

Environmental Health

Dedicated to the advancement of the environmental health professional

Volume 69, No. 6 January/February 2007

About the Cover:

This month's Inside the Profession column answers the question posed by last month's: Does the field of environmental health have any broadly recognized leaders? And if so, where are those leaders steering us? The 15 people featured on our cover were identified as leaders by practitioners from around the country. Our staff reporter subsequently interviewed them about their own careers and about a variety of issues facing the profession as a whole. The resulting profiles are collected in this issue in "Profiles in Leadership, Part II: The 15 Faces of Environmental Health Leadership."
