No report is required with respect to your spouse if he or she is living separate and apart from you with the intention of terminating the marriage or permanent separation. In addition, no report is required with respect to the receipt or payment of alimony, child support, or other property settlement arising from the dissolution of a marriage or the permanent separation from a spouse. There are other exceptions to the reporting of assets and income, transactions, and liabilities of a spouse or dependent child, which are discussed in the instructions applicable to those subjects.

C. Definitions of Terms

Category of Amount

Reportable financial interests are disclosed either by actual amount or by category of amount, depending on the interest, as specified by the form. You may, but you are not required to, indicate an actual amount where the form provides for a category of amount or value. You may not indicate a category of amount where an exact amount is required.

Dependent Child

The term "dependent child" means your son, daughter, stepson, or stepdaughter if such person is either: (1) unmarried, under age 21, and living in your household, or (2) a "dependent" of yours within the meaning of section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

Excepted Investment Fund

As "excepted investment fund" is a mutual fund, common trust fund of a bank, pension or deferred compensation plan, or any other investment fund, which is: (1) widely held (i.e. has more than 100 participants or investors); and (2) publicly traded (or available) or widely diversified; and (3) held under circumstances where you neither exercise control over nor have the ability to exercise control over the financial interests held by the fund. A fund is widely diversified when it holds no more than 5% of the value of its portfolio in the securities of any one issuer (other than the U.S. Government) and no more than 20% in any particular economic or geographic sector.

Exemption Test

The reporting individual is not required to report assets, transactions, and/or liabilities which the reporting individual certifies: (1) represents the spouse's or dependent child's sole financial interest or responsibility and which the reporting individual has no knowledge of; (2) which are not in any way, past or present, derived from the income, assets, or activities of the reporting individual, and (3) which the reporting individual neither derives, nor expects to derive, any financial or economic benefit.

Note: It is EXTREMELY difficult for an asset to meet all three parts of this test, especially (3). For instance, if you file a joint tax return with your spouse, you derive a financial or economic benefit from the items involved and you are charged with knowledge of those items.

PART I: PAYMENTS TO CHARITABLE ORGANIZATION IN LIEU OF HONORARIA

General Instructions

Report payments made directly to a charitable organization on account of a speech, appearance, or article by you. You must report the date the payment was made (or, if unascertainable, the late of the speech, article, or appearance), the name and address of the organization making the payment, the activity generating the payment, and the exact amount of the payment.

Although you may transmit a check made out by the sponsor to the charitable organization, you may not accept payments made to you which you then donate to charity. Accepting payment for a speech, article, or appearance may be an honoraria which may not be accepted by you even if you subsequently donate the amount to charity. If you have questions about the honoraria ban, please contact the Committee.

> On a separate confidential report, you are also required to identify the charitable organization to which the payment was made. A separate, confidential report which names the charitable organizations receiving such payments must be filed directly with the Select Committee on Ethics.

PART II: EARNED AND

General Instructions

For yourself, report the name and address of the source, type, and the actual amount of non-investment and earned income exceeding $200, from any one source in the appropriate columns on the form. For your spouse, report the name and address of the source and type, but not the amount, of earned income exceeding $1,000. If you wish, you may indicate that the amount of salary is "over $1,000", but the last column may be left blank. No report of earned income of your dependent children is required.

Individuals not covered by the Honoraria Ban: For you and/or your spouse, report the name and address of the source of honoraria income received which aggregates $200 or more by exact amount. Give the date and describe the activity (speech, appearance, or article) generating such honoraria payment. For payments which are received by an individual through a speaker's bureau, list the actual payer as the source. Do not include payments in lieu of honoraria reported on Part

Include all income from non-investment sources including fees, commissions, salaries income from personal services, retirement income, pension payments, royalty payments, > or similar non-investment income. For example, if you earned $450 teaching at a law school, your entry should read . . . "John Jones Law School, Rockville, MD; Salary $450". If you earned $75 for teaching in one law school and $250 from teaching at another school, report only the $250 amount. If you have a property interest or asset (including a retirement plan) related to the item of income, list that item on Part IIIA or B as appropriate.

