

February 25, 1952

Dr. T. M. Sonneborn
Indiana University

Dear Tracy:

Thank you for your cordial letter of the 19th.

Esther and I would like very much to accept your seminar invitation. However, we would prefer not to make any commitments for Thursday night. Would it be convenient to you if we set it for early Thursday afternoon? If not, can you leave the question open until we see you this Sunday?

We hope to arrive in Bloomington about dusk Sunday afternoon. We have made no arrangements for a place to stay: the Union seemed like a perfectly satisfactory place on the occasion of my last visit. Would it be possible to arrange a reservation for us there? If "stay over with us" is a personal invitation, we will be glad to accept your hospitality, but if that would mean the slightest disruption of your household, we would be quite content at the Union.

We will probably have left Madison too soon for a direct reply. If anything drastic comes up between Friday and Sunday morning, we can be reached through Aaron Novick (home phone MI-3-1959).

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg