

advising the Secretary in the development of a management plan for the site.

On January 14, 2005, the Secretary of the Interior approved a boundary recommendation for the memorial presented by the Flight 93 Advisory commission. The details of the boundary were published in the Federal Register (70 FR 13538) on March 21, 2005. The boundary includes 1,355 acres, which comprises the crash site, the debris field and areas where human remains were found, and lands necessary for viewing and accessing the national memorial. Approximately 907 additional acres comprise the perimeter viewshed, which would be protected through conservation or scenic easements acquired by partners, nonprofit organizations or other governmental agencies.

Four partner organizations (the Partners) participated in the planning of a permanent memorial for Flight 93: (1) The Flight 93 Advisory Commission, (2) the Families of Flight 93, a nonprofit organization, (3) the Flight 93 Memorial Task Force, and (4) the National Park Service, the Federal agency responsible for compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (Pub. L. 91-190, as amended). On September 11, 2004, the Partners opened a two-stage international design competition to solicit a broad range of concepts for the design of the new memorial. During Stage 1 of the competition, five top designs were selected by a jury of professionals, family members and local leaders after extensive public exhibit of the designs. A Stage 2 design jury selected the final design that best achieved the mission of the new memorial. The selected design was announced to the public on September 7, 2005, and is the basis of the preferred alternative in the Draft and Final GMP/EIS. After public announcement of the final design, the National Park Service received comments criticizing the design's principal landscape feature, a curved allée or pathway lined with red maple trees, comparing it to an Islamic crescent symbol. The design was refined and again presented to the public in November 2005. The design refinements were generally well-received by the public; however, a sector of the public continued to assert that the design contained Islamic symbolism. In response, the partners met with religious scholars, design professionals, and other family members and toured the site with the principal critic of the design. At the conclusion of these activities and consultations, it was determined that the perceptions of religious symbolism in the design had been adequately addressed by the architect and that the details of the design do not affect the Final GMP/EIS. The NPS, along with the other Partners, were satisfied that the design properly honors the passengers and crew and that the refinements showed the architects' sensitivity and responsiveness to public comments.

DATES: We must receive written comments on the proposed exchange by December 10, 2007.

ADDRESSES: Detailed information concerning this exchange is available from the Superintendent, Lake Clark National Park and Preserve, 240 W. 5th Avenue, Anchorage, Alaska 99501.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The following described federally-owned land has been determined to be suitable for disposal by exchange. The authority for this exchange is section 1302(h) of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA) of December 2, 1980, 16 U.S.C. 3192(h). The federal land which is proposed for disposal is within the boundary of the Lake Clark National Park and Preserve. It is located approximately 2 miles southwesterly of the mouth of Silver Salmon Creek and contains approximately 4.55 acres. The land has been surveyed for cultural resources and endangered and threatened species. These reports are available upon request from the Superintendent, Lake Clark National Park and Preserve at the address set forth above. Title to the above land will be conveyed in fee simple with covenants and restrictions that prohibit for-profit selling of services, industrial uses and commercial development. The covenants also limit development and occupancy of the parcel and require that future development be visually compatible with surrounding park and preserve lands. Conveyance of the land by the United States will be done by patent.

In exchange for the land identified above the United States of America will acquire U.S. Survey 8481, Alaska, a 79.98-acre parcel on the southern shore of Lake Clark at Sucker Bay, approximately 16.5 miles southwesterly of the village of Port Alsworth, and approximately 7.5 miles northwesterly of Nondalton in fee simple with no reservations. The value of the properties exchanged shall be determined by a current fair market value appraisal. If the appraised value of the Sucker Bay parcel is greater than the appraised value of the Silver Salmon Creek parcel, the parties will complete the exchange, subject to approval of title to the Sucker Bay parcel by the Department of the Interior, Regional Solicitor. An environmental assessment of the proposed action was completed in January 2007 and a Finding of No Significant Impact approved on March 26, 2007.

For a period of 45 calendar days from the date of this notice, interested parties may submit comments to the above address. Comments will be evaluated and this action may be modified or vacated accordingly. In the absence of any action to modify or vacate, this realty action will become the final determination of the Department of the Interior.

comment, you should be aware that your entire comment—including your personal identifying information—may be made publicly available at any time. While you can ask us in your comment to withhold your personal identifying information from public review, we cannot guarantee that we will be able to do so.
