To Whom It May Concern,

in order to keep our nation's food supply free from allergic responses, toxicity, lowered nutritional value and compromise of immune system responses and predictable, irreversible changes to the environment, all genetically engineered foods must be labelled as such. Without labelling, responsible citizens cannot make wise choices in their food selections to protect their families.

All genetically engineered foods must be taken off supermarket shelves immediately and labelled. 81% of United States citizens want labelling. Why does our own government not protect us and guarantee our most basic human right: unadulterated food, free from toxins, poisons, carcinogens, etc.? Please, label all genetically engineered foods. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Inge K. Szucs
