APPENDIX D

AGENCY RESPONSE TO DRAFT REPORT

SEP 9 1 2006         MEMORANDUM FOR ELLIOT P. LEWS         Assistant Inspective for Audit         Main and Management         Memorand Market Science of Contracting Officers were there in Success performed and Management         Memorand Market Science of Contracting Officers were checking Required sciences and sciences before Making GSA Schedule Procurements; Draft Audit Report on Findings and Recommendations: There is No Evidence Contracting Officers are checking Required sciences before Making GSA Schedule Procurements; Draft Audit Report on Findings and Recommendations: There is No Evidence Contracting Officers are there in Sources before Making GSA Schedule Procurements; Draft Audit Report on Findings and Recommendations: There is No Evidence Contracting Officers were, for the most part, procuring supplies and services through the General Services Administration (GSA) Schedules Program in accordance with prescribed rules and regulations. The report confirms that DOL Contracting Officers were, for the most part, procuring supplies and services through GSA services in conformance with applicable requirements, with the correcting Officers were checking required sources before procuring supplies and services through GSA schedules Program in accordance with prescribed rules and regulations. The And MSHA. As a result, there was an absence of clear documentation in contract fibre for Market Mark	U.S. Department of Labor		Office of the Assistant Secretary for Administration and Management Washington, D.C. 20210
<ul> <li>Assistant Inspective incredent for Audit Assistant Inspective incredent for Audit Assistant Secretary for Administration and Management</li> <li>SUBJECT: EDWARD C. HUCLED For Administration and Management</li> <li>SUBJECT: Response to Draft Audit Report on Findings and Recommendations: There is No Evidence Contracting Officers are Checking Required Sources Before Making GSA Schedule Procurements; Draft Audit Report No.: 05-06-004-07-001</li> <li>This responds to the subject draft report resulting from an audit by the Office of Inspector General, based on fieldwork begun May 6, 2005 and concluded January 17, 2006, to determine if the Department of Labor (DOL) procured supplies and services through the General Services Administration (GSA) Schedules Program in accordance with prescribed rules and regulations. The report confirms that DOL Contracting Officers were, for the most part, procuring supplies and services through GSA services in conformance with applicable requirements, with the exception of the one finding below.</li> <li>The finding arises from an ambiguity in Form DL 1-2216, and the use of an alternate form by ETA and MSHA. As a result, there was an absence of clear documentation in contract files that DOL Contracting Officers were checking required sources before procuring supplies and services using GSA Schedules—specifically existing government inventories of excess personal property, and nonprofit agencies on the Procurement list provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who are Blind or Severely Disabled.</li> <li>Draft Recommendations: The OIG recommends that the Chief Acquisition Officer—</li> <li>Direct all DOL Contracting Officers to comply with the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and the DOL Acquisition Regulation (DICAR) by: (a) first checking existing government inventories, and (b) then checking the Procurement List provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled.</li> <li>Anned Form DL 1-2216 to</li></ul>	S	EP 0 1 2006
Deputy Assistant Secretary for Administration and Management         SUBJECT:       Response to Draft Audit Report on Findings and Recommendations: There is No Evidence Contracting Officers are Checking Required Sources Before Making GSA Schedule Procurements; Draft Audit Report No.: 05-06-004-07-001         This responds to the subject draft report resulting from an audit by the Office of Inspector General, based on fieldwork begun May 6, 2005 and concluded January 17, 2006, to determine if the Department of Labor (DOL) procured supplies and services through the General Services Administration (GSA) Schedules Program in accordance with prescribed rules and regulations. The report confirms that DOL Contracting Officers were, for the most part, procuring supplies and services through GSA services in conformance with applicable requirements, with the exception of the one finding below.         The finding arises from an ambiguity in Form DL 1-2216, and the use of an alternate form by ETA and MSHA. As a result, there was an absence of clear documentation in contract files that DOL Contracting Officers were checking required sources before procuring supplies and services using GSA Schedules—specifically existing government inventories of excess personal property, and nonprofit agencies on the Procurement list provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who are Blind or Severely Disabled.         Draft Recommendations:       The OIG recommends that the Chief Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and the DOL Acquisition Regulation (DOLAR) by: (a) first checking existing government inventories, and (b) then checking the Procurement List provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled.         Draft Recommendations:       The OIG recommends that the Chief Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and the DOL Acq	Ν	MEMORANDUM FOR
