<PRE>Dear Ted, in these times we need all the laughs we can get. I have been to the chalet every day trying to get the snow removed and messing with the snow melting device and it finally had an effect today, I was much concerned that it was not working after turning it on twice and getting no results but it apparently was working and taking longer than I expected. One of Bill's workers left his work trailer in the front yard and we had to move it to remove the snow and I went by this morning and damned if someone did not put it right in front of the garage. I'll have it out of there by Monday. You do mean Sunday the 22nd don't you. If you are coming home tomorrow I need to get it out now.
