Changes.

The publication day of the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER ANNUAL has been changed from September 1st to December 1st. Prominent among the reasons which led to this change is the feeling that an annual publication should be issued at or near the beginning of the year for which it is dated.

This edition bears the date 1893-4, the next will be 1895 and so on in regular succession. It is our purpose to have the book ready for delivery December 1st, thus enabling it to be in every one's hands by the first of the year following.

Another change inaugurated in this edition is the discontinuance of the practice of indexing newspaper advertisements against the names of the papers in the general Catalogue. It is with reluctance that we abandon a plan which we have advocated for a number of years, but experience has shown that the disadvantages attending it outweigh the advantages great as they are.

The indexing of advertisements in the main Catalogue necessitates closing the revision of that part of the book several weeks before going to press, in order that the numbering of the advertising pages may be determined; and requires also that the County List should be printed first, although necessarily compiled from the Catalogue, thus reversing the only natural and rational order of procedure. It will be obvious that when the paging of the advertising section has been determined no changes or additions of any moment can be made in the Catalogue. This edition contains the names of 140 publications which could not have been inserted under the old plan. The new system admits of changes, additions and cancellations so long as any one form of the Catalogue remains unprinted, thus extending the revision of the work two months longer than under the former arrangement.

INTRODUCTION.

The number of Newspapers and Periodicals enumerated in this edition of the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER ANNUAL is 20,774, an increase of 659 over the number given in the issue for 1892. This is 445 less than the increase recorded in the last volume, the net gain for that year being 1,104.

Two causes have operated to produce this result, one the usual shrinkage in the year following a presidential election, the other and more important one the fact that publishers, in common with others, have felt general depression in business circles. The smallness of this net gain is the more pronounced when it is remembered the ANNUAL is published this year three months later than usual and therefore records the changes and growth of fifteen months instead of twelve, and again because certain modifications of the plan of revision have enabled us to enter new papers up to a much later stage in the work than ever before, (see page 7.).

This shrinkage in net increase is not due to any material falling off in the number of new ventures, as our records show that very nearly the average number of new publications have been received by us during the year. Nearly 3,500 of such as were deemed suitable for admission to our lists were prepared for entry, but a much smaller number than usual of these have survived, and there has also been an excessive mortality among papers already established, extending, in many cases, to those of high standing and of long years of existence. This has been especially the case during the last two or three months, not a day passing without bringing information of the suspension or consolidation of more or less well known journals.

An analysis of the Tabulated Statement on page 8 shows that the New England section suffers a loss of 5, due mainly to a decrease of 12 in Connecticut; as, however, most of these latter were "sub-editions," the loss is not material. With the exception of Maine, which loses 5, the other New England States show a slight gain.

The actual increase in the Southern section is 86, of which Texas contributes 56 and Alabama 14. Losses in other directions, viz., 15 in Louisiana, 9 in Florida, 7 in Kentucky and 4 in Tennessee give a net gain of 51.

As is to be expected, the bulk of the increase is to be found in the Western States and Territories. The Western States show a gain of 397. There are only four States in this section which do not record an increase, viz., Idaho, Missouri, Nevada and Wyoming. Missouri, which had a phenomenal gain of 92 last year loses 8 this. Idaho loses 3, Wyoming 2 and Nevada remains as before. Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Minnesota show a remarkable similarity in their returns; the net gain of Illinois being 58, Indiana and Iowa 54 each and Minnesota 55. Colorado, Nebraska and Wisconsin gain 29 each. Oregon and Washington are closely united in net gain as in territory; Oregon gains 16 and Washington 18, while their near neighbor to the southward, California, gains 20. Kansas and Michigan gain 11 and 15 respectively, and North and South Dakota 9 and 5. Ohio increases her count by 7 only, but Ohio has the distinction of presenting fewer changes of all kinds among her newspapers than any other of the larger States of the Union.

The Territories show a gain of 69. Indian Territory contributes 18 of this number and the remainder is nearly all to be credited to Oklahoma, which this year almost doubles her representation, having 93 papers against 48 in 1892. It is probable that even this number does not do the territory full justice, but as most of its gain is in the recently acquired Cherokee Strip, it was impossible to obtain every one in time for publication.

Canada increases her newspapers by 18, of which 9 are contributed by Manitoba, 4 by Nova Scotia, 4 by Ontario and 1 by Newfoundland.

The States having more than 1,000 papers are, New York, 1,955; Illinois, 1,630; Pennsylvania, 1,425; Ohio, 1,119 and Iowa, 1,029. Those having between 500 and 1,000 are, Missouri, 908, Indiana, 786; Massachusetts, 775; Kansas, 770; Michigan, 722; Texas, 689; Nebraska, 667; California, 639; Minnesota, 580 and Wisconsin, 570.