<ul> <li>There is No Evidence Contracting Officers are Checking Required Sources Before Making GSA Schedule Procurements; Draft Audit Report No.: 05-06-004-07-001</li> <li>This responds to the subject draft report resulting from an audit by the Office of Inspector General, based on fieldwork begun May 6, 2005 and concluded January 17, 2006, to determine if the Department of Labor (DOL) procured supplies and services through the General Services Administration (GSA) Schedules Program in accordance with prescribed rules and regulations. The report confirms that DOL Contracting Officers were, for the most part, procuring supplies and services through GSA services in conformance with applicable requirements, with the exception of the one finding below.</li> <li>The finding arises from an ambiguity in Form DL 1-2216, and the use of an alternate form by ETA and MSHA. As a result, there was an absence of clear documentation in contract files that DOL Contracting Officers were checking required sources before procuring supplies and services using GSA Schedules—specifically existing government inventories of excess personal property, and nonprofit agencies on the Procurement list provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who are Blind or Severely Disabled.</li> <li>Draft Finding: There is No Evidence Contracting Officers are Checking Required Sources Before Making GSA Schedule Procurements</li> <li>Draft Recommendations: The OIG recommends that the Chief Acquisition Officer—         <ol> <li>Direct all DOL Contracting Officers to comply with the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and the DOL Acquisition Regulation (POLAR) by: (a) first checking existing government inventories, and (b) then checking the Procurement List provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled.</li> </ol> </li> <li>Amend Form DL 1-2216 to allow Contracting Officers to indicate whether checking required sources before procuring supplies and services usi</li></ul>	F		Deputy Assistant Secretary
<ul> <li>General, based on fieldwork begun May 6, 2005 and concluded January 17, 2006, to determine if the Department of Labor (DOL) procured supplies and services through the General Services Administration (GSA) Schedules Program in accordance with prescribed rules and regulations. The report confirms that DOL Contracting Officers were, for the most part, procuring supplies and services through GSA services in conformance with applicable requirements, with the exception of the one finding below.</li> <li>The finding arises from an ambiguity in Form DL 1-2216, and the use of an alternate form by ETA and MSHA. As a result, there was an absence of clear documentation in contract files that DOL Contracting Officers were checking required sources before procuring supplies and services using GSA Schedules—specifically existing government inventories of excess personal property, and nonprofit agencies on the Procurement list provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who are Blind or Severely Disabled.</li> <li>Draft Finding: There is No Evidence Contracting Officers are Checking Required Sources Before Making GSA Schedule Procurements</li> <li>Draft Recommendations: The OIG recommends that the Chief Acquisition Officer—</li> <li>1. Direct all DOL Contracting Officers to comply with the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and the DOL Acquisition Regulation (DOLAR) by: (a) first checking existing government inventories, and (b) then checking the Procurement List provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled.</li> <li>2. Amend Form DL 1-2216 to allow Contracting Officers to indicate whether checking required sources before procuring supplicable, whether they checked required sources before procuring supplicable, and the DOL contracting Officers to an other the reason why checking required sources is not</li> </ul>	S		There is No Evidence Contracting Officers are Checking Required Sources Before Making GSA Schedule Procurements; Draft Audit
