number of cattle in the state in 1909 was 2,690,627; of hogs, 2,157,048, of horses, 958,335, and of sheep, 159,271. The total value of the live stock products of the state in 1909 was $90,000,000, and the value of all agricultural and animal products was $307,538,164.91. The live stock market and the packing house industry in Kansas City, Kansas, are exceeded only by Chicago. Dairy products are increasing rapidly, and in 1909 had a value of $12,344,099. Over 1,000,000 pounds of honey is gathered annually. The manufacture of sugar from sugar beets and the making of glass are important industries. Manufactures are being developed, and the number of establishments is rapidly increasing, especially in the southeastern part of the state, where industrial enterprises are greatly assisted by the strong flow of natural gas, the most extensive gas belt on the continent being situated in that district.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Kansas is 742, including 72 daily 2 tri-weekly, 8 semi-weekly, 629 weekly, 2 semi-monthly, 27 monthly, 1 bi-monthly and 1 quarterly. The places of publication number 443, of which 105, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

KENTUCKY.

STATE CAPITAL, FRANKFORT.

KENTUCKY is bounded north by Ohio and Indiana, northwest by Illinois, east by West Virginia and Virginia, south by Tennessee, and west by Missouri; greatest length from east to west, 350 miles; greatest breadth, 178 miles; land area, 40,000 square miles. The surface in the east and southeast is mountainous, being broken by numerous parallel ranges of the Alleghany system, with deep and fertile valleys. Northwest of this section, and in the centre of the state, is the famous blue grass region, with a gently undulating upland surface, and deep valleys at the rivers. Between the Green and Cumberland rivers the surface is level and known as the "Barrens," from the scarcity of heavy timber. The western part is generally level with slight undulations. The soil of the whole state is remarkably fertile; that part between Lexington and the Ohio river is known as the "Garden of Kentucky." Cereals grow to greater perfection in Kentucky than in almost any other state. The chief products are tobacco, hemp, corn, wheat, oats, rye, barley and potatoes. The corn crop averages about 85,000,000 bushels, and the wheat crop about 9,000,000 bushels annually. Hemp averages over 6,000,000 pounds. Kentucky has acquired a world wide fame for its thoroughbred horses, shorthorn cattle, and mules. Kentucky is said to raise more mules than any other state. The wool clip is very large, and immense numbers of hogs are raised. Dairy products are very extensive; also sorghum molasses, maple sugar, honey, and wax; some cotton is raised in the southwest near the Tennessee line. Tobacco is of great importance, about one-fourth of the American crop being grown within the state. In 1908, Kentucky grew 195,600,000 pounds, over sixty millions more than North Carolina, which was second in tobacco production. Louisville is the greatest leaf market in the world. Coal, iron, limestone, building stones, clays, etc., are abundant. The forests are extensive and valuable, although not more than one per cent. of the timbered land is virgin forest. There is a large quantity of valuable timber of second growth, but as it is being cut off at least twice as fast as it grows, the lumbering industry will soon be a thing of the past unless modern methods of forestry are introduced. The growth consists chiefly of the various species of oak, with other valuable hardwoods. In southeastern Kentucky there are 10,000 square miles underlaid with coking and bituminous coals of superior grade. The greatest known area of coking and fine cannel coals exists at the head of the Kentucky river. The total coal production in 1907 was 10,207,060 tons. Large quantities of so-called Red River and Oriskany ores used in the manufacture of car wheels and other fine iron products are annually mined, the product averaging over 50,000 tons annually. Petroleum and natural gas are found in various places. The manufacturing interests are varied and important, and are carried on chiefly in the towns on the Ohio river; an extensive industry is the smelting and working of iron, while all wood manufacturing industries flourish, especially those making railroad ties, spokes, handles, staves and headings. Whisky is an important product of the central counties. Salt is made from springs in the mountain counties.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Kentucky is 352, including 29 daily, 2 tri-weekly, 25 semi-weekly, 234 weekly, 10 semi-monthly, 26 monthly, 5 quarterly and 1 three times a year. The places of publication number 155, of which 111, designated by a dagger (†) are county seats.