As will be seen in the Summary and Comparative Statement (p. 11), the total number of counties in the United States is 2,826, a gain of 30 over last year, while the number of counties in which newspapers are published has increased 39; the number of towns is 281 greater than in 1891, and 29 more of the whole number are county seats. There is shown a gain of 61 in the number of dailies. The tri-weeklies have lost 5 and the semi-weeklies have gained 17. The number of weeklies recorded is 583 larger than last year; fortnightlies have lost 14, semi-monthlies, 41; there are 35 more monthlies, 2 additional bi-monthlies and 20 quarterlies. The number of miscellaneous issues has increased one.

The gain of 30 in the number of counties is much larger than for several years and is made up of 3 in California, 1 in Colorado, 3 in Idaho, 5 in Montana, 2 in New Mexico, 11 in Oklahoma, 1 in Oregon, 2 in Utah and 2 in Wisconsin. A singular decrease in the number of fortnightlies and semi-monthlies is to be noted. The former which gained 3 in number last year, this year lose 14, while the latter which increased in 1892 by 58 have lost 41. Another evidence of the adverse condition of things as applied to newspaper and magazine growth is to be seen in the small increase in the number of monthlies, viz., 35 against 341 last year.

In addition to the number of publications embraced in the following pages there are several hundred others which, in accordance with our custom, we do not care to insert. Among these may be mentioned local church papers, private and high school magazines, and a number of others of no value to the general advertiser or the general public—for whose benefit this work is primarily designed.

POPULATION.—Population is taken mainly from the official reports of the United States census of 1890 and the Canadian census of 1891. Changes will be made in future editions, when deemed advisable, on receipt of satisfactory reports.

STATE AND COUNTY HEADINGS.—The State and County headings have been carefully revised and brought up to the present time. The State headings especially are exceedingly interesting and instructive reading, giving concise and valuable statements of the wonderful resources and growth of the country. The county headings are of great value to advertisers of specialties, who, by carefully examining them can readily decide which counties are likely to prove remunerative territory, and thus confine their expenditures within limits which may be expected to yield the greatest return for their outlay.

TOWN HEADINGS.—These headings have also been carefully revised. The location of the county in the State is given by a system of initial letters, which enables the reader to find quickly any county on the map, or to determine its location, no matter what may be the contour of a State, or however numerous may be its counties. The distance of the town, and in most cases the direction from some prominent point is given; its means of communication by railroad, water or stage; whether it is a telegraph and express station or not, and if not, what the nearest telegraph or express point is. If nothing is said about banks, it is to be understood that there is at least one bank there, and if there is not, the nearest or most accessible or the usual banking town for that point is given. Then follows the description of the place itself, setting forth as fully as possible its advantages of location, the nature of the surrounding district, with its productions, agricultural or otherwise, the leading manufactures, and educational and other public institutions.

SUB-EDITIONS.—As in previous issues we have endeavored to distinguish between independent and distinct publications and those which are simply reprints of some other paper with but little and often with no change whatever beyond the name. All papers so issued, as far as it was possible to trace them, have been entered in the Catalogue under the name of the leading paper, and, under the place of apparent publication, the name of the sub-edition is given with a reference to the paper issuing it. In the County List these sub-editions do not appear at all; the main paper has an italic note referring to the Catalogue for information respecting its sub-edition or editions.

It may be well to add that it is very difficult at times to determine positively this question of similarity of issue. Publishers of such papers generally are not willing to give information nor to send sample copies, and it is possible that in some instances an error may have been made either in quoting a paper as a sub-edition of another, when it would be fairly entitled to an independent entry if all the facts were known, or in giving a paper an independent standing when it is not entitled to it. Every effort has, however, been made to guard against either of these possibilities.

NAMES OF EDITORS AND PUBLISHERS.—No labor has been spared in the effort to have this department of the work as accurate as possible at the time of going to press; the continual changes of ownership and places of publication, however, necessarily preclude absolute accuracy.

POLITICAL STATISTICS.—In accordance with our established custom the political majorities and pluralities are those of the latest Presidential election.

CIRCULATION.

Circulations for which affidavits have been furnished have been set in bold-face type in the Catalogue, and designated by an asterisk (*) in the County and Class Lists. Throughout the book a double dagger (‡) indicates the publisher's claim. Our own estimates are set in Roman figures and unmarked.

