Inventory of Homeless Units and Beds

Seattle / King County

Spring 2007

Important – Please Read

This inventory is a point in time count of emergency shelter, transitional housing, and permanent housing beds specifically dedicated for homeless people. In this inventory:

- Program capacity is represented by both units and beds. The unit number represents the number of households that a given program can serve at one time, while the bed number represents the maximum number of individual persons that could live in those units. For programs serving family households (young parents, women with children, and families with children) these two figures differ, while for programs serving single person households (youth / young adults, single women, single men, and single adults) the number of units and the number of beds are the same.
- Emergency shelter is separated into fixed (facility-based) capacity and flexible (i.e., hotel/motel voucher programs).
- Youth (under age 18) and Young Adults (age 18 and older) are served by many of the same agencies, and are often discussed as a single population group. There are, however, differences between the two groups and in the requirements for working with them (i.e., minors as opposed to adults). In this report, while they are combined in the summary tables and charts, the two groups are shown separately in the more detailed tables.

This Inventory of Homeless Units and Beds was compiled by staff from the King County Community Services Division. Data reflected here were collected in conjunction with our county's consolidated application for federal McKinney Homeless Assistance Program funds.

Permanent Housing for Formerly Homeless People

Permanent Supportive Housing (PSH) is housing where households can live for as long as they wish or need to. PSH has supportive services linked with the housing (often on-site) to help these households maintain their housing stability. In the Seattle/King County area, 2,231 units in non-profit owned and/or operated housing were identified as Permanent Supportive Housing for homeless people, many with special needs. This capacity includes Shelter Plus Care Units. Under development are another 344 units of PSH.

In addition to the permanent supportive housing indicated above, a number of non-profit organizations have permanent housing units in some of their properties that are specifically designated for formerly homeless people. Many non-profits also have units that they may target for homeless people; however, identifying all such beds was beyond the scope of this report.

PART B: Emergency Shelter Resources

1. Summary

Emergency Shelter is defined as temporary shelter from the elements and unsafe streets for homeless individuals and families. In Seattle-King County, shelter programs are either fixed capacity (facility-based) or flexible capacity (i.e., hotel/motel vouchers, etc.). Homeless people staying in emergency shelters typically have their basic health, food, clothing, and personal hygiene needs addressed, and they receive information and referral about supportive services and housing in our community. Shelters range from mats on the floor in a common space to beds in individual units.

There is an extensive network of emergency shelter facilities in Seattle/King County with a total year round capacity of approximately 1,939 units / 2,513 beds. Additional shelter, with varying capacity, is provided through numerous hotel/motel voucher programs. During the winter months, October through March, shelter capacity is further expanded.

System-wide shelter referrals are made through:

- The bed bank at the Crisis Clinic that keeps daily information on shelter availability
- Welfare offices that make referrals and placement in emergency services
- Operation Nightwatch and the Women's Referral Center that assist with late night placement
- Many local police departments that assist with referrals to shelters or provide vouchers for short term hotel/motel stays, and
- In situations where there is domestic violence, national, state and local hotlines and a strong referral network among local organizations, police departments, and criminal justice system link people with safe shelter.

TOTAL CAPACITY – FACILITY-BASED EMERGENCY SHELTER

PART C: Transitional Housing Resources

1. Summary

Transitional Housing is defined as temporary housing (90 days to 24 months) with supportive services designed to help people make the transition from homelessness to permanent housing. In Seattle-King County, there are two models of transitional housing: (1) traditional facility-based programs that enable homeless people to benefit from a peer group setting, a time-limited length of stay, and/or a confidential location, and (2) Transition-in-Place programs in which supportive services are time-limited while the housing unit is not. Once clients no longer need the services, they have the option to stay in the affordable units in which they have been living. In both models, individual needs of the clients determine the type and intensity of services needed to promote residential stability, increased skill level and/or income, and greater self-determination.

A total of 2,171 transitional housing units / 4,184 beds are routinely available in Seattle/King County to assist formerly homeless people as they regain stability in their lives. Another 31 units / 128 beds are in the development stage. Included in this inventory are traditional models of transitional housing where residents benefit from a peer group setting as well as Transition-in-Place models.

PART D: Permanent Housing for Homeless People

Along with the rest of the region's low and moderate-income residents, formerly homeless people searching for affordable housing find it a very difficult task. Barriers include the short supply of affordable housing, condo-conversion, low vacancy rates and reduced turnover, little or no rental history, prior evictions, criminal records, poor credit references, discrimination, and the need for housing-related support services in order to remain successful in permanent housing.

Public housing. The lion's share of affordable housing for homeless people is made available through four local housing authorities - King County Housing Authority, Muckleshoot Housing Authority, Renton Housing Authority, and Seattle Housing Authority. This housing is project-based and Section 8 or Housing Choice vouchers. For the public housing waiting list, historically there have been a number of preferences, including homelessness, rent burden, sub-standard housing, and persons with disabilities, based on federal regulations. Currently, the King County and Seattle Housing Authorities have local preferences that prioritize homeless people for their housing programs.

Shelter Plus Care (SPC) rental assistance specifically for homeless people is another major resource. The King County Shelter Plus Care program is a federally funded grant program for permanent supportive housing that provides long-term housing subsidies for homeless people with chronic disabilities living with mental illness, HIV/AIDS, and/or chemical addiction.

Non-profit-owned/operated Permanent Supportive Housing (PSH). We identified 1,650 units / 1,711 beds in Seattle and 58 units / 173 beds in King County outside of Seattle in non-profit owned and/or operated Permanent Supportive Housing programs. PSH is housing where households can live for as long as they wish or need to, and where the units are connected with supportive services to help the households maintain their housing stability. These units are specifically for homeless people, many with special needs.

Non-profit-owned/operated Permanent Housing. In addition to the permanent supportive housing indicated above, a number of non-profit organizations have permanent housing units in some of their properties that are specifically designated for formerly homeless people, and many non-profits also have units that they may target for homeless people. Identifying all such beds, however, was beyond the scope of this report.