LOUISIANA.

STATE CAPITAL, BATON ROUGE.

LOUISIANA is bounded north by Arkansas and Mississippi, east by Mississippi and the Gulf of Mexico, south by the Gulf of Mexico, and west by Texas. Its extreme length from east to west is about 300 miles, breadth 240 miles; land area, 45,966 square miles. Surface is generally low and level. There are low hills in the north and northwest, from which the land slopes gradually to the Mississippi and the Gulf. Much of the land along the river is below the water level during the spring freshets, and is protected from overflow by the levees, which are built on both banks below Baton Rouge, and on the west bank throughout the state. Many of the principal rivers and bayous are protected in like manner so that but a small portion of the land is subject to overflow. The extent of navigable water surpasses that of any other state in the Union, as also does the area of alluvial land. The soil of the river bottoms is exceedingly fertile, and yields large crops of cotton, sugar cane, rice, etc. The prairies are productive, and afford good pasture in places. The hilly section yields good cotton crops, but about half is covered with pine barrens. The wooded area of the state is estimated at half of the total area. Louisiana has a greater area of long leaf pine and more cypress timber than any other state. There are also large quantities of oak, hickory, and other hard woods. The great staples are cotton, sugar, rice, and corn, but other crops of infinite variety are grown abundantly. Cotton varies much in production, having ranged in five years between 1,110,000 bales and 508,000 bales, which was the 1908 crop, but the average is nearly 1,000,000 bales. The state produces nearly all the cane sugar made in the United States. The sugar product has rapidly increased of recent years, and in 1909 reached a total of 350,000 tons. The yield of rice is very large, and the quality excellent. The genuine Perique tobacco is grown only in this state. Cattle raising is an important interest. The fisheries, especially oyster fisheries, are large and valuable. The leading manufactures are refined sugar, cotton goods, lumber, naval stores, castings, machinery, clothing, flour mill products, cotton seed oil, and beer. Its commerce, carried on chiefly through New Orleans, is extensive and important. Iron ores, ochre, gypsum, lignite coal and marl are abundant; large deposits of sulphur exist in Calcasieu Parish, the deposits being among the largest in the world, and the sulphur produced is 98 per cent. pure. Immense deposits of rock salt are found, much of it being 99 per cent. pure, on Petit Anse and Weeks islands. There are numerous oil wells in the western part of the state, and the natural gas fields are extensive and their development has been the cause of a rapid increase in manufacturing industries, especially in and near New Orleans. On account of the great extent of navigable waters and the net work of railroads penetrating every part of the state, the products of her fields, mines, factories and fisheries are readily and rapidly moved, and none of the state's resources need be neglected for lack of transportation facilities.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Louisiana is 219, including 19 daily, 1 tri-weekly, 7 semi-weekly, 166 weekly, 1 fortnightly, 4 semi-monthly and 21 monthly. The places of publication number 106, of which 55, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

MAINE.

Population 714,494.

STATE CAPITAL, AUGUSTA.

