OHIO.

Population *5,026,898
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, COLUMBUS.

OHIO is bounded north by Michigan and Lake Erie, east by Pennsylvania and West Virginia, south by West Virginia and Kentucky, and west by Indiana; greatest length from east to west 225 miles; greatest breadth 200 miles; land area, 40,760 square miles, of which less than 700 square miles is waste land. The general character of the surface is that of a plateau of about 800 to 1,000 feet above sea level. The most prominent feature is the great divide which separates the drainage of Lake Erie from that of the Ohio river. This passes diagonally across the state from Trumbull county in the northeast to Mercer and Darke counties in the west. Its average height is about 600 feet above the lake; and from it the surface slopes gradually northward toward the lake and southward toward the river. The rivers and streams have excavated deep valleys, which give to the surface its distinctive undulating or rolling character.

The soil is universally fertile; and Ohio holds a leading position in every branch of agriculture. The uplands are well suited to wheat, the southern slope of the watershed to grain generally, the northern slope to grazing and dairying, and the northeast section or Western Reserve especially so. The bottom lands of the Miami, Muskingum, and Scioto rivers are very rich in corn; the Western Reserve and Miami regions are famous for apples. Dairy products are also of great value. There were in 1916 3,067,000 sheep in the state; the wool clip was 14,350,000 pounds. There were also 910,000 horses; 922,000 dairy cows, 872,000 other cattle; 3,713,000 hogs. Flax and flaxseed are staple products, and tobacco is largely grown in most of the southern counties. The production of the chief crops in 1915, in bushels, was corn, 156,040,000; wheat, 40,194,000; oats, 69,008,000; potatoes, 12,546,000; hay, 4,049,000 tons. Some barley, rye and buckwheat are also grown. Apples made 5,984,000 barrels. Tobacco, in the same year, 84,380,000 pounds. Ohio stands fourth among the states in production of tobacco. Cincinnati is one of the country's largest tobacco markets. Beet sugar to the amount of 32,100 tons was made in 1915. Ohio is one of the leading states in poultry and poultry products.

The virgin forests have largely disappeared, and while about one-fifth of the state's area is forest land, chiefly second growth, it is not of high value commercially, and the numerous woodworking industries are only partially supplied by the native woods. The fishing interests of Lake Erie are important. The manufactures of the state are very numerous and valuable, and Ohio stands fifth among the states in the annual output of manufactured goods. Iron, pork products, farm implements, clothing, flour and grist mill products, lumber, pottery (in which Ohio leads all the states) and malt and distilled liquors are among the most important.

In mineral wealth Ohio produced in 1914 a value of $101,661,334. Coal (bituminous) underlies 12,000 square miles. The production in 1914 was 18,843,115 tons; iron ore is abundant, especially in the south; salt is largely produced (5,482,336 barrels in 1914); lime and cement are other important products. Good grindstones and building stones are obtained at Amherst, Berea (Berea grit), Buena Vista, and Independence. There are excellent qualities of limestone and sandstone for building, especially at Massillon and Dayton. Marl deposits abound in the Maumee valley and other localities. There are good pottery and fire clays, the fire bricks of Mineral Point being among the best in the United States. Ohio stood first among the states in the value of clay products in 1914, with a value of $37,166,768. Cleveland, Massillon, Youngstown, and the towns on the Ohio river are the chief seats of the iron manufacture, which includes pig, forged, and rolled; iron castings and sheet iron, rails, Bessemer steel rails, etc. The development of the wonderfully productive oil fields (7,900,000 barrels in 1915) and the discoveries of natural gas in apparently inexhaustible quantities at many places in the state have been of incalculable value to its industrial interests. The railroad facilities are rapidly increasing, and Ohio has a network of well constructed and busy transportation lines. Ohio had in 1909, 24,106 miles of good roads, being a pretty close second to Indiana, which occupied first place with 24,955 miles.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Ohio is 1,102, including 182 daily, 1 four times a week, 4 three times a week, 43 semi-weekly, 663 weekly, 7 fortnightly, 12 semi-monthly, 163 monthly, 4 bi-monthly, 1 four times during the college year and 22 quarterly. The places of publication number 404, of which 88, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

| CLEVELAND †, pop. *639,431 (N 3); CUYAHOGA Co. (N.E.), pop. 637,425. On S. shore of L. Erie at mouth of Cuyahoga R., 150 m. N.W. of Pittsburg, Pa. N. Y. Cent.; Cleve., Cin., Chic. & St. L.; N. Y., Chic. & St. L.; and four other railroads. Tel. Exp. Banks. Federal Reserve Bank. Excellent harbor of refuge and canal connection with the Ohio river. Principal port on Lake Erie, with a large commerce; very extensive shipping trade in iron ore, coal and lumber. Pork packing interests are important, and the petroleum oil refining works are claimed to be the largest in the world. Headquarters of the Standard Oil Company. Iron interest is large, there being 150 iron and steel manufactories, employing about 15,000 hands. Also five large ship yards, extensively engaged in building wooden and steel vessels. Its institutions include Adelbert College, the Case School of Applied Science, the Western Reserve University, a Public Library, several medical colleges, hospitals and asylums, etc. Two immense viaducts extend across the gulf, which divides the city, and are among the finest and costliest works of the kind in the United States. The 2,148 manufacturing industries employ 96,968 wage earners and the annual value of the products is about $275,000,000. |   |   |                          |        |

OKLAHOMA.

