

Davison Elected Fellow of the American Institute of Medical and Biological Engineering

- Dr. Brian Davison has been elected a Fellow of the American Institute for Medical and Biological Engineering (AIMBE). He will be officially inducted as a Fellow at the Annual AIMBE Meeting on March 2 at the National Academy of Sciences. The election was based on his many distinguished contributions to the field as well as his demonstrated interest, concern, and involvement with critical issues affecting medical and biological engineering.
