Planning and Management.—The Department's formal information technology (IT) investment management policy and process ensures that investment decisions are aligned with the strategic goals of the Department, are well-planned and justified, and fit within the Department's overall IT strategy and enterprise architecture, and are managed effectively throughout the life cycle. The resources included in this request will be applied to improving the management of IT projects through a variety of means, including: more structured and detailed reviews by the Department's CIO of component projects; improved financial and performance reporting; and a more standardized systems development life cycle methodology and program management model.

Joint Automated Booking System.—The Joint Automated Booking System (JABS) performs three major functions: (1) facilitates rapid identification of individuals under arrest or detention through automation of the booking process and an interface with the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) fingerprint identification system; (2) minimizes duplication of data entry by multiple law enforcement agencies during the booking process, and; (3) promotes data sharing of arrest records among JABS participants and other interested parties. When implemented, JABS will provide a rapid conduit to the FBI for offender identification and a current, nationwide reference for criminal offenders, arrests, cases and related data to aid in criminal investigations and prosecutions.

IDENT/IAFIS Integration.—The Automated Biometric Identification System/Integrated Automated Fingerprint Identification System (IDENT/IAFIS) integration project is designed to support the apprehension and prosecution of criminal aliens and to provide state and local law enforcement personnel with direct access to Border and Transportation Security (BTS) data through IAFIS. With a real-time connection between the two systems, IDENT/IAFIS integration will provide BTS the capability to determine whether an apprehended person is the subject of a currently posted Want/ Warrant or has a record in the FBI's-Criminal Master File. Collaterally, the integration of IDENT and IAFIS will enable cognizant law enforcement agencies to obtain all relevant immigration information as part of a criminal history response from a single FBI search request. IDENT/IAFIS integration is proceeding in an incremental manner with a careful attention to the technical aspects as well as the programmatic and operational effects associated with the project before initiating the full scale development and implementation of the integrated system.

Information Technology Security.—The Department has established minimum requirements for ensuring the security of its classified and Sensitive But Unclassified systems and networks. The resources included in this request will assign responsibility for IT security to a senior executive, develop a security architecture, implement common security tools and develop a Public Key Infrastructure.

Note.—Includes $3 million in budget authority in 2003 and 2004 for activities of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives transferred in 2003 from the Department of Treasury. A similar amount is included in 2002 for consistency of presentation.

Resources are proposed to provide funding for the Department of Justice conversion of its wireless radio communications to narrowband operations. Federal Government agencies are required by 47 U.S.C. 903(d)(1) to make more efficient use of their radio spectrum. The National Telecommunications and Information Administration's implementing regulations require that all Federal spectrum users narrow, by one-half, the bandwidth used to transmit radio signals by the year 2005 for Very High Frequency (VHF) allocations and 2008 for Ultra High Frequency (UHF) allocations. The Department's 2004 budget continues the implementation of the Integrated Wireless Network (IWN), a joint initiative with the Departments of Treasury and Homeland Security. Requested resources will be allocated to support Justice components' existing legacy land mobile radio systems; support IWN operations and maintenance requirements; invest in new narrowband infrastructure and subscriber equipment; and support management and operating requirements of the Joint Wireless Program Management Office.

The Communications Assistance for Law Enforcement Act (CALEA) of 1994 authorizes the Attorney General to reimburse telecommunications carriers for costs associated with modifying digital equipment installed before January 1, 1995, in order that court-authorized wiretaps may be performed.

The Omnibus Consolidated Appropriations Act of 1997 (P.L. 104–208) extended eligibility for reimbursement to telecommunications equipment manufacturers and providers of support services. In addition to direct appropriations to the Fund, Congress authorized Federal agencies with law enforcement and intelligence responsibilities to transfer to the Fund unobligated balances that are available until expended, upon compliance with Congressional notification requirements.

With the appropriations provided in 2001, total funding for the program has reached $500 million, the authorization level provided in the Act.

For FY 2004, the Detention Trustee will continue to work with state governments, local governments, and private service providers to maintain adequate detention capacity to house detained individuals charged with federal offenses, detained while awaiting trial or sentencing, a hearing on their immigration status, or deportation. Based on anticipated growth rates in the federal detainee population, during FY 2003/FY 2004 the number of detainees in state, local, and private prisons is expected to represent approximately 75 percent of the federally detained population. These working relationships, with state, local, and private prison providers are paramount to carrying out the function of detention and also save on costly capital development of federal facilities.

In view of this anticipated growth, and the current excess of state, local and private prison bed space, DOJ has formed a special working group to evaluate such opportunities. This working group consists of representatives from the Office of the Federal Detention Trustee (OFDT), Border and Transportation Security, the United States Marshal Service (USMS), and the Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP). OFDT serves as the lead. The group's principal objective is to ensure that excess state and local prison facilities are fairly and thoroughly evaluated and consistent standards are employed in these evaluations. The working group considers the location of the facility, size and security level (including flexibility in security level), assesses short-term and long-term bed space requirements, and the amount and status of bed space already available in the vicinity of the facility being reviewed.