Population *2,026,534
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, OKLAHOMA CITY.

OKLAHOMA is bounded on the north by Kansas, on the east by Arkansas and Missouri, and on the south and west by Texas. Land area, 69,414 square miles. The surface is generally rolling prairie, with abundant timber in the eastern part. The Arkansas and Red rivers are navigable for boats of light draft for some distance into the state.

The land is generally tillable and the principal occupation of the people is agriculture. In 1910 Oklahoma had 189,438 farms, of an average area of 152 acres, and an average value of $3,888. Corn is largely grown, and the area devoted to it is increasing. The 1915 crops included 123,900,000 bushels of corn, 36,540,000 bushels of wheat; 87,800,000 of oats; 2,975,000 bushels of potatoes; 630,000 bales of cotton were grown. Broom corn, kaffir corn and barley are also large and profitable crops. Hay and fruit of excellent quality are grown in considerable quantities. The production of alfalfa is increasing. The wealth of summer forage crops which may be grown and the abundant pasturage during the winter make the production of all classes of live stock very profitable. The value of domestic animals, poultry and bees in 1910 was $144,276,000, an increase of over $48,000,000 in ten years. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported for January 1st, 1916, 519,000 dairy cows and 1,186,000 other cattle. Beef cattle were the only live stock showing a decrease in value in the ten years following the 1900 census, the decrease being due to the loss in range cattle caused by the increasing number of small farms and the consequent diminution of the open ranges. There were 743,000 horses in 1916, 232,000 mules, 1,491,000 swine and 95,000 sheep. Poultry of all kinds had a value in 1910 of $3,714,000, almost treble the value of the poultry in 1900.

Coal is abundant, and the mines produced 3,988,613 tons in 1914. Limestone, gypsum, and good building stone are plentiful. Oklahoma is second only to California in petroleum production, its wells producing in 1914 80,000,000 barrels, more than a quarter of the country's total. The natural gas product was 78 billion feet. Among other minerals were lead, zinc, asphalt and silver.

Large shipments of flour are made to other states, after supplying home consumption. Cottonseed oil mills use the cottonseed produced on the farms, and large numbers of cattle are fed on the meal and hulls. Oklahoma, however, is an agricultural rather than a manufacturing state, although as the population grows, the number of factories established to supply the local needs and to use the local raw materials is constantly increasing. This increase has been considerable in the past few years. The total value of manufactured products, which was $8,133,000 in 1899, had grown to $53,632,000 in 1909, the year covered by the statistics of the 1910 census. In that year the state had 2,310 manufacturing establishments, employing 13,034 persons, and the value added by manufacture was $19,529,000. The raw material used cost $34,153,000 and the amount paid in wages to 13,143 wage earners was $7,240,000 and in salaries $2,045,000. The chief manufactures were flour and grist mill products, $19,144,000; cottonseed oil and cake, $5,187,000; lumber and its products, $4,439,000.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Oklahoma is 601, including 54 daily, 2 semi-weekly, 509 weekly, 6 semi-monthly, 28 monthly and 2 quarterly. The places of publication number 375, of which 76, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

OREGON.

Population *783,239.
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, SALEM.

OREGON is bounded north by Washington, east by Idaho, south by Nevada and California, and west by the Pacific Ocean; average length from east to west, about 300 miles; average breadth, about 260 miles; land area, 94,560 square miles. It is divided unequally by the Cascade Mountains. East of this range the surface is generally undulating table land, with high cone-like hills and deep canyons. Between the Cascade and Coast ranges is the Willamette valley, 60 miles wide by 150 miles long and exceedingly fertile; from the Coast range westward the surface is mountainous, hilly, and broken. The principal industries of this region are dairying and fruit growing, but it is well adapted to wool growing, stock raising, and the growth of winter wheat, barley, oats, and hay. The eastern portion does better as a stock raising region, but good wheat is also grown there, especially in the northern counties, and several irrigation projects have been started to develop the arid portions of this region, the soil of which needs only water to make it produce abundantly. The climate is salubrious. In the extreme west, between the coast range and the ocean, the annual rainfall is very heavy, being about 70 to 80 inches; in the central and eastern portions it ranges from normal to scanty.