While we would greatly prefer a detailed statement of issues for a whole year, yet records for six months or even three, will, if properly signed by the publisher or some responsible person for him, ordinarily entitle the paper to a rating in accordance therewith. We say ordinarily, because we do not believe that the rendering of such a statement is incontestible proof of its correctness, and there are instances in which such statements, even when supported by affidavits, could not be accepted in the face of positive information to the contrary; but we believe that such instances are comparatively few in number, and in the large majority of cases a detailed statement covering a period of several months, properly signed, is prima facie evidence of its reliability. It can be sworn to or not according to the scruples or taste of the publisher.

It frequently happens that the publishers when sending in their orders and copy for advertisements in the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER ANNUAL inclose therewith a statement of circulation, generally accompanied by a request that the ratings of their papers in the ANNUAL may be made to agree with the figures thus given. This will not be done. Circulation ratings are fixed before the solicitation of advertisements begins, from reports made out in proper form, and signed by publishers, or, in the event of failure to receive such reports, from any believed-to-be-authentic information in the Editorial Office.

Although the greater number of ratings are determined when copy is being made in July and August we are always willing to revise the figures as late as Sept. 30th, provided acceptable statements are sent to the editor of the ANNUAL, entirely apart from any consideration of the subject of advertising therein, with which he has nothing to do. Advertisements, however, being received up to the time of going to press, not unfrequently contain much later information than can possibly be given in the Catalogue. This will explain, in many cases, what would otherwise appear to be discrepancies between the statements made in the advertisements and the ratings given the papers in the various lists.

Circulation is not given in the following instances—where the paper has been established during the current year, or is entered for the first time in the ANNUAL; where the information received is unsatisfactory, or the reports are conflicting; where publishers have requested omission, in which case the word “Decline” is printed in the circulation column, and where the publication is devoted exclusively, or nearly so, to advertising the business or interests of the individual, business house or corporation issuing it. Papers of this latter class are designated in the Catalogue as “issued for advertising purposes,” and in the County and Class Lists by the letters “Adv.” in the circulation column.

We aim at strict impartiality in this important part of our work, and desiring always to avoid injustice to publishers, in our efforts to procure accurate and trustworthy information for advertisers, we will gladly receive communications from any who may consider themselves unfairly dealt with in any statement in this volume, and will cheerfully correct in future editions any mistakes made in the present one, if furnished with satisfactory evidence of error.

Papers which are believed to decline general advertising are designated in the Catalogue by the words “No Advts.” in the circulation column, and are omitted entirely from the County and Class Lists.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENTS.—An alphabetical index to the advertisements will be found commencing with page 1473. A careful examination of these will result in the acquisition of a mass of valuable information which, for the sake of compactness and facility of reference, must necessarily be excluded from the Catalogue itself. We invite attention to the article on this subject on page 1305, and also to the article headed “Changes” on page 7.

The revision of this book for the edition of 1895 will be commenced immediately, and newspaper publishers will confer a favor by notifying us of the establishment, suspension or change of any papers within their knowledge, or by calling our attention to any inaccuracies.

Populations in the United States, unmarked, are from the Official Reports of the Census of 1890. Canadian populations are mainly from the Census of 1891.

Circulations for which affidavits have been furnished, are printed in bold-face figures; those furnished by publishers, but not sworn to, are designated by a double-dagger (‡); those unmarked are estimated.

Where statement of circulation is omitted, we have been unable to obtain any satisfactory information, or the paper was established during the current year, or is entered for the first time in the ANNUAL, or else is issued for advertising purposes. The word "decline" indicates that the publishers have declined or objected to furnish any statement for publication.

ST. LOUIS, pop. 451,770. On Mississippi R., abt. 20 m. bel. mouth of Missouri. Has 17 lines of railroad, comprising nearly all the trunk lines running West, and several starting from this point. Tel. Exp. One of the leading cities of the United States, with an immense distributing and manufacturing business. Its principal articles of manufacture include tobacco, flour, beer, plate glass, chairs, carriages, saddles, agricultural implements, stoves, bricks, iron goods, boots and shoes, white lead, linseed and cottonseed oil. The commerce in coal, grain, cotton, and hog products is very extensive. Live stock is very largely handled, and many other articles are extensively dealt in. St. Louis has numerous important institutions, including Washington and St. Louis Universities, Shaw Botanical Gardens, etc., while one of its most striking features is the grand bridge which crosses the Mississippi at this point.

