Needs and Uses: On March 11, 2003, the Do-Not-Call Implementation Act (Do-Not-Call Act) was signed into law requiring the Commission to issue a final rule in its ongoing TCPA proceeding within 180 days of March 11, 2003, and to consult and coordinate with the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) to “maximize consistency” with the rule promulgated by the FTC in 2002. On March 25, 2003, the FCC released a Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (FNPRM) seeking comment on the Commission’s requirements under the Do-Not-Call Act. On July 3, 2003, the Commission released a Report and Order (2003 TCPA Order), the Commission revised the current TCPA rules and adopted new rules to provide consumers with several options for avoiding unwanted telephone solicitations. The Commission established a national do-not-call registry for consumers who wish to avoid most unwanted telemarketing calls. This national do-not-call registry will supplement the current company-specific do-not-call rules for those consumers who wish to continue requesting that particular companies not call them. The FCC also adopted a new provision to permit consumers to provide permission to call to specific companies by an express written agreement. The TCPA rules exempt from the “do-not-call” requirements nonprofit organizations, companies with whom consumers have an established business relationship, and calls to persons with whom the telemarketer has a personal relationship. Any company, which is asked by a consumer, including an existing customer, not to call again must honor that request for five (5) years.

The Commission retains the current calling time restrictions of 8 a.m. until 9 p.m. On September 21, 2004, the Commission released an Order (2004 Safe Harbor Order), establishing a limited safe harbor in which persons will not be liable for placing autodialed and prerecorded message calls to numbers ported from a wireline service within the previous 15 days. The Commission also amended its existing national do-not-call registry safe harbor to require telemarketers to scrub their lists against the do-not-call database every 31 days.
