Notice to Our CSC Customers

GSA is committed to continuous improvement in our supply programs. As part of this process, we are pleased to announce the simplification of our order tracking system. We are replacing our system of ticket numbers with a single order number to identify and track your orders, whether placed by telephone, fax, or e-mail.

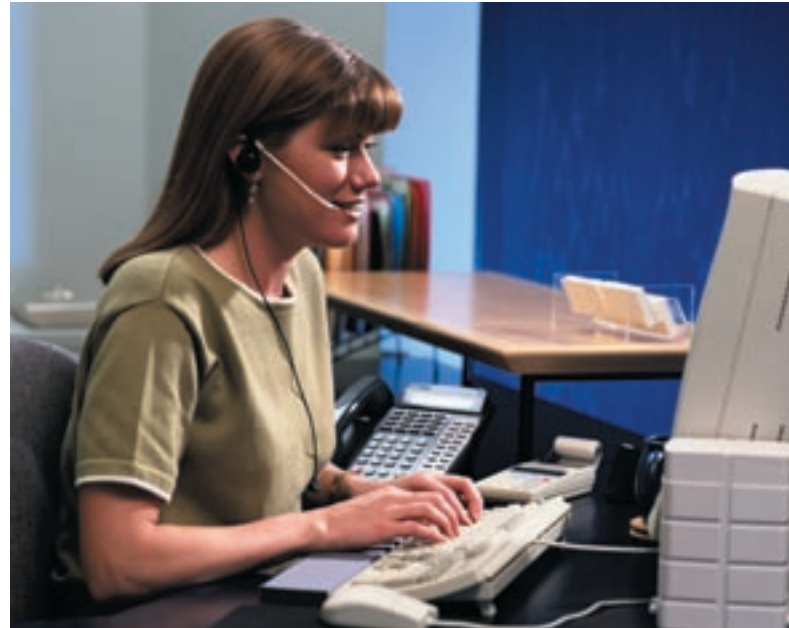

What is changing?

Effective immediately, GSA's Customer Supply Center will shift to a single, 8-digit number to identify each order. You will be provided this number during your phone conversation with the GSA call center, or you will see it on your confirmation of a fax order. The number also appears on the packing slip included in each shipment.

If there is any problem requiring a call to GSA's National Customer Service Center (1-800-488-3111), you can use this order number to help GSA identify the order in question.

How is that different?

GSA's practice was to assign an 8-digit ticket number for every order, or partial order, shipped by a GSA warehouse. If an order was divided between two or more GSA facilities, you would have received two or more ticket numbers to use in tracking those orders and reconciling payments and credits.

What does this change mean for you?

In all aspects of our supply program, we aim to provide simple solutions. Using a single number to track your order will simplify record keeping for you and facilitate the identification and correction of any shipping errors. GSA is committed to making this transition a smooth and productive one for you. If you have any questions, please call our National Customer Service Center at 1-800-488-3111.

Thank you for your business.
