<PRE>Dear Ted, most of the work is to repair the goofy paint job on the deck and the bad design on the roof, one more pop on the roof and you would have a separate garage and all of that was paid for initially, the electrician is correcting some earlier mistakes and the only new work is the porch. If you can pull off a coal contract it will be a boon for the railroad and the healy area. Without Usibelli that area will lose it's population quickly. I'll see to it that you get a bill and I'm sure the contractor will not overcharge you. Justin had a good visit with Lily and Netta was there. my best, bob
