

Permanent Access to Digital Information CENDI Survey

Name:
Position:
Organization:
E-mail:
Phone:
Fax:

For the purposes of this study, permanent availability to digital information is defined as the archiving, long term preservation, and access to information that is originally published in electronic form with or without a print counterpart.

1. Has your organization undertaken a project related to permanent availability of digital information?

- Yes.....Project Name:
- No, but we are likely to have a project within the next two years (Skip to 6)
- No, but my organization is interested in this topic (Skip to 6)
- No (Skip to 6)

2. What is the stage of development of your project?

- Design (on paper)
- Prototype
- Operational with a partial implementation
- Fully operational, initial installation
- Fully operational with continued enhancements

3. What is the content being archived and preserved for permanent availability? (Check ALL that apply)

- Journal Issues/Articles
- Preprints of Journal Articles
- Technical Reports and Grey Literature
- Books/Textbooks/Monographs
- Still Images/Pictures
- Video/Animation
- Audio
- Multi-media
- News/Wire Feeds
- Scientific Numeric Data
- Other (Please explain)

4. Please describe your organization's project briefly on the back of this paper. Include a reference to a URL if available.

5. Please provide a Point of Contact at your organization whom we may contact for more information about this project.

6. Do you know of other projects that should be reviewed, (consider those in your discipline or geographic region)?