

Taxonomy Tools

Have you heard and read about sophisticated taxonomy software, but aren't quite sure how it is used? Have you heard sales pitches at conferences but can't quite connect your information services operations to the functions being demonstrated?

Join users of three different taxonomy software tools—Nstein, Quiver and Global Wisdom—at this lunchtime discussion to hear about their implementation experience at the American Psychological Association (APA), Pepsi and the Cognitive Task Analysis (CTA) for the Office of Naval Research. Hear what others are doing in their libraries with this new technology and bring your questions so that you can consider possible applications in your own agency.

Moderator:

Jan Herd, Business Reference Service, Science, Technology & Business Division, Library of Congress

Presenters:

Alvin Walker, APA (Nstein)
Kelly Abner, Pepsi (Inktomi - formerly Quiver)
Jared Freeman, Aptima.com (Global Wisdom)