<ul> <li>ETA and MSHA. As a result, there was an absence of clear documentation in contract files that DOL Contracting Officers were checking required sources before procuring supplies and services using GSA Schedules—specifically existing government inventories of excess personal property, and nonprofit agencies on the Procurement list provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who are Blind or Severely Disabled.</li> <li>Draft Finding: There is No Evidence Contracting Officers are Checking Required Sources Before Making GSA Schedule Procurements</li> <li>Draft Recommendations: The OIG recommends that the Chief Acquisition Officer—</li> <li>1. Direct all DOL Contracting Officers to comply with the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and the DOL Acquisition Regulation (DOLAR) by: (a) first checking existing government inventories, and (b) then checking the Procurement List provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled.</li> <li>2. Amend Form DL 1-2216 to allow Contracting Officers to indicate whether checking required sources is applicable to the procurement type and, if applicable, whether they checked required sources before procuring supplies and services using GSA Schedules. The form should also provide space to annotate the reason why checking required sources is not</li> </ul>	C ti A T a	General, based on fieldw the Department of Labor Administration (GSA) So The report confirms that and services through GS.	ork begun May 6, 2005 and concluded January 17, 2006, to determine if (DOL) procured supplies and services through the General Services chedules Program in accordance with prescribed rules and regulations. DOL Contracting Officers were, for the most part, procuring supplies A services in conformance with applicable requirements, with the
<ul> <li>Before Making GSA Schedule Procurements</li> <li>Draft Recommendations: The OIG recommends that the Chief Acquisition Officer—</li> <li>1. Direct all DOL Contracting Officers to comply with the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and the DOL Acquisition Regulation (DOLAR) by: (a) first checking existing government inventories, and (b) then checking the Procurement List provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled.</li> <li>2. Amend Form DL 1-2216 to allow Contracting Officers to indicate whether checking required sources is applicable to the procurement type and, if applicable, whether they checked required sources before procuring supplies and services using GSA Schedules. The form should also provide space to annotate the reason why checking required sources is not</li> </ul>	E E se	ETA and MSHA. As a r DOL Contracting Office ervices using GSA Sche property, and nonprofit a	result, there was an absence of clear documentation in contract files that rs were checking required sources before procuring supplies and edules—specifically existing government inventories of excess personal agencies on the Procurement list provided by the Committee for
<ol> <li>Direct all DOL Contracting Officers to comply with the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and the DOL Acquisition Regulation (DOLAR) by: (a) first checking existing government inventories, and (b) then checking the Procurement List provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled.</li> <li>Amend Form DL 1-2216 to allow Contracting Officers to indicate whether checking required sources is applicable to the procurement type and, if applicable, whether they checked required sources before procuring supplies and services using GSA Schedules. The form should also provide space to annotate the reason why checking required sources is not</li> </ol>
<ul> <li>(FAR) and the DOL Acquisition Regulation (DOLAR) by: (a) first checking existing government inventories, and (b) then checking the Procurement List provided by the Committee for Purchase from People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled.</li> <li>2. Amend Form DL 1-2216 to allow Contracting Officers to indicate whether checking required sources is applicable to the procurement type and, if applicable, whether they checked required sources before procuring supplies and services using GSA Schedules. The form should also provide space to annotate the reason why checking required sources is not</li> </ul>	Γ	Draft Recommendation	s: The OIG recommends that the Chief Acquisition Officer—
<ol> <li>Amend Form DL 1-2216 to allow Contracting Officers to indicate whether checking required sources is applicable to the procurement type and, if applicable, whether they checked required sources before procuring supplies and services using GSA Schedules. The form should also provide space to annotate the reason why checking required sources is not</li> </ol>	1	(FAR) and the DOL government inventor	Acquisition Regulation (DOLAR) by: (a) first checking existing ies, and (b) then checking the Procurement List provided by the
	2	<ol> <li>Amend Form DL 1-2 sources is applicable required sources before should also provide statements</li> </ol>	2216 to allow Contracting Officers to indicate whether checking required to the procurement type and, if applicable, whether they checked ore procuring supplies and services using GSA Schedules. The form