MAINE is the most northeasterly state in the Union, bounded on the north by Quebec and New Brunswick, east by New Brunswick, south by the Atlantic Ocean, and west by New Hampshire and Quebec; its extreme length is 302 miles, width 285 miles, which is extended to 2500 miles by the many indentations; land area, 29,895 square miles. The northern part is mainly a wilderness of forest land with rugged surface and groups of detached mountains; thinly peopled, except in the fertile tracts of Aroostook county. In the northeast, on the St. John's river are several French Canadian settlements. The southern part is varied, seldom much broken, and has tracts of great fertility, while others are only moderately fertile, especially in the southeast. The potato crop is large and excellent, and Maine potatoes bring high prices as seed potatoes; hay is an important product, 1,260,000 tons being grown in 1908; corn thrives in the south, and winter wheat is grown to some extent in the northeast; oats are very fine and prolific, and barley next. Dairy products are of great value. Large numbers of horses and cattle are exported, Wool is abundant and of good quality. The principal fruit is the apple, which is largely grown. The state holds a prominent position in the lumber trade; fisheries are important. and the canning of fish, lobsters, green corn, fruits, and vegetables is extensively carried on. The seaboard towns enjoy a large coasting and West Indian trade. Large quantities of lime are exported from Camden, Rockland, and Thomaston. Granite is extensively quarried at various points. Slate is quarried in large quantities at Brownsville and Monson. Ice is an important and profitable article of export. Maine is a fishing, hunting and summer resort of considerable popularity, and sportsmen and summer visitors are said to leave behind them every year from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000. Manufacturing industrles are of great importance. Water power is abundant and regular, and there is an enormous amount of undeveloped power of this class available for manufacturing purposes. The leading articles of manufacture are cotton goods, lumber, woolen goods, leather, paper, boots and shoes, foundry and machine shop products, ships, agricultural implements, etc. The chief seats of the lumber trade are Augusta, Bangor, Biddeford, Calais, Eastport, Fairfield, Lewiston and Machias; of cotton manufacture, Augusta, Biddeford, Lewiston, Brunswick, Saco and Waterville; of ship building, Bath, Bangor, Belfast, Calais, Damariscotta, Machias, Rockland, Thomaston and Waldoboro. Woolens are made at Bridgton, Dexter, Dover, Lewiston, Madison, Oxford, Sanford, and Warren; boots and shoes at Auburn, Bangor, Fairfield, Farmington, Lewiston, Richmond, Skowhegan, Norway, Paris, and Mechanic Falls. Bangor and Portland have foundry and machine shops, furniture factories, and steam planing mills. Extensive hemlock sole leather tanneries are located at Brookton, Grand Lake Stream, Kingman, Lincoln, Lowell, Medway, and Winn. Large spool factories are located at Foxcroft, South Lincoln and Willimantic. Apart from these special branches of trade, Belfast, Ellsworth, Gardiner, Hallowell, Portland, Rockland, Skowhegan, and Waterville are seats of varied and extensive manufactures.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Maine is 136, including 13 daily, 1 tri-weekly, 2 semi-weekly, 95 weekly, 1 semi-monthly, 21 monthly and 3 quarterly. The places of publication number 71, of which 15, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

MARYLAND.

STATE CAPITAL, ANNAPOLIS.

MARYLAND is bounded north by Pennsylvania, east and southeast by Delaware and the Atlantic Ocean, west by West Virginia, and south and southwest by Virginia, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia. The Chesapeake Bay divides the greater part of it into two unequal parts, known as the Eastern and Western Shores. Its extreme length from east to west on its northern border is 198 miles, and its width, following the course of the Potomac, varies from 3 or 4 miles to about 120 miles; land area, 9,860 square miles. The surface of the Eastern Shore is mostly level, and in parts low and swampy, but towards the north rocky and broken. The Western Shore, between the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay, presents mainly the same general features. The northwest is very mountainous; five or six ridges of the Alleghenies, principally the Blue and Laurel, traverse that section. In the extreme west are the beautiful elevated valleys named "glades." The soil of the Eastern Shore and the lower part of the Western is generally light and sandy, well adapted for peaches and market gardening, that of the central and northern parts very rich, yielding immense crops of tobacco, wheat, oats, and corn. Wheat and corn are the chief crops. Dairy products are next in value. A very important agricultural industry in the eastern portion of the state is the growing of truck and fruits for shipment to the northern cities and for the numerous canneries in the state. Especial attention is given to tobacco growing in the lower counties of the Western Shore. Over 18,000,000 pounds were grown on 26,000 acres in 1908. The mountain slopes are thickly wooded. The oyster fisheries are more extensive than in any other state. Clams, herring, menhaden, crabs, shad, and other salt and fresh water products bring the total value of the annual fishery output to over $4,000,000. The value of the fisheries of the whole of Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries is estimated at $10,000,000 annually, The manufactures are very numerous—canned goods (fruits, meats, and oysters,) being one of the most important. The manufacture of boots and shoes, bricks, cement, chemicals, clothing, cotton and woolen goods, cooperage, tobacco, flour, leather, lumber, machinery, and metallic wares are leading industries, Its commerce is confined principally to Baltimore, whose foreign trade is very important, amounting to $150,000,000 yearly. Maryland is bountifully supplied with minerals of great variety. Maryland coal is used extensively in all the Atlantic states, the product in 1909 being over 6,000,000 tons. Fire clays are abundant, those of Mt. Savage having a wide reputation. Brown hematite is found in the Trenton limestone, and bog ore on the Eastern Shore. There are numerous quarries of marble, granite, serpentine, and other building stone, limestone for burning, and roofing slate. Kaolin is found in Anne Arundel county; magnesite near Baltimore, from which large quantities of magnesia, carbonate, and epsom salts are manufactured. There are many other minerals, including glass sand, mineral waters, alum, amber, barytes, breccia, soap stone, kaolin, mica, cements, tripoli, chromium, hone stone, mill stone, iron pyrites, ochres, etc., some of which are very plentiful. Gold and copper exist in small quantities.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Maryland is 182, including 17 daily, 1 tri-weekly, 2 semi-weekly, 122 weekly, 6 semi-monthly, 27 monthly, 1 bi-monthly, 1 five times a year and 5 quarterly. The places of publication number 63, of which 23, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Population 3,336,416.