The National Clearinghouse for Detention Space, which serves as a national repository for state and local governments and private detention bed space providers to electronically post vacancies rates, services, administrative costs, availability and mode of transport and medical services, will assist the working group in quickly and easily identifying available detention bed space.

In FY 2003, OFDT completed two regional detention pilot projects, one in the Midwest and one along the Southwest border, for process improvements in the areas of consolidation and oversight of federal detention. In FY 2004, successful common elements of the pilot projects will be implemented by OFDT in other areas of the country.

Note.—Includes $5 million in budget authority in 2003 and 2004 for activities of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives transferred in 2003 from the Department of Treasury. A similar amount is included in 2002 for consistency of presentation.

The Office of the Inspector General (OIG) was statutorily established in the Department of Justice on April 14, 1989. The OIG investigates alleged violations of criminal and civil laws, regulations, and ethical standards arising from the conduct of the Department's employees. The OIG provides leadership and assists management in promoting integrity, economy, efficiency, and effectiveness within the Department and in its financial, contractual, and grant relationships with others. Also by statute, the OIG reports to the Attorney General, Congress, and the public on a semiannual basis regarding its significant activities.

The Audit function is responsible for independent audits and reviews of Department organizations, programs, functions, computer security and information technology systems, and financial statement audits. The Audit function also conducts or reviews external audits of expenditures made under Department contracts, grants, and other agreements.

The Investigations function investigates allegations of civil rights violations, bribery, fraud, abuse and violations of other laws, rules and procedures that govern Department employees, contractors, and grantees. This function also develops these cases for criminal prosecution, civil action, or administrative action. In some instances the OIG refers allegations to components within the Department and requests notification of their findings and of any disciplinary action taken.

The Evaluation and Inspections function conducts analyses and makes recommendations to decision makers for improvements in Department programs, policies, and procedures. In addition, this function also conducts shorter and more timesensitive reviews and evaluations to provide managers with early warnings about possible program deficiencies.

The Oversight and Review function investigates allegations of significant interest to the American public and Congress and of vital importance to the Department.

The Executive Direction and Control function provides program direction for the OIG. Responsibilities include policy development, legal counsel, Congressional affairs, planning, budget, finance, personnel, procurement, automated data processing, and general support services.

The United States Parole Commission makes decisions to grant or deny parole to Federal and D.C. Code prisoners serving sentences of one year and a day or more, sets conditions of parole, supervises parolees and mandatory releasees, recommits parolees in the event of violations of the conditions of supervision, and determines the termination of supervision in accordance with the Parole Commission and Reorganization Act of 1976.

In addition, the Commission seeks to improve the rehabilitation process by monitoring an effective parole supervision program through U.S. and District of Columbia probation officers and through research studies that evaluate the effectiveness of parole programs. During 2000, the U.S. Parole Commission assumed responsibility for parole revocation hearings and supervision of District of Columbia parolees under the National Capital Revitalization and Self-Government Improvement Act (P.L. 105–33).

SALARIES AND EXPENSES, ANTITRUST DIVISION

For expenses necessary for the enforcement of antitrust and kindred laws, $141,898,000: Provided, That, notwithstanding any other provision of law, not to exceed $141,898,000 of offsetting collections derived from fees collected for premerger notification filings under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976 (15 U.S.C. 18a), regardless of the year of collection, shall be retained and used for necessary expenses in this appropriation, and shall remain available until expended: Provided further, That the sum herein appropriated from the general fund shall be reduced as such offsetting collections are received during fiscal year 2004, so as to result in a final fiscal year 2004 appropriation from the general fund estimated at not more than $0.

Note.—A regular 2003 appropriation for this account had not been enacted at the time the budget was prepared; therefore, this account is operating under a continuing resolution (P.L. 107–229, as amended). The amounts included for 2003 in this budget reflect the Administration's 2003 policy proposals.

The Federal Government is represented in each of the 94 judicial districts and the District of Columbia Superior Court by a U.S. Marshal. The primary missions of the U.S. Marshals Service are protection of the Federal judiciary, protection of witnesses, execution of warrants and court orders, and custody and transportation of unsentenced prisoners. It is the principal support force in the Federal judicial system and an integral part of the Federal law enforcement community.

Reimbursable program.—Federal funds in 2004 are derived primarily from the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts for the court security program and inspectors for court security, the Assets Forfeiture Fund for seized assets management, the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force Program for multi-agency drug investigations, the U.S. Air Force for the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile Program for transportation security services provided by the U.S. Marshals Service, and the Office of National Drug Control Policy and the Centers for Disease Control for security services. Non-Federal funds are derived from State and local governments for witness protection and for the transportation of prisoners pursuant to State writs and from fees collected from service of civil process and sales associated with judicial orders.