In the Willamette valley wheat, corn, hops, tobacco, wool, flax, fruit, linseed, dairy products, and potatoes are produced in large quantities. Many of the trees are gigantic in size, and afford excellent lumber. The Rogue River valley, on account of its mild climate, is well adapted for raising fruits, especially grapes, and large quantities are shipped from there annually. The 1915 crop of apples was 1,043,000 barrels. The growing and drying of prunes form an important industry. Other important crops are strawberries, peaches, pears, cherries and plums. The chief grain crops are wheat, the 1915 crop being 20,025,000 bushels; oats, 16,060,000 bushels, and barley, 4,680,000 bushels. Some corn and rye are also grown. Potatoes produced 5,520,000 bushels. The live stock product is large, there being about 216,000 dairy cows, 553,000 other cattle and 2,563,000 sheep in the state. The wool clip of 1915 was 15,600,000 pounds.

The manufactures comprise lumber, the large Douglas fir affording the best masts and spars in the world; leather, boots and shoes, saddlery, milling and smelting of ores, carriages, furniture, liquors, linseed oil, etc. The lumber industries are of immense value. The 1909 output included 1,898,995,000 feet of rough lumber, over 161,512,000 lath and 293,644,000 shingles. The trees are chiefly Douglas fir, western hemlock, spruce and pine of various species, hardwoods forming a very small portion, not more than three per cent. The value of manufactured goods in 1909 was $93,005,000, an increase of 67.5 per cent. over 1899. The net value of manufactures, excluding the cost of the materials, was $42,453,000. The wage earners numbered 28,750 and salaried employes 3,478. The amount paid as wages was $19,902,000, for salaries, $4,047,000. The largest industry, its output comprising nearly one-third of the whole in value, is the lumber industry in its various branches. Other important manufactures are flour and grist mill products and meat packing. Salmon canning, especially along the Columbia, is a great industry.

Gold and silver are produced, the gold in 1915 being valued at $1,771,618; copper, lead, platinum, cement rock, clay, glass sand, granite, marble, coal, etc., are also found. Navigable water lies on three sides of the state, the Snake River on the east, the Columbia River on the north and the Pacific Ocean on the west, and in addition to the mouth of the Columbia, which is one of the finest harbors in the world, there are several inlets along the coast.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Oregon is 301, including 35 daily, 1 three times a week, 12 semi-weekly, 222 weekly, 2 semi-monthly, 28 monthly, and 1 six times a year. The places of publication number 159, of which 35, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Population 8,245,967
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, HARRISBURG.

PENNSYLVANIA is bounded north by New York and Lake Erie, east by New York and New Jersey, south by Delaware, Maryland, and West Virginia, and west by West Virginia and Ohio. Its greatest length from east to west is about 302 miles; its greatest breadth about 175 miles; mean length 280 miles; mean breadth 158 miles; land area, 44,832 square miles. The surface is exceedingly varied, chiefly level or slightly undulating in the southeast, hilly and mountainous in the interior, and generally rolling or broken in the west. A series of parallel ridges, members of the Appalachian system, each with a distinct name, traverse the state from northeast to southwest. The most eastern of these is the South Mountain, an extension of the Blue Ridge, and the western and highest the Alleghany, from which the surface slopes generally toward Ohio.

The soil of the valleys and plains is generally fertile, and some of it exceedingly so. Lancaster county, and some of the counties bordering on the Ohio river, are the most productive. The state excels in dairy and market garden produce and all the agricultural staples of the Northern states. In 1915, 23,747,000 bushels of wheat, 32,190,000 bushels of oats, 82,178,000 bushels of corn, 5,754,000 bushels of buckwheat (in which this state stands first); 4,932,000 bushels of rye, some barley, 20,160,000 bushels of potatoes and 4,340,000 tons of hay were grown. The tobacco crop in 1915 was 42,390,000 pounds. Lancaster and York counties are the chief seats of this industry, Lancaster yielding more than any other county in the United States. Apples produced 5,085,000 barrels. The numerous large cities make dairying a popular and profitable industry and the total yearly milk production from the state's dairy cows, which number nearly 1,000,000, is about 575,000,000 gallons.

