To whom it may concern,

I have only a general comment to share.

We are developing the community and plans for rolling out DNSSEC in our campus environment (which includes 26 locations across the Commonwealth). That NTIA is issuing this RFC and mobilizing an effort lends credibility to our own efforts - and that is most welcome. We believe that we need to act as swiftly as we can manage with this complex transition and we seek all of the assistance we can find.

I'm sure others will share more detailed comments about different aspects of the call, but I wanted to make sure you knew that the mere existence of the effort and the process has value.

Regards,

-kevin
