General Comment:I support the proposed fee disclosure rules. Before the Dept of Labor announced the proposed rule change, and then the media started commenting on it, I had no idea that all these hidden fees existed. I assumed that because some fees for my 401k were disclosed, that therefore all fees were disclosed. I bet most of my co-workers also have no idea that all these different fees exist. I want to know where my money is going, and how much of it is going!

Thanks,