This appropriation is used to pay fees and expenses to witnesses who appear on behalf of the Government in litigation in which the United States is a party. Factors over which the Department of Justice has little, or no, control affect the costs incurred. The U.S. Attorneys, the U.S. Marshals, and the Department's six litigating divisions are served by this appropriation.

Fees and expenses of witnesses.—Pays the fees and expenses associated with the preparation and presentation of testimony on behalf of the United States for fact witnesses, who testify as to events or facts about which they have personal knowledge, and for expert witnesses, who provide technical or scientific testimony. This program also pays the fees of physicians and psychiatrists who examine accused persons upon order of the court to determine their mental competency.

Protection of witnesses.—Pays subsistence and other costs to ensure the safety of Government witnesses whose testimony on behalf of the United States places them or their families in jeopardy.

Victim compensation fund.—Pays restitution to any victim of a crime committed by a protected witness who causes or threatens death or serious bodily injury.

Private counsel.—Pays private counsel retained to represent Government employees who are sued, charged, or subpoenaed for actions taken while performing their official duties (private counsel expenditures may be authorized for congressional testimony as well as for litigation in instances where government counsel is precluded from representing the employee or private counsel is otherwise appropriate);

D.C. Court Informant Protection.—Pays for the short term protection and temporary relocation of informants for the District of Columbia Superior Court.

Alternative Dispute Resolution.—Pays the costs of providing Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) services in instances wherein the Department has taken the initiative to use such services and in those matters wherein the courts have directed the parties to attempt a settlement using mediation or some other ADR process.

Reimbursable program.—Receives reimbursement from States and localities to cover the costs of maintaining those State and local organized crime witnesses and their families who have been accepted into the witness protection program.

United States trustee system fund.—The United States trustees supervise the administration of bankruptcy cases and private trustees in the Federal Bankruptcy Courts. The Bankruptcy Judges, U.S. Trustees and Family Farmer Bankruptcy Act of 1986 (Public Law 99–554) expanded the pilot trustee program to a twenty-one region, nationwide program encompassing 88 judicial districts. This program collects user fees assessed against debtors, which offset the annual appropriation.

The Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1984 established the Assets Forfeiture Fund, into which forfeited cash and the proceeds of sales of forfeited property are deposited. Authorities of the fund have been amended by various public laws enacted since 1984. Under current law, authority to use the fund for certain investigative expenses shall be specified in annual appropriation acts. Expenses necessary to seize, detain, inventory, safeguard, maintain, advertise or sell property under seizure are funded through a permanent, indefinite appropriation. In addition, beginning in 1993, other general expenses of managing and operating the asset forfeiture program are paid from the permanent, indefinite portion of the fund. Once all expenses are covered, and statutorily mandated transfers are accomplished, the balance is maintained to meet ongoing expenses of the program. Excess unobligated balances may also be allocated by the Attorney General in accordance with 28 U.S.C. 524(c)(8)(E).

Note. Includes $112 million in budget authority in 2004 for Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement activities proposed for transfer from the Departments of Treasury and Homeland Security. Comparable amounts for 2002 and 2003 are shown in the Department of the Treasury, Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement ($108 million) and Coast Guard ($1 million).

This appropriation provides reimbursements to agencies within the Department of Justice, Department of Treasury, and Department of Homeland Security that participate in the Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force (OCDETF) Program. The OCDETF Program consists of a nationwide structure of 9 regional task forces that combine the resources and expertise of its 11 member Federal agencies, in cooperation with State and local investigators and prosecutors, to target and destroy major narcotic trafficking and money-laundering organizations. The task forces perform the following activities:

1. Investigation.—This activity includes the resources for direct investigative intelligence and support activities of the task forces, focusing on the disruption and dismantlement of drug trafficking and money laundering organizations by various organized crime enterprises. Organizations participating under the law enforcement function are the Drug Enforcement Administration, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Internal Revenue Service, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives, U.S. Coast Guard, U.S. Marshals Service, and Border and Transportation Security.

2. Prosecution.—This activity includes the resources for the prosecution of cases generated through the investigative efforts of task force agents. Litigation efforts are targeted selectively on the criminal leadership involved in drug trafficking and are intended to dissolve organized illicit enterprises. This includes activities designed to secure the seizure and forfeiture of the assets of these enterprises. Participating agencies are the U.S. Attorneys, Criminal Division and Tax Division.

The planned distribution of obligations for 2003 and 2004 among the participating Federal agencies, as well as the actual distribution for 2002, is as follows:

Consolidated Priority Targets (CPOT)	53	53

At the request of the Attorney General, the OCDETF member agencies, working together with input from the intelligence community, developed the Consolidated Priority Organization Target (CPOT) List which identifies the 53 most significant international drug trafficking and money laundering organizations responsible for the largest drug supply to the United States. OCDETF has identified 369 current OCDETF investigations that are targeting components of the CPOT-listed organizations. The focus on CPOT-linked investigations is one of many steps taken by the OCDETF program to enhance and expand its investigations across the United States. The goal is to dismantle the entire infrastructure of these major drug trafficking and money laundering organizations, thereby reducing the drug supply to the United States. This sharply focused effort ensures that OCDETF funding is being used as effectively and efficiently as possible. It should result in an increase of linked CPOT investigations by 33 percent in FY 2003.

