Cherokee Indian Hospital is seeking a board certified family practice physician in beautiful Western North Carolina. Don't miss this opportunity!

Cherokee Hospital is a 20 bed small hospital located in the beautiful Smoky Mountains. The average daily census is 8 patients. The open position is salaried through direct tribal hire, with excellent benefit package. Commissioned Officers in the Public Health Service will also be considered for employment. The open position consists of predominately emergency department and inpatient coverage. Work is 40 hours per week (flexible possibilities for hours) and no call at home for the most part. The emergency room has approximately 1,500 visits per month, and the outpatient clinic averages approximately 22,000 visits per year.

The practice offers a unique opportunity to practice medicine in a community-oriented primary care system. Consultative and hospital care in secondary and tertiary centers is purchased through contracts. Type 2 diabetes is epidemic in the population so the health care system provides extensive preventive and treatment options. There is a dialysis center and nursing home on the reservation. Candidate must be BC/BE in a primary care physician specialty with ER experience, (or BC/BE in Emergency Medicine), and must be eligible for licensure in North Carolina.

Excellent living conditions with a family atmosphere, 4-season climate; plenty of outdoor activities (whitewater, hiking, mountain biking, camping) in our backyard. One hour from Asheville, NC, two hours from Knoxville, TN, and three hours from Atlanta and Charlotte.
