

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE
INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY POLICY MEMORANDUM
NUMBER 2005-800-1

Subject: Authorities, Roles, and Responsibilities of the Associate Director of National Intelligence for Science and Technology

Authority: The National Security Act of 1947, as amended; the Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004; Executive Order 12333, as amended; and other applicable provisions of law.

1. The Associate Director of National Intelligence for Science and Technology (ADNI/S&T) as the Director of S&T for the Director of National Intelligence (DNI) shall implement the responsibilities of the DNI relative to S&T.
2. The ADNI/S&T shall, on behalf of the DNI, oversee S&T elements of the Intelligence Community (IC) to ensure a coordinated, responsive S&T effort across the National Intelligence Program (NIP).
3. Responsibilities of the ADNI/S&T include:
 - a. Developing procedures and processes for IC S&T oversight and management.
 - b. Assisting in formulating a strategy for scientific advances in the field of intelligence and fostering the development of new technologies to address hard intelligence problems and issues.
 - c. Advising and assisting in the formulation of planning, programmatic, and performance guidance; the prioritization of funding; and oversight of execution of NIP S&T resources.
 - d. Working with the Deputy DNI for Management and IC departments and agencies to facilitate the recruitment, retention, and continuing education and training of highly qualified S&T personnel for the IC.
 - e. Providing leadership, guidance, and oversight to the Intelligence Technology Innovation Center and the Disruptive Technology Office for the development and execution of advanced research and development programs of high IC impact.
 - f. Conducting annual program reviews of NIP S&T activities to assess progress against IC S&T planning objectives and critical intelligence problems.

g. Assuming the duties of the IC Chief Technology Officer, as defined in Director of Central Intelligence Directive 1/11, Management Oversight of National Foreign Intelligence Program Advanced Research and Development, 4 June 2004, consistent with the Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004 and this policy memorandum.

h. Representing the DNI and the interests of the IC in national-level, S&T-related research planning activities, to include supporting the President's Science Advisor.

i. Chairing the DNI S&T Committee to coordinate S&T activities related to national intelligence. This committee shall be composed of the principal science officers of the NIP. The initial membership of the committee consists of the following principal science officers:

- (1) Director for S&T, Central Intelligence Agency
- (2) Deputy Director for Measurement and Signature Intelligence and Technical Collection, Defense Intelligence Agency
- (3) Director, InnoVision, National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency
- (4) Director, Advanced Systems and Technology, National Reconnaissance Office
- (5) Associate Director for Research, National Security Agency
- (6) S&T representatives designated by the heads of intelligence at the following departments:
 - (a) Department of Justice/Federal Bureau of Investigation
 - (b) Department of Energy
 - (c) Department of State
 - (d) Department of the Treasury
 - (e) Department of Homeland Security
 - (f) Department of Defense
- (7) Other members as approved by the ADNI/S&T.

g. Providing oversight of the Intelligence Science Board (ISB) to ensure focus on the most difficult intelligence challenges. The ISB comprises experts from private industry and academia representing a broad spectrum of expertise and experiences across many intelligence disciplines. The ISB provides linkages among the intelligence, business, and scientific communities, performs special studies, and assists the Office of the DNI in addressing and recommending solutions to priority national intelligence problems.

h. Coordinating with other NIP components, other departments and agencies, and other national S&T agencies and organizations, as appropriate.

4. This policy memorandum is effective immediately, and the relevant contents will be incorporated into a future IC directive.