As OCDETF has renewed its focus on the higher level targets and investigations, the total OCDETF cases initiated decreased by 33 percent (1,336 to 895) between FY 2001 and FY 2002. This has occurred because OCDETF resources are being concentrated on more sophisticated, more long-term and resource-intensive investigations, thereby reducing the number of investigations which are undertaken. The decrease is also attributed to the decrease in drug enforcement resources available to OCDETF member agency resources due to the build-up in counter-terrorism programs after September 11, 2001. During FY 2003, it is projected that OCDETF case initiations will continue to decrease by additional 10 percent (895 to 800). However, rather than being a cause for alarm, OCDETF believes this decrease in cases initiated will be indicative of our emphasis on "quality investigations" rather than the quantity of investigations.

The mission of the FBI is to protect the United States from terrorist and foreign intelligence activities; to uphold the law through the investigation of violations of Federal criminal law; to provide leadership and assistance to Federal, state, local and international law enforcement agencies; and to perform these responsibilities in a manner that is responsive to the needs of the public and is faithful to the Constitution of the United States.

Protecting America in the current challenging national security and criminal environment requires that the FBI refocus its priorities; realign its workforce to address these priorities; and improve management policies and operating procedures to enhance flexibility, agility, effectiveness, and accountability. The FBI's revised strategic priorities are in order:

• Protect the United States from terrorist attack.

• Protect the United States against foreign intelligence operations and espionage.

• Protect the United States against cyber-based attacks and high technology crimes.

Combat public corruption at all levels of government.Protect civil rights.

• Combat transnational and national criminal organizations and enterprises.

- Combat major white-collar crime.
- Combat significant violent crime.

• Support federal, state, county, municipal, and international partners.

• Upgrade technology to successfully perform the FBI's mission.

FBI investigations and operations are conducted through a network of 56 major field offices, over 400 smaller field offices (resident agencies), and 4 information technology centers located throughout the United States and Puerto Rico; the FBI Academy and engineering complex at Quantico, Virginia; a fingerprint identification and criminal justice information services center in Clarksburg, West Virginia; 45 foreign liaison posts; and FBI Headquarters in Washington, D.C.

A number of FBI activities are carried out on a reimbursable basis. Since 1997, the FBI has been reimbursed for investigations of health care fraud and abuse as provided by the Health Care Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (P.L. 104–191). Additionally, the FBI is reimbursed for its participation in Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement programs and by other Federal agencies for certain investigative services, such as pre-employment background inquiries and fingerprint and name checks. The FBI also is authorized to conduct fingerprint and name checks for certain non-federal agencies.

For FY 2004, $539 million in enhancements are proposed. These enhancements support operations, information technology, security, and infrastructure needs. Highlights of these initiatives include: (1) enhanced counterterrorism capabilities; (2) enhanced counterintelligence programs; (3) enhanced capability for cyber crimes investigations; (4) improved security for FBI personnel, facilities, and information; and (5) improved information technology.

The budget presentation reflects two proposals that are central to the FBI's efforts to effectively and efficiently achieve its new priorities:

• A budget structure that has been reduced from 10 program areas to 4 major functions—Counterterrorism, National Security, Criminal Enterprises/Federal Crimes, and Criminal Justice Services.

• The allocation to these 4 programs includes a share of the cost of information technology, laboratory services, executive management, and other activities that support multiple programs.

These two proposals will provide several benefits:

• The FBI, Congress, and the public will be better informed of the full cost of critical FBI activities, such as combating terrorism.

• Strategic planning will be facilitated by focusing on a limited number of core programs, and by having improved budget data for decision making.

• The FBI's ability to develop meaningful performance measures and to link performance to costs will be enhanced. These proposals are consistent with the President's Management Agenda, which seeks to integrate more completely information about costs and performance.

DEA's mission is to enforce the controlled substances laws and regulations of the United States, and to bring to the criminal and civil justice system of the United States, or any other competent jurisdiction, those organizations involved in the growing, manufacturing and/or distribution of controlled substances destined for illicit traffic in the United States.

In FY 2004, DEA is requesting to combine its current decision units under Salaries and Expenses to reduce the number from ten (10) to three (3). Domestic Enforcement, International Enforcement, and State and Local Assistance. The decision unit consolidation will allow DEA to better align its resources with strategic plan goals and financial reporting categories, improve managerial flexibility, and reduce the number of reprogrammings, while retaining detailed reporting capability. In addition, in FY 2004, DEA has merged the Construction account into its Salaries and Expenses account.