Pennsylvania stands first in total production of mineral wealth, and first in coal, coke, cement, stone, sand, gravel and slate, and second in natural gas and clay products. The total mineral output in 1914 was $452,374,085. The beds of anthracite and bituminous coal and iron ore, and the great oil basin, are sources of immense wealth. Anthracite coal is found mainly in the counties of Carbon, Dauphin, Lackawanna, Luzerne, and Schuylkill, to some extent in Columbia and Northumberland, and semi-anthracite in Sullivan and Wyoming. Bedford, Bradford, Centre, Clearfield, Fulton, Lycoming, and Tioga counties contain fields of semi-bituminous coal, while the bituminous coal beds are located beyond the main Alleghany ridge, every county west of it, with the exception of Erie, yielding more or less of this coal. Mercer supplies a good block coal for furnace use. The total coal production in 1914 was 147,983,294 tons of bituminous coal, and 90,821,507 tons of anthracite, nearly a third of the total bituminous output of the country and practically all of the anthracite, as only a few thousand tons came from the other two states producing it. The coke produced in 1914 was 20,258,393 tons, worth $42,447,886. The petroleum region is situated mainly in the counties of Venango, Butler, McKean, and Clarion, and covers about 2,000 square miles. The natural gas field is about 2,730 square miles. The output of petroleum for 1914 was 8,170,335 barrels. Natural gas was worth $20,401,295 in that year. The slate output had a value of $3,609,959, nearly 70 per cent. of the country's total. Salt springs abound in the same region. Iron, graphite and copper are found in paying quantities. There are many medicinal springs, the principal of which are at Bedford, Doubling Gap, Ephrata and Yellow Springs. The southeastern corner of the state is rich in limestone and marble, of which great quantities are quarried for use in Philadelphia. This region also produces combined iron and chromium ores, hematite, magnetic iron, and corundum. A handsome black limestone is quarried at Williamsport, Silurian limestone in the Cumberland valley and at other places.

The lumbering industry is decreasing, and the state, which was first in 1880, now occupies the seventh place. In manufactures, Pennsylvania is second only to New York, the value of its manufactured goods in 1909 amounting to $2,626,740,000. The chief manufactured goods are iron and steel goods of all kinds. In woolen goods it is excelled only by Massachusetts, its production in 1909 being $77,446,996. Philadelphia is one of the principal seats of foreign and coastwise trade. The leading exports are grain, provisions, petroleum, tobacco, oil cake, lumber, tallow, hides, leather, shoes, cotton goods, machinery, and coal. Erie and Pittsburgh are also great commercial centres. Philadelphia and Chester are the chief shipbuilding stations. Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Reading, and Scranton are the chief seats of the iron manufactures. Philadelphia is one of the great manufacturing cities of the world, and has an enormous production of iron goods, woolen and other textile fabrics, and other articles.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Pennsylvania is 1,357, including 214 daily, 5 three times a week, 41 semi-weekly, 814 weekly, 3 fortnightly, 9 semi-monthly, 219 monthly, 2 eight times during the college year, 1 six times during college year, 1 semi-quarterly, 8 bi-monthly, 1 five times a year, 1 four times a year and 38 quarterly. The places of publication number 443, of which 67, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

The production of silk, cork products and cigars are the leading industries. There are several tanneries, iron works and machine shops, large chocolate and caramel factories, cork and linoleum works, large umbrella and watch factories, and a very considerable variety of other manufactories. The surrounding country is a rich agricultural section, its wheat product being very large. Lancaster county, according to the 1910 census, produced a greater annual value in farm crops than any other county in the United States, its yearly product being over $18,000,000. Tobacco is extensively cultivated, and Lancaster is claimed to be the largest tobacco market north of the Ohio River, having numerous large warehouses. Its general trade is extensive. S. in population. Philadelphia is principally distinguished as a manufacturing city. Among the most notable of its industries are the Cramp Shipyards, and the Baldwin Locomotive Works, with a capacity of 3,000 locomotives annually. In carpets, woolen and cotton goods, and other textile fabrics, its production is enormous, and the same may be said of the products of iron and steel, while many other branches of manufacture are also very largely represented. The domestic and foreign commerce of this city is also large, but is secondary in importance to its manufactures. Among its numerous institutions may be named Independence Hall, the University of Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania Hospital and many others, Jefferson, Medico-Chirurgical and other medical colleges, Girard College, Drexel Institute, Franklin Institute, Academy of Natural Sciences, Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia Library, the magnificent City Hall, and Fairmount Park, the largest and most picturesque pleasure ground in the United States. Erie; and several other railroads. Tel. Exp. Banks. Second city of Pennsylvania, and the leading iron and steel manufacturing city in America. Its pig iron product is said to be one-fourth, and its steel product more than one-half of the total product of the United States. The glass manufacture is also very important, the product being claimed to be about one-half of the total produced in this country. Coke is very largely produced, and there are numerous smaller manufactures. The abundance of natural gas fuel gives Pittsburgh special advantages in manufacturing. The commerce of this city is also very considerable; oil, coal, lumber, iron, steel and glass products, etc., being largely distributed. Here are the University of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania College for Women (Presbyterian), Western Theological Seminary, Carnegie Technical Schools, Carnegie Institute and Library, a United States Testing Station for the Bureau of Mines. |        |      |         |      |         |

Val.; Del. &amp; Hud.; N. Y., Susq. &amp; West. R.Rs. Tel. Exp. Banks. One of the most important coal and manufacturing towns in the state. The supply of anthracite in the vicinity is immense. Forty per cent. of all anthracite in the United States comes from Luzerne county, and its value is greater each year than all the gold produced in the country in the same time. Manufactures include copper wire, locomotives, automobiles, adding machines, car and wagon axles, filters, hosiery, curtains, stoves, electrical goods, silk, lace and cotton goods. There are also several iron works and foundries, flour and planing mills, coal screen factories, brick yards and various other industries. Large trade in coal mine and railroad supplies. Center of a population of 300,000 within 9 miles. |  |                                    |      |         |         |                    |       |

RHODE ISLAND.