If you or your spouse is self-employed in a business or profession, for example as a practicing attorney who earned $50,000 during the year, to report that income you would show: For you: "self-employed practicing attorney"; Bethesda, MD; salary; and "$50,000" in the appropriate columns. For your spouse: "self-employed practice psychologist-spouse"; Bethesda, MD; salary; and "over $1,000" or your spouse is not self-employed, then the name of the employer would be listed in the first column. Note: If this is your First Report, you are also required to complete Part X.

Exclude income from employment by the United States Government including military pay from Federal Reserve Programs, social security income, and retirement income from the United States government.

Examples:

The first example ori the form represents the proper method of reporting the source of $15,000 of earned income (salary) from computer programming services the reporting individual had earned from a second job while an employee of the Senate. Once you have given the complete name of the trust, you must also identify the underlying assets of that trust. However, you need not give the underlying assets of a trust that is a qualified blind trust or an excepted trust (unless they are known to you).

A qualified blind trust is one that has been certified by the Senate Select Committee on Ethics, in accordance with Senate Rule 34.

An excepted trust is one which:

A. was not created by you, your spouse, or your dependent child; and B. has holdings or sources of income of which you, your spouse, and any dependent child have no knowledge.

Although you may know the total value of the trust, contributions by you, your spouse or your dependent child to the corpus of the trust, or payment of the trust taxes by you, your spouse or your dependent child will remove a trust from this "excepted" status.

In the case of these two special types of trusts, you must show in BLOCK A the complete name of that trust, and in BLOCK B show the category of value of the trust (unless the qualified blind trust was executed prior to July 24, 1995, AND precludes you from receiving information of the trust's fair market value). Type and Amount of Unearned Income: BLOCK C

In BLOCK C, indicate the type and value of any unearned or investment income over $200 from any one source received by or accrued to the benefit of you, your spouse or dependent child during the reporting period. For purposes of determining whether you meet the over $200 threshold from any one source, you must aggregate all types of investment income from that same source. Report these items on the same line as any related interest in property, if any. Note that some property interests or other assets will not have a related item of income. In such a case, check "None (or less than $201)" in BLOCK C under category of

For your spouse or dependent child investment income is only required to be reported if the source of that income must be reported in BLOCK A as an interest or asset described above.

PART V: GIFTS

The Act requires you to disclose the receipt of gifts by you, your spouse, or your dependent child from any one source other than the U.S. Government. This reporting requirement applies to gifts received by your spouse or dependent child to the extent the gift was not given to him or her totally independent of the relationship to you. A "gift" means any payment, forbearance, advance, rendering or deposit of money, or anything of value, unless consideration of equal or greater value is received by the donor (see Interpretative Rulings 327 and 414).

To report a gift, give the name and address of the source; briefly describe the item(s), and show the value by exact amount. If an item is given jointly to you (or your spouse or dependent child) and any other person, and is not readily divisible, the gift must be reported as if the entire gift was given to you (or your spouse or dependent child) individually (see Interpretative Ruling 201).

Exclusions: In determining which tangible gifts must be reported or aggregated; exclude these items:

1. Gifts having a value of $122 or less;

 Gifts received from "relatives" (see Definitions of Terms: Relative);

3. Bequests and other forms of inheritance;

Food and beverages not consumed in connection with a gift of overnight lodging;

5. Gifts given to a spouse or dependent child totally independent of the relationship to you;

6. Gift items in the nature of communications to your office, such as subscriptions to newspapers and periodicals;

7. Gifts received during the non-Federal Government employment periods;

8. Campaign contributions

9. Gifts for which you received a publicly available waiver of this reporting requirement from the Senate Select Committee on Ethics;

10. Food, lodging, transportation, and entertainment or reimbursement provided by a foreign government within a foreign country or by the U.S. Government, the D.C. Government, state, or local governments; and

11. Gifts of personal hospitality on the donor's personal or family premises (personal hospitality must be for a non-business purpose; may only be from a person rather than a business or other entity; and does not include transportation; see Interpretative Ruling 139).

Note: Disclosure of gifts does not authorize their acceptance in violation of Senate Rule 35 or any other applicable law. Some gifts may qualify under an exception to the Gifts Rule and thus be acceptable; such gifts are still required to be reported here under the
