Dear Sirs,

March 3, 2001

I strongly urge you to adopt required labeling for all genetically engineered foods as well as mandatory safety testing. I want to be able to choose whether or not my family will consume these questionable products which many authorities argue have not been adequately tested. It is your job to protect the consumer rather than the manufacturers and not allow untested products into the marketplace. At the very least, you MUST allow us, the consumers, to decide for ourselves.

Sincerely,

Sydney R. Davis
