gsa meets all your emergency vehicle needs

From everyday law enforcement to disasters and national emergencies, GSA Automotive has a variety of vehicles and related products to assist customer agencies in accomplishing their missions.

For law enforcement, GSA Automotive provides police pursuit vehicles OEM-certified directly from the manufacturer. These law enforcement support vehicles can be ordered directly from GSA Automotive through our online ordering system, AutoChoice, www.autochoice.gsa.gov. The ordering cycle for the police pursuit vehicles from the manufacturers begins in October and ends in February.

For rescue and emergency needs, GSA Automotive offers five types of ambulances. Options include a cot for the primary patient, and seating capacity for one to three additional patients. The ambulance line items are:

- Line Item 210, Type I-AD - a conventional cab-chassis with modular body with additional capacity.

- Line Item 211, Type I - conventional cab-chassis with modular body.
- Line Item 212, Type II - van with integral cab-body.
- Line Item 213, Type III - cutaway cab-chassis with integrated modular body.
- Line Item 215, Type III-AD - cutaway cab-chassis with integrated modular body with additional capacity.

Ambulances can also be ordered through AutoChoice.

For fire emergencies, GSA's Vehicular Multiple Award Schedule (VMAS) 23V has contracts for fire fighting vehicles and accessories, offered under Special Item Numbers (SINs):

- SIN 618 01 - Fire Fighting Vehicles and Accessories include, but are not limited to: aerial/ladder and/or platform, aircraft rescue and fire fighting, crash trucks, brush/wildlands, command centers, pumpers, tankers and/or pumper/tankers, rescues/hazmats, fire fighting trailers.
- SIN 618 03 - Custom Fire Fighting Chassis and Fire Fighting Vehicle Glider Kits.
- SIN 618 04 - Wild Land Fire Fighting Vehicle bodies to be mounted on Government provided chassis.

For mobile command centers, Schedule 23V, SIN 618-01, has a special category for customized vehicles including tactical vans, sub-stations, surveillance vans, crime labs, medical labs, and bomb/arson units. Mobile command centers serve as hubs for communication during emergency situations such as bomb threats, demonstrations, fires, or natural disasters. GSA Automotive's Engineering Division can assist with the design of specialized vehicles and address technical questions. Contact us early in planning for the acquisition of customized vehicles.

Visit GSA's Schedules E-Library, www.gsaelibrary.gsa.gov, for information on Schedule 23V vendors, products and services. # FIGHT BACK! AGAINST CORROSION

MILITARY VEHICLES SHIPPED OCEAN FREIGHT RECOMMENDED TO BE TREATED WITH CARWELL INHIBITOR

PREFERRED AND APPROVED BY THE US MILITARY

Periodic application of Carwell rust inhibitor will control corrosion and extend the use of your vehicle and equipment when applied on a regular maintenance program. It can be used on new, used, and even rusted areas or equipment parts. Carwell Rust Inhibitor can be applied to more areas than any other conventional rust protection like batteries, working mechanisms and moving parts. It is easy to apply, easy to clean-up and the vehicle or equipment can be returned to service immediately.

The Carwell product and product support have been used successfully for over ten years and currently are used by many commercial fleets including U.S. Postal Service, FedEx, and UPS. A Carwell maintenance application program can be incorporated at your operation. Any size fleet, any size facility, anywhere in the world including field bases.

CARWELL IS SAFE TO USE.

It reduces downtime, controls and prevents corrosion and provides lubrication on all moving parts.