STATE CAPITAL, PROVIDENCE.

RHODE ISLAND is bounded on the north and east by Massachusetts, south by the Atlantic Ocean, and west by Connecticut. Its extreme length from north to south is  $47\frac{1}{2}$  miles; extreme breadth, 40 miles; average breadth, 35 miles; land area, 1,067 square miles. It is the most densely peopled state in the union, but on five-sixths of the area the population averages only about fifty to the square mile. The remaining one-sixth holds ninety per cent. of the people. The surface is for the most part rough, hilly and stony. There are no mountains, and few hills of any altitude. Nearly one-fourth is woodland.

Rhode Island is not an agricultural state. The production of corn and oats is but little more than is used at home; that of other cereals small; dairy and market-garden produce and live stock very moderate. Agriculture is steadily declining, the only branch of this industry which is increasing being dairy farms carried on for supplying milk to the cities. The area devoted to the production of food crops has declined in ten years from 350,000 acres to less than 200,000.

Rhode Island is essentially a manufacturing community, and its factories produce an immense variety of goods. The most prominent manufactures are cotton, woolen and worsted goods, knit goods, machinery, jewelry, silver and plated ware, clothing, iron and ironware, rubber and elastic goods, leather, refined sugar and molasses, and flour mill products. In its production of cotton goods it is surpassed only by Massachusetts, in woolens only by Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, its production of woolen goods in 1909 being $74,600,240; and it is the chief center of the jewelry manufacturing industry of the United States.

Coal was mined as early as 1812. The mines are situated in Cumberland, Portsmouth and Valley Falls, but the coal produced is hard and difficult to burn, and very little is being mined at present. There are extensive granite quarries at Westerly. Graphite is also mined, but not of high quality, as it contains much grit. The product is used chiefly for foundry facings, and as a basis for certain kinds of paint. Soapstone is found in paying quantities.

The fisheries employ 131 vessels, and about 1,500 men, and the product in 1909 was about $2,000,000. The lobster catch is an important item. The highest catch was in 1908, 1,391,281 pounds. In 1911 it was 891,886 pounds.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Rhode Island is 52, including 12 daily, 1 three times a week, 3 semi-weekly, 23 weekly, 1 semi-monthly, 11 monthly and 1 bi-monthly. The places of publication number 18, of which 5, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Population *1,590,015
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, COLUMBIA.

SOUTH CAROLINA is bounded north and northeast by North Carolina, southeast by the Atlantic Ocean, west and southwest by Georgia. Its greatest length from east to west is about 275 miles, and its greatest breadth about 210 miles; land area, 30,170 square miles. The climate along the coast might be termed sub-tropical. Through the rest of the state it is mild and temperate. The rainfall varies from 40 to 55 inches. The surface presents nearly the same features as that of North Carolina. The coast for 100 miles inland is low and level, with sandy soil, numerous swamps, and extensive pine forests; then follows a tract of low sand hills, the soil of which is moderately productive. The land rises abruptly on the western edge of this belt, and continues to rise until it terminates in the Blue Ridge, the highest peak of which, Table Mountain, is 4,000 feet above the sea. The swamps embrace over 1,000,000 acres, and the pine lands 6,000,000.

The sea islands are mainly devoted to sea island cotton and rice; the tidal swamps to rice; inland swamps, when drained, to rice, cotton, corn, and peas; the salt marshes to long staple cotton; the oak and pine and oak and hickory lands to corn and cotton; and the pine barrens to fruits and vegetables. Rice, cotton, and corn thrive best in the central and southern counties. The northwestern region produces corn, wheat, barley, oats, tobacco, and many fruits. The grain crops for 1915 were:—corn, 36,538,000 bushels; oats, 7,500,000; rice, 179,000; wheat, 920,000. The production of corn, oats and wheat is increasing, that of rice declining. The chief seats of rice production are now Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas. Sweet potatoes brought 8,825,000 bushels. Some rye is grown. Cotton is the chief crop, averaging well over 1,000,000 bales, the 1915 crop being 1,160,000 bales, which put the state in third place in cotton growing. Tobacco is also an important product, and 37,700,000 pounds were grown in 1915. The time when cotton was almost the sole money crop has passed, and while it holds its own as the chief staple, the production of other crops, such as grain, tobacco, fruits and truck, is increasing year by year. Stock raising and wool growing are carried on with profit. Figs and pomegranates grow in the lower counties, and the peach and grape thrive over the state generally; strawberries are abundant. Tea is being grown at Pinhurst, and while the total product is still small, crops have been grown producing 600 pounds of dried tea of good quality to the acre, and the demand for native tea is growing. Much attention is being paid to the improvement of the breed of cattle, both dairy and beef stock. Much care and money is devoted to agricultural education. Besides the work of the State Agricultural Department, there are a number of agricultural high schools, with experimental farms attached, and good work is being done by these institutions in developing the agricultural possibilities of the state. Alfalfa has been successfully grown, and many experiments are being made with other crops not native to the soil.