DEA's activities are divided into three main categories: Enforcement—

Domestic Enforcement. Through effective enforcement efforts and associated support functions, DEA disrupts and dismantles the leadership, command, control, and infrastructure of major drug syndicates, criminal organizations, and violent drug trafficking groups that threaten the United States. This activity contains most of DEA's resources, including domestic enforcement groups, state and local task forces, other funded federal and local task forces, intelligence and diversion control groups, and all the support functions essential to accomplishing their mission. Strategic objectives have been established to:

- --Identify and target the national/regional organizations most responsible for the domestic distribution and manufacture of illicit drugs and diversion of licit drugs and chemicals;
- --Systematically disrupt and dismantle targeted organizations by arresting/convicting their leaders and facilitators, seizing and forfeiting their assets, targeting their money laundering operations, and destroying their command and control networks; and,
- -Work with international offices to dismantle domestic organizations directly affiliated with international cartels.

International Enforcement. DEA works with its foreign counterparts to attack the vulnerabilities in the leadership, production, transportation, communications, finance, and distribution sectors of major international drug trafficking organizations. Strategic objectives include:

- --Identifying, prioritizing, and targeting the most significant international drug and chemical trafficking organizations;
- —Disrupting the networks, financial infrastructures, operations, and the resource bases of targeted international drug and chemical trafficking organizations; and,
- —Dismantling those international organizations that have a nexus to domestic organizations.

State and Local Assistance. DEA advises, assists, and trains state and local law enforcement and local community groups to ensure a consistent national approach to drug law enforcement. DEA's training enhances their enforcement capabilities and provides access to the latest intelligence and investigative methods. The strategic objectives are to:

- -Reduce drug-related violent crime caused by drug traffickers in selected communities;
- -Improve the capabilities of state and local enforcement efforts with specialized training programs; and,
- -Assist local efforts to control the production of cannabis and methamphetamine.

Reimbursable Programs. The primary reimbursements to DEA are for the Interagency Crime and Drug Enforcement Task Force program and the Department of Justice Assets Forfeiture Fund.

For 2004, $42.9 million is provided in support of: (1) DEA's plan for addressing the Nation's illegal drug threats by targeting Priority Drug Trafficking Organizations; (2) DEA's international counter-narcotics training; and (3) improving financial and asset management programs. In addition, DEA will use $7.8 million in prior year unobligated balances to design and construct a replacement laboratory in the Southeast region.

In FY 2004, a $52.7 million offset to DEA's base resources is proposed from the following: savings resulting from Department-wide streamlining efforts; eliminating DEA's Regional Enforcement Team and Mobile Enforcement Team Programs and redirecting positions towards Priority Targeting; reducing DEA's Demand Reduction Program; and reducing DEA's rent, alterations, travel, and relocation resources.

DEA continues to revise and integrate its Strategic Plan, Budget, and Performance Reporting. DEA's specific annual goal is to disrupt and/or dismantle identified Priority Drug Trafficking Organizations and thereby reduce the availability of illegal drugs in the United States. The measures below reflect DEA's focus on priority targets and the planned outcomes of disruption and dismantlement.

Public Law 102–395 established the Diversion Control Fee Account in 1993. Fees charged by the Drug Enforcement Administration under the Diversion Control Program are set at a level that ensures the recovery of the full costs of operating this program. The program's purpose is to prevent, detect, and investigate the diversion of controlled substances from legitimate channels, while ensuring an adequate and uninterrupted supply of controlled substances required to meet legitimate needs. Strategic objectives include:

- -Identifying and targeting those responsible for the diverson of pharmaceutical controlled substances through traditional investigation and cyber crime initiatives to systematically disrupt and dismantle those entities involved in diversion schemes;
- Supporting the registrant population with improved technology, including E-commerce and customer support while maintaining cooperation, support and assistance from the regulated industry;
- -Monitoring drugs of abuse while educating the public on the dangers of prescription drug abuse and taking appropriate scheduling actions or enforcement measures when new trends and drugs of abuse are encountered; and
- -Ensuring an adequate and uninterrupted supply of controlled substances to meet legitimate medical and scientific needs.

Prior to the Homeland Security Act of 2002, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms (ATF) was a law enforcement bureau at the Department of the Treasury dedicated to enforcing Federal laws and regulations and collecting revenue relating to alcohol, tobacco products, firearms and explosives. Subsequent to the provisions of the Homeland Security Act of 2002, ATF was divided into two bureaus, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) and the Bureau of Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade. The Department of the Treasury retained the revenue and regulatory functions relating to alcohol and tobacco in the newly created Bureau of Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade. ATF has been realigned to the Department of Justice with responsibility for enforcement of the Federal laws relating to alcohol, tobacco products, firearms and explosives. The new Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives mission is to deter and investigate violations of law relating to alcohol, tobacco, firearms, explosives and arson. ATF stands in the front ranks of the nation's battle against terrorism. Explosives and firearms can be terrorist tools, and ATF is in the unique position of not only regulating commerce in firearms and explosives, but also of having the requisite expertise and authority to investigate firearms and explosives-related crimes. Through these programs, ATF investigators are positioned to thwart criminal and terrorist activity at every level of the execution process-from the theft or illegal purchase of explosives to the interdiction and neutralization of those explosives. The budget provides $852 million to support ATF.

