

negligible impact on the species or stock(s), and will not have an unmitigable adverse impact on the availability of the species or stock(s) for subsistence uses. In addition, NMFS must prescribe regulations that include permissible methods of taking and other means effecting the least practicable adverse impact on the species and its habitat, and on the availability of the species for subsistence uses, paying particular attention to rookeries, mating grounds, and areas of similar significance. The regulations must include requirements pertaining to the monitoring and reporting of such taking.

Regulations governing the taking of marine mammals incidental to the power plant operations were published on May 25, 1999 (64 FR 28114), and remain in effect until June 30, 2004. For detailed information on this action, please refer to that document. These regulations include mitigation, monitoring, and reporting requirements for the incidental taking of marine mammals by power plant operations.

Summary of Request

On October 3, 2003, NMFS received an application from FPL Energy Seabrook, LLC for an LOA under the regulations issued on May 25, 1999 (64 FR 28114), and effective on July 1, 1999. This application requested authorization to take, by harassment, under section 101(a)(5)(A) of the MMPA, small numbers of marine mammals incidental to routine operations of the Seabrook Station nuclear power plant in Seabrook, New Hampshire for a period not to exceed one year.

Authorization

Accordingly, NMFS issued an LOA to FPL Energy Seabrook, LLC on October 31, 2003, authorizing the taking of small numbers of marine mammals incidental to routine operations of the Seabrook Station nuclear power plant. Issuance of this LOA is based on findings, described in the preamble to the final rule (64 FR 28114, May 25, 1999), that the total takings by this activity will result in small numbers of marine mammals being taken, have no more than a negligible impact on marine mammal stocks, and will not have an unmitigable adverse impact on the availability of the affected marine mammal stocks for subsistence uses.

This LOA remains valid until June 30, 2004, provided that FPL Energy Seabrook, LLC is in conformance with the conditions of the regulations and the LOA, and the mitigation, monitoring, and reporting requirements described in 50 CFR 216.130–216.137 (64 FR 28114, May 25, 1999) and in the LOA is undertaken.

Dated: October 31, 2003.

Laurie K. Allen,

Acting Office Director, Office of Protected Resources, National Marine Fisheries Service.