In 1910, the standing timber in the state was estimated at 40 billion feet, chiefly yellow pine and cypress. The principal hardwood is oak, although ash, cottonwood and other species are plentiful. Tar, turpentine, and rosin have an important place among the state's forest products.

The manufactures are principally cotton goods, cottonseed oil, flour, lumber, machinery, tar, turpentine, carriages, and fertilizers. The chief industry is the manufacture of cotton goods, the annual production of which is rapidly increasing. In 1909 there were 179 textile mills in the state, with a total capital of over $60,000,000, employing 46,855 persons, and the value of the product was $86,971,307. The cottonseed oil mills numbered 108, and the product was worth over $10,000,000. The state has abundant water power, except in the coastal plain, where the fall is very slight, and will, no doubt, work up a great part of its own raw cotton into textile goods before many years have passed. Commerce is mainly confined to Charleston, Georgetown, and Beaufort. Exports are chiefly rice, cotton, lumber, phosphate, naval stores, cottonseed and its oil, oil cake, fish, and spring vegetables. Shad and oyster fisheries are valuable.

The most important items in the mineral list are clay products, valued at $568,645 in 1914; and phosphate rock, valued at $415,039. The deposits of the latter mineral are becoming exhausted, however, and the production has gradually decreased from 502,564 tons in 1893 to 106,919 tons in 1914. Some gold is found in the northwestern counties, but the output has decreased in late years. Barytes, fuller's earth, lime, manganese, mica, silver and tin are all found, mainly in the northwest; white and colored marbles and limestones, granites and cyanites, soapstones, flagging stone, and buhr stone are abundant. In Fairfield county is found what is claimed to be the finest granite in the United States. It is of beautiful appearance, great strength and fine quality. Aiken county contains immense beds of the finest porcelain clay. A little coal is found in Chesterfield county.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in South Carolina is 173, including 16 daily, 1 three times a week, 17 semi-weekly, 115 weekly, 1 semi-monthly, 21 monthly and 2 quarterly. The places of publication number 81, of which 44, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

STATE CAPITAL, PIERRE.

SOUTH DAKOTA is bounded north by North Dakota, east by Minnesota and Iowa, south by Nebraska, and west by Montana and Wyoming. Length, east to west, nearly 360 miles; width, about 240 miles. Land area about 76,850 square miles. The Missouri River has depth enough for boats up to six hundred tons burden. That portion of the state east of the Missouri River is mostly rolling prairie; the soil on the Mississippi slope being a black, sandy loam, with clay subsoil. West of the river the land is more broken, with mining and grazing land in the southwestern or Black Hills region, which is a mountain district of nearly 5,000 square miles in extent, exceedingly rich in valuable minerals and in great part well adapted to stock raising. It is largely forested, and with the aid of irrigation much of it might be adapted to agriculture.

In the northwestern part of the state the United States Government is constructing irrigation works, which will cost about $2,500,000 and will bring into cultivation many thousands of acres hitherto untilled. The eastern portion of the state is especially adapted to the culture of wheat and other cereals, potatoes, vegetables, and flax. The Missouri river and all small streams and lakes are lined with timber. The principal agricultural products are wheat, corn, oats, barley, flax, hay and vegetables. Stock raising is still one of the state's great industries. The U. S. government reports for 1916 estimate the dairy cows at 485,000, other cattle 1,064,000, sheep 604,000, hogs 1,314,000 and horses 759,000. The value of the live stock marketed in 1909 was $49,065,000; dairy and creamery products, $8,500,000; eggs and poultry, $5,300,000; wool and hides, $900,000. The wheat product in 1915 was 63,762,000 bushels, grown on 3,725,000 acres; corn, 94,250,000 bushels, on 3,250,000 acres; oats, 72,450,000 bushels, on 1,725,000 acres; barley, 24,000,000 bushels, on 750,000 acres. Flaxseed produced 1,650,000 bushels on 150,000 acres. South Dakota stood fourth among the states in the production of barley and of flaxseed. Hay is an important crop, producing 1,220,000 tons in 1915.