This appropriation will provide for the custody and care of an average daily population of 176,352 offenders and for the maintenance and operation of 113 penal institutions, 6 regional offices, and a central office located in Washington, D.C. The appropriation also finances the boarding of sentenced Federal prisoners in State and local jails and other facilities for short periods of time. An average daily population of 28,176 sentenced prisoners will be in contract facilities in 2004.

The FPS receives reimbursements for daily care and maintenance of State and local offenders, for utilities used by Federal Prison Industries, Inc., for staff housing, and for meals provided to FPS staff at institutions.

The FPS has restructured its FY 2004 budget in accordance with the President's Management Reform Agenda and the Government Performance and Results Act. The new structure incorporates the old Salaries and Expenses and the Buildings and Facilities budgets into one streamlined budget with two decision units, Inmate Confinement and Inmate Programs.

Inmate Confinement.-This decision unit represents costs associated with Prison Capacity (New Construction, Modernization and Repair, Contract Confinement) and Operations (Institution Security and Administration, Maintenance, Unit Management, Food Service, Training, Medical and the National Institute of Corrections).

PRISON CAPACITY

New Construction.—This activity represents costs associated with the acquisition, construction, and leasing of facilities in order to reduce crowding and provide a safe and humane environment for staff and inmates.

Modernization and repair of existing facilities.—This activity includes rehabilitation and renovation of buildings, necessary modifications to accommodate correctional programs, rehabilitation or replacement of utilities systems, infrastructure, and repair projects at existing facilities.

Contract Confinement.—This activity provides for the confinement of sentenced Federal offenders in Governmentowned, contractor-operated facilities and contract, State and local facilities, and for the care of Federal prisoners in contract community residential centers.

OPERATIONS

Institution Security and Administration.-This budget activity covers costs associated with Institution Security, Institution Administration, Institution Maintenance, Institution Staff Training, and Unit Management. This activity finances institution maintenance, motor pool operations, powerhouse operations, institution security, and other administrative functions. In addition, it covers the cost of all food, medical supplies, clothing, welfare services, release clothing, transportation, gratuities, staff salaries (including salaries of Health Resources and Services Administration commissioned officers), and operational costs of functions directly related to providing inmate care. Finally, it covers all costs associated with regional and central office executive direction and management support functions such as research and evaluation, systems support, financial management, human resources management, inmate systems management, safety, and legal counsel.

National Institute of Corrections.—This activity provides assistance by the National Institute of Corrections to State and local corrections.

Inmate Programs.—This decision unit represents costs associated with Reintegration Tools (Education and Vocational Training, Drug Treatment, Life Connections) and Services (Religious, Psychological).

REINTEGRATION TOOLS

Education and Vocational Training.—Education programming provides inmates with an opportunity to learn the functional skills associated with a positive return to society.

Drug Treatment.—The FPS has developed a comprehensive drug abuse treatment consisting of five components: screening and assessment; drug abuse education, non-residential drug abuse counseling services, residential drug abuse programming, and community-transitional drug abuse treatment.

Life Connections.—The Life Connections Program is a multi faith-based, prison pre-release demonstration program to help federal inmates readjust successfully into law-abiding society, thereby reducing recidivism. This program consist of an intensive, multi-phase program to attempt to instill values and character through a curriculum of personal, social and moral development (e.g., education, parenting and family responsibilities, victim-offender mediation, etc.). Life connections pilot projects are being implemented at FCI Petersburg, VA; FCI Milan, MI; USP Leavenworth, KS; FMC Carswell, TX; and FCI Victorville, CA.

SERVICES

Religious.—Activity finances the costs of religious programs. Psychological.—Activity finances the costs of psychological services.

For 2004, program increases are requested for the activation of 3 U.S. Penitentiaries (USP) and 4 Federal Correctional Institutions (FCI) (FCI Victorville, CA; USP Hazelton, WV; FCI Forrest City, AR; FCI Herlong/Sierra, CA; FCI Williamsburg, SC; USP Canaan, PA; and USP Terre Haute, IN); for contract confinement for female inmates; for counterterrorism resources needed to construct additional bedspace for inmates convicted of terrorist activities; and for BOP's Transitional Drug Treatment Program.

Federal Prison Industries, Inc., was created by Congress in 1934 and is a wholly-owned Government corporation. Its mission is to employ and train Federal inmates through a diversified program providing products and services to other Federal agencies. These operations are conducted in such a manner as to offer a minimum of competition to private industry and labor. Employment provides inmates with work, occupational knowledge and skills, plus money for personal expenses and family assistance.