NEW YORK †, pop. 1,515,301; NEW YORK Co. (S.E.), pop. 1,515,301. On Manhattan Island at m. of Hudson R., and on Long Island Sound (or East R.) and New York Bay. Term. of 14 important R.Rs. running to all parts of the country, including the Erie; N. Y., C. & H. R.; Penna.; W. Shore; N. J. Cent.; and others. Exp. Has one of the finest harbors in the world, and is the commercial metropolis of the United States. The foreign commerce of New York is very large, comprising more than half the entire import and export trade of the nation. Its domestic commerce is still greater, a considerable portion of the country drawing its supplies from this city. Its manufactures are little less important, and have grown rapidly of recent years. These are too various to be epitomized. Some few of the larger being furniture, clothing, machinery, sugar refining, tobacco and segars, printing and publishing, lard refining, malt liquors, musical instruments, etc. Its educational and other institutions include Columbia College, the University of the City of New York, the Cooper Institute, Colleges of Medicine, Law, Theology, etc.; the Astor, Lenox, Mercantile, and other libraries; the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Museum of Natural History, and others too numerous to mention.

Y., Chic. & St. L., and four other railroads. Tel. Exp. A port of entry, and the second city of Ohio. Has an excellent harbor of refuge, and canal connection with the Ohio river. The principal port on Lake Erie, with a large commerce; its shipping trade in iron ore, coal and lumber being very extensive. The pork packing interests are important, and the petroleum oil refining works are claimed to be the largest in the world. The head quarters of the Standard Oil Company are here. The iron interest is still larger, there being 150 iron and steel manufactories, employing about 18,000 hands. There are also five large ship yards, extensively engaged in building wooden and steel vessels. The institutions of Cleveland include Adelbert College, the Case School of Applied Science, the Western Reserve University, a Public Library, several medical colleges, hospitals, and asylums, etc. Two immense viaducts extend across the gulf, which divides the city, and are among the finest and costliest works of the kind in the United States.

COLUMBUS†, pop. 88,150; FRANKLIN Co. (C.), pop. 124,087. The State Capital. On Scioto R., near center of State, 120 m. N. E. of Cincinnati. Balt. & Ohio; Pittsb., Cinn. & St. L.; Chic., St. L. & Pitts.; and eight other railroads. Tel. Exp. Columbus has a large inland trade in grain, wool, live stock, iron and coal, and important manufactures, in which iron and steel products, agricultural implements and buggies are the most prominent. Lumber, leather, edge tool and plows are also largely produced, and there are various other industries. Here are a magnificent State Capitol, the Ohio State University, Capital University, Ohio Agricultural and Mechanical College, State Library, and important institutions for the insane, the blind, the deaf and dumb, and for imbecile youth, and a large State Penitentiary.

PHILADELPHIA†, pop. 1,046,964; PHILADELPHIA Co. (S.E.), pop. 1,046,964. On W. bank of Delaware R., at m. of Schuylkill R., 96 m. from the ocean, 87 m. S. W. of New York, 136 m. N. E. of Washington. Penna.; Balt. & Ohio; Phila. & Read.; Phila., Wilm. & Balt., and other railroads. Tel. Exp. A port of entry, the metropolis of Pennsylvania, and, according to the Census of 1890, the third city of the U. S. in population. Philadelphia is principally distinguished as a manufacturing city, having in the variety and importance of its manufactures no rival in America, and few in the world. In carpets, woolen and cotton goods, and other textile fabrics, its production is enormous, and the same may be said of the manufactures of iron and steel products, prominent among which is the Baldwin Locomotive Works, employing 3,000 men, and having a capacity of 1,000 locomotives annually, while many other branches of manufacture are also very largely represented. The domestic and foreign commerce of this city is also large, but is secondary in importance to its manufactures. Of its numerous institutions may be named Independence Hall, the University of Pennsylvania, Jefferson, and other medical colleges, Girard College, Drexel Institute, Franklin Institute, Academy of Natural Sciences, Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia Library, the magnificent new City Hall, and Fairmount Park, the largest and most picturesque pleasure ground in the United States.

Wayne & Chic.; Pittsb. & Lake E.; and several other railroads. Tel. Exp. The second city of Pennsylvania, and the leading iron and steel manufacturing city in America. Its pig iron product is said to be one-fourth, and its steel product more than one-half of the total product of the United States. The glass manufacture is also very important, the product being claimed to be about one-half of the total produced in this country. Coke is very largely produced, and there are numerous smaller manufactures. The abundance of natural gas fuel gives Pittsburgh special advantages in manufacturing. The commerce of this city is also very considerable; oil, coal, lumber, iron, steel, and glass products, etc., being largely distributed. Here are the Western University of Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh Female College (Methodist), a handsome City Hall, a United States Arsenal, etc.
