

Energy Clip

Music during montage of images, then President Bush speaks:

By applying the talent and technology of America, this country can design improvements in our environment and move beyond a petroleum based economy, and make dependence on middle eastern oil a thing of the past.