The Corporation strives to provide additional industrial employment opportunities at existing and planned institutions.

Budget program.—Federal Prison Industries, Inc., operations are entirely self-sustaining. No appropriations are required. The amounts used by the Corporation for administrative expenses are subject to a congressional limitation. Information regarding this limitation is provided separately following this account.

Financing program.—Revenues are derived entirely from the sale of products and services to other Federal agencies. Operating expenses are applied against these revenues, resulting in operating income or loss. Earnings surplus to the needs of the manufacturing operations, capital improvements and cash reserves are used to pay accident compensation.

Operating results.—To date, Federal Prison Industries, Inc., has returned to the Treasury a total of $82 million of retained income excess to the Corporation's needs. No contributions from budget authority have been made to offset deficits for non-revenue producing outlays since the inception of the fund.

The mission of the Office of Justice Programs (OJP) is to provide Federal leadership in developing the nation's capacity to prevent and control crime, administer justice, and assist crime victims. In FY 2004, OJP addressed the President's Management Reform Agenda by streamlining its existing appropriation account structure and consolidating programs and administrative resources into a single decision unit entitled Justice Assistance. The Crime Victims' Fund remains a separate account due to the nature of its resources, which are not provided through appropriations but through the collection of fines and forfeitures.

Within Justice Assistance, OJP has grouped its programs into eight activities, which broadly reflect OJP's major mission critical functions. These activities, and the programs grouped within them, are as follows:

1. Counterterrorism Research and Development: Funds provide for the development of practical tools and approaches to improve the ability of state and local first responders to detect and effectively respond to terrorist acts.

2. Improving the Criminal Justice System: Funds provide a wide range of assistance to States, localities and tribal governments with crime and drug control efforts. These programs and activities target resources to strengthen the capacity of the criminal justice systems at the local level and to promote community-based strategies to prevent and address crime. Funding supports several programs, including:

Regional Information Sharing System (RISS)—Funds State and local law enforcement agencies in the exchange of intelligence information and investigative services and equipment. At its inception, RISS supported state and local law enforcement efforts to combat drug trafficking and organized criminal activity. However, the regional information sharing concept has expanded, and now more law enforcement agencies routinely reach out to share intelligence across jurisdictional boundaries. Section 701 of the USA Patriot Act of 2001 authorizes RISS to operate secure information sharing systems to enhance the investigative and prosecutorial abilities of participating law enforcement agencies in addressing terrorism. The 2004 President's Budget proposes a $12 million increase to expand RISS' accessibility to state and local public safety agencies for the purpose of sharing terrorism alerts and related information.

State and Local Training and Technical Assistance Program—Funds provide targeted training to state and local law enforcement addressing hate crimes and the investigation and prosecution of terrorist crimes. The 2004 President's Budget proposes a total of $4.238 million for this activity.

Justice Assistance Grant Program (-$189.780 million)—For statewide initiatives, technical assistance, training, and other support in the areas of law enforcement, prosecution and court programs, prevention programs, corrections programs and treatment programs. Local funding may also be combined with funding of other jurisdictions to form a regional project. The 2004 President's Budget includes $15 million for the U.S.A. Freedom Corps, which was previously funded under the this program.

Tribal Courts Program (-$7.907 million)—In 2004, this program is proposed to be funded within the total amount requested for the Justice Assistance Grant Program. The Tribal Courts Program seeks to develop new tribal courts, improve operations of existing tribal courts, and provide funding for the training of tribal court staff. Tribal courts help Native American communities develop the capability to address their own crime problems within their communities.

National White Collar Crime Center (-$9.726 million)— Funding is proposed to be eliminated for the White Collar Crime Center due to its specialized, state-specific projects that duplicate Federal efforts in areas such as identity theft.

Hate Crimes Awareness (-$1.238 million)—This program is consolidated under the new State and Local Training and Technical Assistance Program.

3. Research and Demonstration, Evaluation and Statistics: Funds provide a wide range of research and statistical programs addressing criminal justice issues. These programs increase statistics on criminal justice issues and trends, evaluate the effectiveness of current approaches, and identify innovative solutions. Funding supports several programs, including:

Criminal Justice Statistical Programs—Funds provide for the collection and analysis of statistical information concerning crime, victims, offenders, criminal justice processes, and civil disputes in support of public and private policy decisionmaking about society's response to crime; planning, coordination, implementation and provision of technical assistance to States to initiate innovative applications of communications and information systems technology for State and local criminal justice systems; and assurance of conformity with privacy and security regulations. The 2004 President's Budget proposes a $2 million increase to begin the automation of the National Crime Victimization Survey.

Research, Development, and Evaluation Programs (-$5 million)—This decrease represents funds allocated for the DNA research and development program, which are consolidated under the proposed DNA Initiative in FY 2004.