The Black Hills possess some of the richest gold mines in the world; the gold production for 1914 was valued at $7,390,000, making South Dakota rank fifth among the states in this industry, which accounts for nine-tenths of the state's annual mineral wealth. Tin occurs in great abundance, though as yet but little developed, from difficulty in reducing. Other important mineral products are silver (193,000 ounces in 1914), copper, gypsum, mica, lime, brick, fire and potter's clay and a little coal. Petroleum and natural gas are also present, and marble and building stone are quarried.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in South Dakota is 414, including 17 daily, 1 three times a week, 3 semi-weekly, 368 weekly, 1 four times a month, 1 fortnightly, 3 semi-monthly, 19 monthly and 1 quarterly. The places of publication number 288, of which 62, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

TENNESSEE.

Population *2,254,754
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, NASHVILLE.

TENNESSEE is bounded north by Kentucky and Virginia; southeast by North Carolina, south by Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi; west by Arkansas and Missouri; greatest length from east to west 432 miles, breadth 109 miles; land area, 41,750 square miles. The climate is generally healthful and equable, the winters are short and the rainfall is everywhere sufficient for all needs, averaging about 52 inches. The state is popularly divided into East, Middle, and West Tennessee. East Tennessee comprises the eastern mountain border, the beautiful East Tennessee Valley, and about half of the Cumberland Mountain plateau. Middle Tennessee reaches from about the center of the plateau to the Tennessee river, and is a region of fertile terraces, including the vast elliptical basin of nearly 5,000 square miles, known as the Garden of Kentucky. West Tennessee extends from the Tennessee river to the Mississippi, and is somewhat broken in the east, succeeded by a rolling plain descending to the latter river. The Mississippi bottom is a low, flat, alluvial plain, covered with forests and abounding with lakes and swamps.

West Tennessee is extremely fertile, and produces corn and cotton in large quantities. Middle Tennessee is generally fertile, yielding excellent grain and tobacco and much cotton, especially toward the south. East Tennessee valley lands are fertile, producing corn, cotton, and winter wheat; potatoes, oats, hay, and hemp are extensively produced. The state's chief crop is corn, followed by cotton, wheat, hay and tobacco in the order named. The live stock production is large, especially of mules and swine. The Tennessee mule is much in demand in other states, as many of the breeders make a specialty of large and heavy animals, which command high prices. The wool clip is large and excellent, and much attention is paid to fine breeds of horses. The 1915 cotton crop was 295,000 bales. The leading cereals are corn, wheat, and oats. Some rye and barley are grown. Corn in 1915 reached 94,500,000 bushels; wheat 9,030,000 bushels; oats, 3,746,000 bushels; potatoes, 3,168,000 bushels; sweet potatoes, 2,835,000 bushels; hay, 1,396,000 tons, and tobacco, 69,675,000 pounds, only four states exceeding this quantity. Peanuts form a product of some importance, yielding about 1,000,000 bushels.

The lumbering interest is very great, there being a large area of valuable hardwood timber. Nearly a third of the state's land area is under forest. About $25,000,000 is invested in the various branches of the lumber industry. The chief lumber products are cooperage stock, spokes and other vehicle stock, ties, handles, posts, piling and furniture stock.

The total value of manufactured goods in 1909 was $180,180,000, with a net value, outside of the cost of materials of $76,114,000; 73,840 wage earners were employed and wages were $28,252,000. Besides there were 8,417 salaried employes, receiving $9,186,000. Lumber with a gross output of $30,457,000 and flour and other mill products $29,070,000 were the leading industries.

Tennessee is rich in minerals of many kinds, over forty different minerals of economic value being found in commercial quantities. There are immense deposits of marble, limestone and other building stone; valuable copper mines exist in Polk county, producing 18,737,656 pounds in 1914; coal and iron ore are very abundant. The coal fields have an area of 4,400 square miles, and the output in 1914 was 5,943,258 tons. Iron mining and smelting are becoming very extensive, and much iron ore is exported to the iron working towns on the Ohio river. Tennessee is second among the states in the production of phosphate rock, the 1914 output being 483,203 tons. Zinc production is growing fast. The 1914 output was 10,425 tons, nearly double that of 1913. Other minerals in paying quantities are gold, silver, barytes, bauxite, tripoli, etc. Colored marbles are found in immense quantities in East and West Tennessee; roofing slates in East Tennessee; hydraulic limestone in East, Middle and West Tennessee. Fire and potter's clay are abundant and of the finest quality.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Tennessee is 314, including 18 daily, 4 semi-weekly, 222 weekly, 1 fortnightly, 3 semi-monthly, 45 monthly and 21 quarterly. The places of publication number 145, of which 86, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.

TEXAS.

Population *4,257,854.
(U. S. Census Bureau estimate for 1914).

STATE CAPITAL, AUSTIN.

