Lewistown, MT----The November 8 & 9 meeting of the Bureau of Land Management's Central Montana Resource Advisory Council (RAC) has been postponed.

“Several of our council members' terms have expired and we do not yet have new appointments to fill those terms. Since much of the November meeting would have been dedicated to orientation for new and current members, it just would not be prudent to hold this meeting until the new members on board,” according to June Bailey, BLM's Lewistown Field Manager.

The BLM expects to receive appointments to five seats on the 15-member Central Montana RAC in the near future and will then work to reschedule this meeting.