Safe Schools Technology Program (-$16.799 million)—Funding is proposed to be eliminated for this program, which develops technologies used by schools to deter violence. However, law enforcement technologies, currently under development using other funding resources, may be adapted to school situations.

Corrections and Law Enforcement Family Support (-$1.497 million)—Funding is proposed to be eliminated for this research program, which has provided valuable information for law enforcement to address stress among their officers. An evaluation, scheduled for completion in 2003, will provide further information about which programs work. As the program has achieved its goals, funding is eliminated.

4. Technology for Crime Identification: Funds provide a wide range of technology-based assistance to States, localities and tribal governments to solve and reduce crime. Funding supports several programs, including:

DNA Enhancements—$177 million is proposed for State and local crime laboratories to reduce and eventually eliminate backlogs of DNA casework samples (including crime scene and convicted offender samples). Effective backlog reduction requires both the direct defrayal of sample analysis costs to meet immediate needs, and improvements, especially automation upgrades, in forensic laboratories to increase their capacity, eventually enabling them to keep abreast of their DNA analysis without additional Federal funding. These efforts will help prosecute the guilty and exonerate the innocent. The amount requested for this effort reflects a nearly $100 million increase over the 2003 request for similar programs.

Crime Identification Technology Act Program (-$79.499 million)—Funding for this program is proposed to be eliminated, which has been severely impacted in its ability to fund innovative technologies due to the level of earmarking that has occurred in recent years.

Crime Lab Improvement Program (-$34.563 million)—This program is replaced by the expanded DNA Initiative.

5. Strengthening the Juvenile Justice System: Funds support State, local and tribal government activities to prevent juvenile delinquencey and address juvenile crime through increased accountability. Title V Incentive Grants for Local Delinquency Prevention (-$17.5 million)—Of the total $77 million requested, $12.5 million is for the Tribal Youth Program, and the balance is available for local incentive grants.

Juvenile Accountability Incentive Block Grants/Project Childsafe (-$177.993 million)—As a result of significant flaws uncovered by the PART process, funding for JAIBG is proposed to be eliminated in 2004. The 2004 President's Budget includes $26 million for Project Childsafe, which has previously been funded under JAIBG. These resources will allow the Childsafe Program to complete its goals of making gun safety locks widely available ahead of schedule and under budget.

6. Substance Abuse: Demand Reduction: Funds provided are intended to address the problems of substance abuserelated crime, including treatment of offenders with substance abuse problems to improve their ability to transition back into society. These programs include:

Drug Courts—Funds provide assistance to States, local units of government, and to other public or private entities to develop and implement programs for non-violent offenders with substance abuse problems. These programs use the power of the courts and continuing supervision to coerce abstinence through gradudated sanctions and the integrated administration of other services such as drug testing and drug treatment. The 2004 Budget proposes a $16 million increase for technical assistance and to ensure existing courts have the resources to provide the full continuum of services that have been proven effective.

Drug Prevention Demonstration Program (-$11.803 million)—This program has not produced substantive results since its inception in 1998 and is proposed for elimination.

7. Direct Services for Victims of Crime: Funds provide resources to State and local governments to ensure timely delivery of direct payments and services to victims of crime.

Public Safety Officers Benefits—Educational Assistance—An increase of $3.5 million is requested to keep pace with the increasing numbers of dependents of public safety officers, either killed or permanently disabled in the line of duty, who are seeking educational assistance.

8. Education and Training to Better Serve Victims of Crime: Funding supports a variety of services provided by public and private organizations to assist victims of crime including:

Missing and Exploited Children's Program—Additional funds for State training and technical assistance to develop an effective, coordinated Amber Alert program nationwide. The 2004 President's Budget proposes a $2.5 million increase.

Telemarketing Scams Against the Elderly (-$1.976 million)—Funds are proposed to be eliminated for this program in 2004. However, discretionary resources under the Crime Victims Fund are proposed to be targeted to assist victims of telemarketing fraud.

The planned distribution of budget authority by fiscal year is as follows (in millions of dollars) 2004 amounts are presented by decision unit:

This program provides payment of death benefits to eligible survivors of public safety officers who die in the line of duty, disability payments to public safety officers who are permanently disabled as a result of injury incurred in the line of duty, and educational assistance to children or spouses of officers who are killed or permanently disabled in the line of duty. Legislation provides for an annual cost of living escalator tied to the Consumer Price Index (CPI) for death benefit payments. The USA Patriot Act of 2001 (P.L. 107–56) increased the base death and disability payments to $250,000 retroactively to January 1, 2001.

The Victims of Crime Act of 1984 (Public Law 98–473), as amended, established a special fund in the Treasury entitled "The Crime Victims Fund." This fund is credited with criminal fines that are collected from persons convicted of offenses against the United States. Annual grants are made to eligible crime victims compensation and assistance programs.

The 2004 Budget treats amounts deposited into the Fund as available in the year collected, subject to the limitations included in authorizing or appropriations language.