TEXAS is bounded north by New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Arkansas, east by Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana, southeast by the Gulf of Mexico, southwest by Mexico, and west by New Mexico; greatest length, about 740 miles; greatest breadth, 325 miles; land area, 265,896 square miles. From the Sabine river to the Trinity river is the great timber region, generally level and sandy in the south, rolling and fertile in the north. From the Trinity to the Colorado is prairie, timbered along streams, with extensive forests of live oak, extending through central and western Texas to the Red river, called the "Cross Timbers." The mean elevation is about 850 feet. The pecan tree is widely distributed, and is a valuable nut-bearing tree, its yield being estimated at 9,000,000 pounds, or 56 per cent. of the entire crop of the United States. Western Texas embraces the counties between the Colorado and Rio Grande; four-fifths of it is prairie; timber is generally confined to banks of streams. Between the Colorado and the Brazos rivers are the Comanche and Leon River Mountain ranges. In the north and northwest are the Church and Double Mountains, and the surface is generally broken until the Llano Estacado, or Staked Plain, is reached. It composes a great portion of the "Panhandle" and the natural vegetation consists only of grass. There is some farming here, but the chief industry of this district, and, indeed, the whole northwestern part of the state is stock raising. Between the Pecos and Rio Grande are several ranges, sometimes attaining an elevation of 5,000 feet.

The chief crops of Texas are cotton, corn, and wheat, but almost every variety of plant which can be grown in the temperate or sub-tropical regions, and many which are considered tropical plants, can be grown successfully in some part of this great state. About a fifth of the world's cotton crop is produced in Texas. The 1915 yield was 3,175,000 bales; the total yield of the United States in that year was 11,161,000 bales. The world's yield was estimated at 16,000,000 bales. Galveston, through which port the bulk of Texas cotton is shipped, handles more than any other port, shipping nearly 4,000,000 bales each year. Cotton and corn may be grown in nearly any part of the state, but especially in the eastern and central sections, wheat chiefly in the north and centre. Sea island cotton is grown on the coast. 175,075,000 bushels of corn were grown in 1915, also 22,862,000 of wheat, 44,375,000 of oats, 7,930,000 of rice (exceeded by Louisiana only), and some barley and rye. Sweet potatoes produced 5,880,000 bushels. Sugar cane is grown chiefly on the Brazos and other rivers, near their mouths, and produced 7,000 tons of sugar in 1914; rice in the south and southeast. Tobacco and onions are largely grown. Texas had 5,428,000 beef cattle in 1916, one-seventh of the country's stock. While the production of beef cattle is still one of Texas' great industries, the day of the great cattle ranges is passing, and the "nester" is coming into possession of the land. The number of families owning and residing upon their farms rose from 172,160 in 1900 to 297,720 in 1910, and the total agricultural population is estimated at about 2,500,000, two-thirds of the state's whole population. The dairy industry is large and growing. There were 1,119,000 dairy cows in 1916. Texas produces more mules than any other state. There were 768,000 of these useful animals in the state in 1916. The Texas mule is usually somewhat lighter in weight than those of Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee, but is strong, active and hardy, and in great demand in the gulf states and in Mexico. There were also 1,180,000 horses, 2,150,000 sheep and 3,197,000 hogs. Texas now produces immense quantities of orchard and garden products. Thousands of acres are under irrigation from flowing artesian wells, principally located in southwest Texas. The chief occupation in the west is stock raising and wool growing. Angora goats form a valuable part of the live stock; Texas goats producing fully half of the 3,000,000 pounds of mohair cut annually in the United States. Figs and oranges thrive in the south. The agricultural products of the state in 1915 had a value of $407,040,000, a very close second to Illinois, which led the states with $408,110,000.

Manufacturing interests are increasing. The leading products are lumber (1,902,201,000 feet in 1912), cottonseed oil, flour, carriages, foundry and machine shop products, woolens, marble, etc. Cotton mills have been established in the state, operating a total of about 100,000 spindles and 2,500 looms.

Silver is found in Presidio and El Paso counties, the 1915 output being 705,000 ounces. In the southern part of Brewster county quicksilver is found. Copper, lead and zinc are mined in small quantities. There is a field of lignite coal about 6,000 square miles in extent, and three large fields of bituminous coal, one in the north and two in the southwest, and smaller fields elsewhere in the state. The production of coal in 1914 was 2,323,773 tons. In that year the oil wells of the state produced 26,000,000 barrels. Natural gas is also found. Salt is produced in large quantities from springs in El Paso, Lampasas, Llano, and Mitchell counties. Texas leads in asphalt. The 1914 production was 57,934 tons, its value $608,132. Large quantities of saltpetre are found in Blanco and Burnet counties; marble and roofing slate, grindstones, building stone, gypsum, sulphur, potter's and fire clays, marl and other fertilizers are abundant.

The number of newspapers and periodicals published in Texas is 1,032, including 105 daily, 26 semi-weekly, 826 weekly, 11 semi-monthly, 60 monthly and 4 quarterly. The places of publication number 633, of which 228, designated by a dagger (†), are county seats.