STATE CAPITAL, BOSTON.

MASSACHUSETTS is bounded north by Vermont and New Hampshire, east by the Atlantic Ocean, south by the Atlantic Ocean and by Rhode Island and Connecticut, and west by Rhode Island and New York. Its extreme length is 160 miles, and breadth from 47 to about 90 miles; land area, 8,040 square miles. The surface is greatly diversified; mountainous in the extreme west, hilly and broken in the east and northeast, and in the southeast mainly low and sandy. Toward the west is the fertile valley of the Connecticut river. The mountains are the Taconic and the Hoosac (continuations of the Green Mountain ranges of Vermont), with detached members of the White Mountains. The soil is generally somewhat sterile, but energy and intelligence have succeeded in making it very productive. The Connecticut valley, however, can hardly be excelled for fertility. The chief agricultural productions are dairy products, potatoes, hay, maple sugar, and honey. Seed potatoes grown in the "hill towns" of Hampshire and Berkshire counties are much in demand for planting in the lower lands of Massachusetts and Connecticut. Corn is raised chiefly for home consumption. Of grain, the crop of oats, rye, and barley is large. The tobacco crop, grown entirely in the Connecticut valley, is large, over 7,000,000 pounds being grown in 1908. It produces cigar wrappers of good quality, excelled in this country only by those grown further down the river, in Connecticut. The fishery interests are larger than any other state, and almost half the fishing vessels owned in the United States belong to Massachusetts. Manufactures, however, constitute by far the largest of its industries. It ranks fourth among the states in the total value of its manufactured goods, although it stands seventh in point of population. Not only is it the leading center of the American cotton, boot, shoe, leather, wool, and paper trades, but all the large towns are busy seats of more or less numerous branches of manufacture. The largest industries are the cotton and shoe trades, in each of which, in normal years, the product is nearly $200,000,000. About 100,000 persons are employed in the cotton mills, and over 70,000 in the shoe factories. The chief seats of the ship building interests are Boston, Quincy, Newburyport and Salem. The state is rich in building stone, principally granite, which is largely quarried at Rockport, Graniteville, Fall River, Monson, and Quincy; a handsome brown sandstone in the Connecticut valley, and marble and limestone in Berkshire county, in which there are also deposits of excellent iron ore. Except Rhode Island, it is the most densely peopled state. Fall River, Lowell, New Bedford and Lawrence are, in the order named, the chief cotton manufacturing centers of the country. The Cape Cod Canal, an eight mile cut between Buzzard's Bay and Sandwich, is under construction, and will be finished about 1913. It will enable coasting vessels to avoid the long trip around the Cape Cod peninsula.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Massachusetts is 670, including 87 daily, 3 tri-weekly, 5 semi-weekly, 394 weekly, 3 fortnightly, 1 three times a month, 11 semi-monthly, 126 monthly, 8 bi-monthly, 31 quarterly, and 1 three times a year. The places of publication number 204, of which 19, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.
