World War II Honor Roll at General Ike's Library in Abilene

On this Veterans Day weekend, the Eisenhower Foundation in Abilene, KS announced a new project to honor veterans of America's largest war.

World War II veterans are now being memorialized for future generations in a new honor roll displayed on a state-of-the-art electronic kiosk in the Dwight D. Eisenhower Museum in Abilene. Using a touch screen, visitors to the museum can call up a World War II era photograph and short narrative of each veteran entered in the honor roll. These permanent records will be viewed by the tens of thousands of visitors who pass through the museum each year. In addition, each veteran's photographic entry and information is being posted on the Eisenhower Foundation website, insuring their unique story is available world-wide.

Mary Jean Eisenhower, the general's granddaughter said: "My grandfather's proudest accomplishment was leading the men and women of our armed services during World War II in what he described as the Great Crusade. He would be pleased to see individual veterans honored in this manner by the Eisenhower Foundation's World War II Honor Roll."

The non-profit Eisenhower Foundation is requesting a tax deductible donation for each entry in the World War II Honor Roll to support this important project. For information on honoring a veteran, contact the Eisenhower Foundation at 877- RING IKE or visit the Foundation's website <dwightdeisenhower.com>.
