Disability and Rehabilitation Research Projects develop methods, procedures, and rehabilitation technology that maximize the full inclusion and integration into society, employment, independent living, family support, and economic and social self-sufficiency of individuals with disabilities, especially individuals with the most severe disabilities.

This notice supports the National Education Goal that calls for all Americans to possess the knowledge and skills necessary to compete in a global economy and exercise the rights and responsibilities of citizenship.

Note: The estimates of funding level and awards in this notice do not bind the Department of Education to a specific level of funding or number of grants.

Priority: This notice invites applications for TBI Model Systems Projects. On May 9, 1997 a notice of final priority was published in the Federal Register establishing the required activities for TBI Model System Projects in fiscal year 1997 and fiscal year 1998.

The conference agreement accompanying NIDRR's FY 1998 appropriation included $5 million to permit NIDRR to establish additional TBI Model System projects and a national data center.

This notice invites applications for additional TBI Model Systems Projects in FY 1998. In addition to establishing the TBI Model Systems Project in FY 1998, NIDRR plans to invite applications for collaborative research involving the TBI Model Systems.

On February 6, 1997 NIDRR published in the Federal Register regulations consolidating a number of regulations governing NIDRR's existing programs, including, but not limited to, Parts 350 (General Provisions) and 351 (Research and Demonstration Projects). These new regulations took effect on October 1, 1997 and apply to this competition. The new regulations include a new menu of selection criteria (34 CFR 350.54) for use in evaluating all applications. NIDRR has drawn from this menu of selection criteria to establish the specific selection criteria (contained in the application package) that will be used to evaluate applications for the TBI Model Systems Projects priority referenced in this notice inviting applications. The final priorities established for the TBI Model Systems R&D Projects in FY 1997 will be used for equivalent projects in FY 1998.
